Fill out your tomatoes FIRM · MEATY · ROUND · RED with 3-8-10 fertilizer

DELMARVA GROWERS have long known that it pays to use a high-potash fertilizer for tomatoes. That is why 3-8-10 is such a popular mixture for the crop. Your fertilizer man recommends 3-8-10 for tomatoes because he has seen the very excellent results that it gives on the Peninsula.

3-8-10 produces vigorous, healthy tomato plants capable of setting and carrying a good crop. It increases their resistance to disease and adverse weather conditions, helping to prevent frost injury.

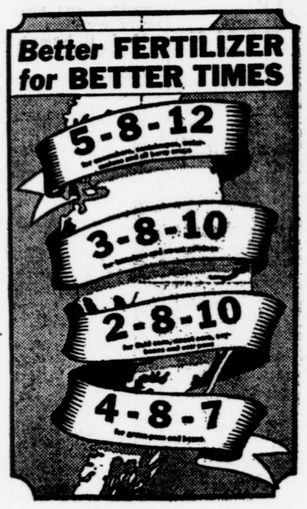

3-8-10 greatly increases the yields of No. 1 tomatoes, reducing the number of cat-faces, puffs and small, poorly colored fruits. It reduces cracking around the stems, increases the percentage of good red color and thickens the walls, making the fruit firm, well-filled-out and meaty.

3-8-10 produces the smooth, high-quality tomatoes that are prized on all markets. Whether you grow tomatoes for shipping or for canning it pays to use 3-8-10 fertilizer. Tell your fertilizer man you want 3-8-10 for tomatoes this season.

It pays to use high-potash fertilizer for all truck crops because potash is the quality-producing element. It helps you get the No. 1 grades that the market demands—the quality that commands top prices. The average truck crop removes from your soil more potash than both nitrogen and phosphoric acid combined.

Your fertilizer man knows this. That is why he is encouraging the use of high-potash, quality-producing mixtures such as 3-8-10, 5-8-12, 2-8-10 and 4-8-7 for Delmarva crops.

Check over this list of better fertilizers and plan now to use these for the crops you grow. They are developed especially for Delmarva conditions. They are based on years of experiment and the experience of leading farmers. Your fertilizer man recommends them.
