THE EASTON STAR.

TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1887.

T. K. ROBSON, Editor.

L. JEFF MILBOURNE & CO., Newspaper Advertising Agents, Baltimore, Md., are authorized to contract for Advertisements for THE STAR, at our best rates.

POSTMASTER FRANK BROWN is booming up strong for Governor. If the candidate is taken from Baltimore, it will either be Mr. Brown or Mayor Hodges. While Mr. Brown's residence is in Carroll county, he is so much in Baltimore that he may be counted as a city man. Both are good men and good democrats, and either would make an efficient Governor. Mr. Brown is making one of the best postmasters Baltimore city has ever had.

WE but express the wish of every Democrat in the counties, when we say to the Democrats of Baltimore city, it is the desire of the Democrats of the counties, that every reasonable cause of complaint in conducting the primary and city elections shall be removed. If irregularities have been committed, they should be stopped, and all just cause of complaint removed. On this score we hear of no cause of complaint from the counties. The Democratic party is strong enough in Maryland to carry the elections without resort to fraud, and it should be distinctly understood that frauds will not be tolerated in the city elections. Inscribe fair elections and an honest count on your banners, which is the old Democratic watch word, and the city democracy will be invincible. The Democrats of the counties are in sympathy with the "regulars" in the city, but they must not weaken our cause by giving our enemies a stick to break our heads with. We hope, therefore, the Baltimore city Democrats of all factions, will take the earliest opportunity to pronounce unequivocally in favor of honest elections. If the party cannot stand on this platform, it ought not to stand on any other. Let the work of reform begin now; educate the party up to the highest standard of purity; let it be understood that, in this matter the leaders mean business; and they will be sustained in every county in the State; and the party in the counties will be strengthened by such action on the part of the city democracy.

IN his Frederick speech Gov. Hamilton is reported to have said:

"Put Senator Gorman, Bradley Johnson, ex-Gov. Hamilton, Mr. Baughman, Mr. Basin, Mr. Higgins, and Mr. Morris Thomas out of the issue; lose sight of them, and let the party come together as Democrats."

Now, if Gov. Hamilton, Gen. Johnson and Messrs. Cowan & Co., will cease talking about Messrs. Gorman, Baughman, Basin, Higgins and Thomas, they will be "lost sight of" completely, and there will be nothing to prevent the party from "coming together as Democrats." But while they keep up the fight against their imaginery foes, it will be impossible for the gentlemen assailed to be lost sight of. They have their friends, and their friends will defend them from the assault of their enemies.

Now, we do not see how all of these gentlemen can be put aside. They are Democrats, and some of them are prominent speakers, and are frequently called on to address the people; and when so called upon, if they will persist in abusing one another, how are we to have peace. It is a bad state of affairs if the party cannot come together without making these offensive personal issues.

One thing can be done, however; the State Central Committee can take the practical management of the affairs of the party in Baltimore city into its own hands, and thus prevent cause of complaint in conducting the primary elections. If the State Committee would appoint the judges of elections in Baltimore, and make everything perfectly fair, leaving the longest pole to knock down the persimmons, when the decision was reached, every good Democrat would acquiesce; and this would be virtually losing sight of the gentleman named by Gov. Hamilton. We think it a perfectly fair proposition, and if adopted, we sincerely trust and believe that it bring peace and harmony to the party.

THE Gazette asks, "Can the Editor of the STAR name five honorable Democrats in this county today, three of whom will honestly say, the ballots at that election (the Woodall—Tarbutton contested election) were not fraudulently tampered with?"

We answer, we do not believe there are five Democrats in the county who believe any such nonsense. Every man who had anything to do with the ballots solemnly swore in court that the ballots were not tampered with, and we are bound to believe them, as every "honorable Democrat" does, in preference to the simple assertion of the Gazette for party purposes.

The thing has been gone over again and again in the newspapers, and the contest was settled by the court, and it is too late now to revive it.

