New Railroads—New Hotels,

and a big reduction in Ready-Made Clothing, Hats, &c., at Larrimore's "Brown Hall" is now the all-absorbing topic. We do not know what the fare will be to Baltimore via the New Rail-Road, nor what will be the price of board at the New Hotel, but we do know that $10.00 will buy a $15.00 suit, that $8.00 will buy a $13.00 suit, and $6.50 will buy a $9.00 suit. Other goods have also been reduced in proportion.

Ladies and Children's Shoes have been slaughtered. Call and see for yourselves.

Object: Trying to make room for Fall Goods.

PENINSULA NEWS.

Things Said and Done by our Neighbor Above and Below Us.

The estate of the late Richard Hinson, of Kent county, is valued at $280,000.

Out of a pen of twenty-eight hogs, T. A. Godwin, near Chestertown, has lost twenty by the hog cholera.

It is said that some portions of the shore line of Kent Island is being cut away at the rate of over twenty feet a year.

Another carload of corn, bound for Sussex, passed over the Delaware Railroad Tuesday. More evidence that the farmers of the lower part of the State have a tough winter before them.—Dover Index.

A Farmers' Alliance of Caroline county was organized at Denton last Tuesday. Following are the officers: President, John W. Kerr; vice president, Geo. W. Raughley; secretary, L. H. Gadd; treasurer, Geo. W. Collison.

Two slight wrecks occurred on the D. & C. road near Queen Anne station recently. In the first one the front trucks of a freight car attached to the morning mail train became unfastened, and the car swung off the track. William Walker, brakeman, who was in the car, was slightly injured by a barrel rolling against his leg. The other wreck occurred on Wednesday, near Cordova, an engine jumping the track.

It seems that the heartless dredger is not the only enemy of the oyster in the Chesapeake Bay and tributaries. A peculiar plant, called "Marine Cabbage," has been discovered on the oyster rocks of Chesapeake waters, which overshadows the oysters and destroys them. The same plant, or growth similar in shape, size and color, has previously been found growing on the planting grounds of Connecticut waters, and thousands of bushels of oysters have been destroyed.

The duck shooting season so far has been a failure. The fowl are scarce and the high tides prevent good shooting. So discouraged have some of the professional hunters become that they have tied up their boats and gone into other employment. Good judges say that the big floods of last May and June covered the flats with sand and debris and killed the growth of water celery, upon which the canvas-backs and redheads feed and from which they get their peculiar delicacy.

The depot at Stockley was robbed on October 21st of some railroad tickets. Suspicion rested upon Grant Johnson and William Herring, of Milford. The case was put in the hands of detective Hutchins, who arrested both of the above named at Milford, Tuesday. They had a hearing at Milford and the Justice of the Peace held each to bail, in the sum of $200, for their appearance at the April term of court at Georgetown. Herring gave bail and Johnson was committed to jail at Georgetown in default.—Dover Index.

The Dover Index has the following mention of the removal of Johnson from the position of postal clerk on the B. & D. B. Railroad: "The ebony-hued gentleman whom Senator Higgins had appointed postal clerk on the Baltimore & Delaware Bay Railroad, has been fired. He couldn't handle de mails fast 'nuff. Thomas E. Laubach, of Wyoming, is now filling the position." It is stated that Johnson's removal was the outgrowth, not of legal charges having no foundation in fact, but it is claimed was caused by failures of the service which were recognized at the postal department as breaches that warranted his removal.

More Books and better assortment at Minnick & Son's, than all the stores on the Eastern Shore combined.

Sheriff Charles E. Nicols took the several prisoners who had been sentenced at the November term, to the penitentiary and House of Correction of the State, last Friday night. There were six prisoners in all.

A party of young folks gave Miss Lulu, daughter of Capt. Edward Roberts, a very pleasant surprise party last Thursday night. Dancing was indulged in until refreshments were served. The young ladies and gentlemen, after partaking of the repast, gathered in the parlor and were indulging in pleasant conversation, heedless of the fleeting moments, when without warning the electric light became extinct and left the company in total darkness. This warning to the company of the lateness of the hour was heeded, and they bade a hasty good-night after a most brilliant evening which ended in darkness.

