UP AND DOWN THE Eastern Shore

Weaver to Investigate

Cambridge—Joseph B. Weaver, Chief of the Bureau of Navigation and Steamboat Inspection of the Department of Commerce, who has a country home near here, has begun a searching inquiry into 300 to 500 interruptions in the sailing of American ships which are claimed due to insubordination and near mutiny among ship crews. These interruptions to commerce have become so numerous . . . that a through survey seems desirable, Weaver said.

Composes Sacred Score

Princess Anne—Composed by Warfield Dashiell, a student at Peabody Conservatory of Music, who is a son of former State Senator S. Frank Dashiell, a completed score for the Communion Service of the Episcopal Church was heard at St. Andrew's Church here on Easter Sunday in the presence of the Rt. Rev. George W. Davenport, Bishop of the Diocese of Easton and other church dignitaries.

Praise for Crusader

Berlin—"A crusading paper is one of the most valuable assets any community can have," Arthur E. Hungerford, State Director of the National Emergency Council for Maryland, said in a letter to the Eastern Shore Times, published here. The Times' editor has for two years kept up an intermittent fire on Senator Milton L. Veasey, who in addition to representing Worcester County in the Senate is on the payroll of the State Roads Commission.

Voters "Disfranchised"

Snow Hill—Loss of the registration book which contained the names of all eligible voters in the town of Snow Hill has necessitated a complete new registration. Election judges at the last poll claim they returned the book and ballot boxes to the town hall, but there the trail ends.

Town's Finances Praised

Federalsburg—Despite abnormal expenses brought on by last year's disastrous flood, Federalsburg will make the first payment of $3,000 on a $72,000 flood bond issue of three years ago and the town's financial condition is being praised.

230 Years Young

Vienna—An all day celebration commemorating the 230th anniversary of Vienna's founding will be held today, Thursday. Dedication of the town's new fire engine and a new water system is the No. 1 feature with all firemen on the Delmarva Peninsula invited. Speakers include Senator Olin R. Higgins, Dorchester; J. Millard Tawes, Somerset; and F. W. C. Webb of Wicomico.

Spring in Ocean City

Ocean City—Building of more cottages than ever before, filling in of all developed property along Sinepuxent Bay, resumption of work by the boardwalk crews, and the presence of more fishing smacks than residents have ever seen are the things Ocean City lists as indicating the biggest attendance in the history of Maryland's only seashore resort.

Phoebus in Line

Princess Anne—State Senator Harry T. Phoebus, consistent heckler of both Governor Nice and Republican National Committeeman Ovington E. Weller, has buried the hatchet and climbed on the bandwagon, it was indicated last week when he not only announced his unqualified support of these gentlemen but accepted an invitation as keynoter at Maryland's GOPow-Wow in Baltimore.

Hoppe on Exhibition

Rising Sun—As further evidence that Rising Sun is the pool shooting capital of the Eastern Shore, Willie Hoppe, five times winner of the world's 18.2 professional balkline billiard championship, will stage an exhibition here tonight, Thursday, at 9 p. m.

Fishermen Drown

Pocomoke City—The body of Silas Lee Colona, 28, entangled in a shad net attached to a capsized boat, was found in the Pocomoke River near here. Searchers previously had brought the body of William Blackwell, 45, to the surface, and Frank Dryden, 54, known to have been the third man in the boat, is still missing.

Republican Discord

Princess Anne—In Somerset County where Republicans for years have won numerous offices because of bitter factional strife among the Democrats, signs are strong that the Republicans have at long last fallen out. Opposed to endorsing Gov. Nice for the Presidency, Weldon W. Ward, 1932 candidate for Sheriff, is reported rounding up a slate of delegates to stage a fight at the State Convention. Meanwhile the Republican Board of County Commissioners finds itself deadlocked over the recommendation of a Tax Supervisor.

New Reservoir Opened

Elkton—A new reservoir with a million gallon capacity which trebles the town's water supply has been placed in use. Located on Red Hill it was built principally by PWA labor. For forty years a reservoir with a capacity of 450,000 gallons has served the town.

Urge Dual Extension

Berlin—Extension of Delaware's dual highway via Selbyville and thence to the Maryland line was urged at a joint meeting of the Berlin-Ocean City Lion Club and the Selbyville Rotary Club in Selbyville last week. U. S. Senator John G. Townsend, Jr., said less than nine miles of 200-ft. rights of way remain to be secured.

Gunby Boys Sentenced

Snow Hill—Alonzo Gunby, 40-year-old Negro who several years ago turned state's evidence and aided in the conviction of Andrew and Luther Bevan for arson, was convicted of second degree murder in the death of George Cooke in a crap game and sentenced to 18 years in the Maryland Penitentiary. Alonzo's brother Herman drew a similar sentence.

Farm Leader Assails Method Of Taxation

Wise Says Real Property In State Bears Undue Burden

The record of the recently adjourned special sessions of the Maryland Assembly shows clearly the need of scientific study and reorganization of the tax laws of the state, in the opinon of C. E. Wise, Jr., secretary of the Maryland Farm Bureau Federation. While the program adopted will come close to meeting the revenue needs of the immediate future, the actions of the session did little or nothing toward the solution of the state's long time problem, Mr. Wise said in commenting on the work of the legislature.

Legislators and taxpayers alike must recognize the changes in the form of Maryland's basic wealth as it relates to the ability of the individual to meet the burdens of taxation, according to a statement of the farm bureau leader. Real property has long furnished the basis of revenue raising for governmental purposes. Even though the base of taxation has been broadened the past few years, best estimates available indicate that real property now represents but 40 percent of the wealth of the state but is bearing more than 70 percent of the tax burden. New forms of taxation which will adjust the burden more closely to ability to pay taxes and in line with the benefits received from government must be found if our tax legislation is ever to be more than a method of catch as catch can money raising.

Ridgely Homemakers Meet At Queen Anne

The Homemakers' Club of Ridgely was entertained recently by Mrs. William C. Stevens at her home in Queen Anne. Twenty-four members were present.

Features on the program included a report on the National Flower Show in Baltimore given by Mrs. Albert White; book reviews by Mrs. Frank Ziegler, of Denton, and Mrs. Stevens, and talks on glassware by Miss Bessie Spafford, Caroline Home Demonstration Agent, and the hostess.

Discussion of the Flower Mart to be held in Denton in April took place, and several members reported plans to attend the Rural Women's Short course at College Park in June. Miss Spafford also presented charge of three well planned meals for one day.