As to the seating of Graham, in the contested election case from Caroline, by the last legislature, the House was the tribunal to determine the matter, and as the members acted under oath, we are bound to believe that they settled the case according to the evidence before them. It was simply a question as to whether certain tickets, which had been thrown out, should or should not have been counted. In such a question there was room for an honest difference of opinion, and it is wholly gratuitous to charge those who seated Graham with voting for him with fraudulent intent, especially as the seating him in no respect changed the political status of the House.

It is a cheap way of electioneering, to cry fraud when there was no fraud, but it is not likely that the Gazette will win any support by such peanut politics.

If, as the Gazette insinuates, the Governor appointed supervisors of elections in Baltimore, in order to carry the elections there by fraud, he certainly made a botch of it, for out of 180 precincts in the city it has not been claimed that there was any fraud practiced in more than half a dozen. If fraud had been contemplated, evidently it would have prevailed in all the 180 precincts. The fact that it did not clearly rebuts the presumption of intended fraud on the part of either the Governor or the supervisors. And in the case of fraud recently tried in the city, it is not clear to our mind that the Federal Republican supervisor did not commit it rather than the judges of election. As soon as the voting ceased and the counting of the tickets commenced, he demanded that a big "pudding ticket" should be taken out of the box, and socked his hand in the box, which he had no right to do, and pretended to draw it out, and we have no doubt whatever that he had the thing in his hand when he put his hand in the box, for all the evidence went to prove that it was too large a package to pass through the hole in the box through which the tickets were deposited. And it may be the judges of election are now suffering punishment for that Republican supervisor's rascality.

This is quite as legitimate a presumption as the Gazette's presumption, that tickets in our election case were tampered with, or that Graham was not entitled to the seat in the legislature from Caroline.

What our late nolle prosequi case has to do with fraudulent elections we can not see. The Governor had the undoubted constitutional right to exercise the power, and if on the papers before him, he judged it a case in which it was proper to exercise executive clemency, his doing so was clearly within the line of his prerogative. It was simply a case of judgment, and in that case the Governor may have erred, as it is human to err. But assuming that it was an error of judgment, which we do not concede, is that any reason that he should be for ever dogged by the Republican organs for having done his duty as he understood it? Are Republicans infallible? Have they committed no errors? Are all of the transactions of the Republican party in the Federal and State governments in the past incontestably right? Was it guilty of no wrong doing when it tauntingly boasted that it had thrown the constitution to the winds and legislated in contempt of the rights of citizens? Must its public robberies be considered holy? We could name a hundred transactions it has been charged with, calculated to bring the blush of shame to the face of every honest citizen. Look at it's robbery of the colored people through the Freedmen's Bank; at the devastation of the Southern States through the robberies of the carpet baggers; at the stealing of the presidency from Tilden and giving it to Hayes; at the stealing of the public domain, giving it to soulless railroad corporations; at the iniquities of the whole working population of the land for the benefit of manufacturing corporations, who paid for the robbery by making heavy contributions to the Republican electioneering fund. There is enough of the same kind of infamous rascality to make a volume of a thousand pages, yet these immaculate souls have the impudence to cry out, fraud! Some Democrats may have committed irregularities in their over zeal at elections, to prevent Republicans from renewing their rascalities in Maryland, but granting all as true that has been charged, which is not a fact by any means, and yet their record will not begin to compare in infamy with the record of the Republican party, for the reason that the improper acts of Democrats are condemned by the Democratic party, whereas, the greatest infamies committed by individual Republicans for party purty advancement, have been approved, and are now justified, by the Republican party. As evidence of this, witness the conferring of lucrative and honorable offices on all the rascals who aided and abetted in the stealing of the presidency for Hayes. And now Senator Sherman is prominently spoken of as the Republican candidate for President, when it is notorious that he went to New Orleans and directed in the work of robbing Tilden of the presidency, and returned to his seat in the Senate, and there declared that the New Orleans thieves, Cassanave, Anderson & Co., were as honorable men as were the members of the United States Senate! And these are the people who cry fraud. It gives us the horrors to think about such hypocrisy.