The Baltimore and Eastern Shore Railroad having been completed as far as St. Michaels, regular passenger and freight trains will be run over the road connecting Easton with St. Michaels. This brings in close and easy communication with each other the two largest towns in the county, and it is believed will be of mutual benefit to both. The road affords a better means of transportation in the winter and disagreeable weather which is prevalent at this season, and avoids the miserable county roads in the second district, where much complaint is made of their condition. The new railroad saves the hauling of freight with a team of horses, at a much less expense. It is expected that the road will be completed to the Bayshore by the end of this month. A force of hands are grading from the bay toward St. Michaels. Another gang is at work on the Choptank river bridge, and still another lot of hands are doing effective service between Salisbury and the Nanticoke river. Should this prove an open winter and the weather propritious, it is expected that the road will be completed by early spring.

OXFORD.

The entertainment given in the dining-room of the Riverview Hotel by the King's Daughters was in every way a success. Their efforts were highly appreciated, as was testified on each night by a crowded house. Each part was well performed, and Mrs. Nichols deserves much credit for her untiring efforts to make each evening's performance a success.

Rev. E. P. Roberts and wife returned from their bridal trip Friday eve. A reception was given them that evening by the members of the church.

Mr. Rigby Hopkins and Miss Nallie Kemp, of Island Creek Neck, were guests of the Misses Seth this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Mathews left Friday eve for Baltimore, where they will remain for several days.

Mrs. Maggie Leonard, of Cincinnati, O., spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Leonard. Her husband, Mr. Lewis A. Leonard, has been located there for some years.
MESH.

ST. MICHAELS.

Rev. A. R. Walker closed his pastorate with St. Michaels Parish last Sunday by his final service, and left for his new charge in North Carolina on Tuesday last. It is but due to say that Mr. Walker's leaving carried with it a general regret. The community, irrespective of denominational religious name, looked upon him as a valued citizen and friend.

The popular Riverside Band gave an entertainment at Harrison's Hall last Wednesday night. It consisted of elaborate music, a laughable farce and the always entertaining exhibition of Mrs. Jarley's wax works. The affair was well attended.

Thanksgiving day palmed out as usual—everybody thankful for an excuse for a holiday spent in general gunning, a few ill-attended religious services, big dinners with attendant dyspepsia, and a "Thank God, I am glad no more public holidays will come until Christmas," and Providence's day closes with a general resumption of business by lamplight. What the cost of advertising the President's and the Governors of the States' proclamations would contribute to relieving distress or reducing taxes, does not seem to come into our gushing population's thoughts.

An interesting memorial service of Gratitude Lodge of Mechanics was held by order of the Grand Lodge of Maryland, on Thursday night. It was held in Harrison's Hall, and was free to the public. This order, though not dating more than ten years of existence, is well organized, with a membership of about 100 good citizens.

A concert on Thursday night, by one of the numerous colored societies, resulted as usual in disorder, and the exchequer of the town becomes somewhat more plethoric, by fines and costs from about a half dozen of our sable citizens. Who can say that the colored population is of no use except to keep up the Republican bosses?

The domestication of the wild goose may ultimately become an addition to the variety of market fowl food. Dr. Robt. M. Dawson, a sportsman by innate disposition, since his location on Bay Side, has not only proved himself a good shot at the public game, but by intelligent propagation of the wild goose, with an intermingling of the native blood, places on the market for Thanksgiving dinners a mongrel, that all who have tasted it pronounce unsurpassed. Why cannot this be extended to other varieties of wild game?

Railroad proceedings become monotonous outside of the court room. The citizens of St. Michaels, however, rejoice that the whistle of the locomotive is now in walking distance of an easy and cheap transit to our county seat. (Written Thursday). Later developements of the adjournment of November term, with generally satisfied results to both sides of Railroad litigation, is said to open express business from St. Michaels district as early as this week's issue of THE STAR.

The cards for the marriage of Mr. John Alden Goldsborough to Miss Mary Octavia Henry, of Washington, at Ascension church, in that city, next Thursday, are issued. Mr. Goldsborough, who spent his early youth in Easton, is the son of the late Mr. Jno. Goldsborough, once register of wills for Talbot county. His fiancee is of the Henry family of Dorchester. The groom elect is well acquainted in Talbot, and has the hearty well wishes of a host of friends.

It has never been known to fail, even in cases of colds of seven or eight years' standing. This syrup is well named "Marvelous" for certainly it is marvelous the success it has had with in so short a time. For sale by