PRESIDENT CLEVELAND made a "ten strike" into the popular heart last week, by publishing his letter to Secretary Lamar respecting the Guilford Miller claim. The N. P. railroad land grant extended 40 miles on each side of the road. One Guilford Miller preempted a claim and made a farm 50 miles from the road. The railroad subsequently got the Commissioner of the Land Office to withdraw from settlement 20 miles additional along the line of the road. These indemnity lands the railroad expected to use when it wanted them. The railroad then seized Miller's farm. He appealed and the Commissioner of the Land Office sustained the appeal. The case then went before the Attorney General, and he sustained the railroad. Miller appealed to the President, and Cleveland decides that the railroad cannot, must not, and shall not touch the Miller farm. That the rights of settlers must be protected against the grasping power of the railroads; that if the railroad is entitled to indemnity lands, it must find and locate them elsewhere than on the farms of settlers. The President's decision is an unexpected bomb in the railroad camp, but he is right, and the settlers all along the lines of the land grant roads are rejoicing that at last a man has sprung up to defend them against the railroads.

THE railroad companies, if they did but know it, are making thousands of votes for Henry George and the United Labor party, by advancing freights and unsettling business, in retaliation for the enactment of the inter-state commerce law. A plank in the United Labor party platform demands that the Federal government shall take possession of and run the inter-state roads, and if these roads cannot be equitably controlled otherwise, public sentiment will ultimately unite with the United Labor party, and secure the possession and control of them by the government. The roads are doing the very thing to force this result, in order that the rights of the people shall be protected from flagrant imposition.

SENATOR VEST says Mr. Cleveland never said to him, as was reported, that he would not consent to be a candidate for reelection. Gov. Dorsheimer, editor of the New York Star, who is a warm advocate of the reelection of President Cleveland, makes a statement in regard to the matter, in which he says Mr. Cleveland sometime ago seriously contemplated announcing that he would not again be a candidate, but says the President was dissuaded from doing so. The inference from all this is that Mr Cleveland will consent to run again if nominated.

In General Debility, Emaciation,

Consumption, and Wasting in Children, SCOTT'S EMULSION of Pure Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a most valuable food and medicine. It creates an appetite for food, strengthens the nervous system, and builds up the body. Pleas read: "I tried Scott's emulsion on a young man whom Physicians at times had given up. Since he began using the Emulsion, his Cough has ceased, gained flesh and stength, and from all appearances his life will be prolonged many years. I have been in Hospital Service for the past twenty years, and never have used any preparation with greatsatisfaction."—JOHN SULLIVAN, Hospital Steward, Reform School, Morganza, Pa.

A New Englander was asked as to his opinion of the qualification of a certain public man to be President of the United States. He replied that the man was great in his particular local sphere, but that if spread out over this whole country he would be very thin.

THE Democratic Reformers held their long-announced meeting in Frederick on Thursday night. The Reformers propose holding meetings in all the counties in the state, and their professed object is to work within the party. If they do that, and in a calm and truthful way show Democrat's voters where abuses exist, and urge them to take an interest in politics and attend primaries and conventions, they will do the party a service. But to have any weight with the rank and file, they must so act as to dispel the suspicion that their object is to break down present leaders and substitute themselves; and to give their statements any good effect they must show less feeling and vindictiveness towards other Democrats. There can be no reason where passion has sway. Abuse is not argument, and is indicative of a sense of weakness.—[Democratic Advocate.

Not a Happy Family.

From the Baltimore Sun.

The local school of reform, while professing to teach a single faith and to be laboring for a common end, are filled with distrust of each other, and while they each and all generalize in much the same strain, when they talk of each other their tone is quite different. Civil-service reformers, political adventurers, disappointed politicians, Republican and Democratic, are all bent upon "reforming the Democratic party," while inwardly, and occasionally outwardly, hating one another most heartily.

SCHNAEBELES, the Frenchman who was enticed to cross the Lorraine frontier, to confer with a German official, and then arrested by order of the German authorities and cast into a German prison, and about whose arrest the French government made not a little fuss, has been released by order of Emperor William. This ends the present war between France and Germany.
