UP AND DOWN THE Eastern Shore

"Old Guard Platform"

Berlin—Harry Stark, new publisher of the Eastern Shore Times, revealed himself as an "Old Guard" Republican in a Democratic stronghold, when, on the eve of the National Convention, he "mailed" an open page letter to Shore Delegates Joshua Clayton and A. Stengle Marine suggesting six planks for the platform. Among them: return to the gold standard, reimbursement of gold-clause bondholders, and a balanced budget. Most novel plank: A pledge not to renominate in 1940, if elected, the candidate chosen so that he would be freed of re-election strategy in fulfilling the platform.

Mendicant Friar

Pocomoke City—Teaching an object lesson in evangelical poverty by the poorness and simplicity of his life, Father Partridge, claimed to be the only Mendicant Friar, is visiting the lower Shore on the fag end of a 30,000 mile trip through 34 states with New York as his destination. All he asks in return for talking to any religious, civic group or penal gathering is gas and oil for his 15-year old Cadillac and food for himself and his dog. He lives in a trailer.

J. Franklin Sought

Trappe—J. Franklin "Home Run" Baker, president of the Fire Company and civic spirited resident of Trappe, took on added responsibilities last week when townsfolk appointed him a member of the Board of Commissioners. Cambridge, just across the Choptank River bridge, has been trying to get him to manage their ball club but the old major league slugger says no team can play decent ball playing only once a week.

Slightly Exaggerated

Princess Anne—When the Baltimore News Post reported that the recent Maryland-Virginia crab conference blew up with a loud bang and nothing was accomplished that newspaper didn't know what it was talking about, Judge Robert F. Duer, Chairman of the State Conservation, said in effect in an interview with the Crisfield Times. A great deal that was good for the seafood industry was accomplished, Judge Duer said.

Texas Ranger Twice

Cambridge—Col. Albanus Phillips had the unique distinction of twice becoming a member of the Texas Rangers last week at the Washington airport when two beauteous Rangerettes, who had come east by plane to ballyhoo the Texas Centennial, each handed him Commissions from Governor James V. Allred.

Gets Job, Dies

Elkton—Two hours after he had found himself a job after seeking one throughout the winter and spring, Park Dodman, 55, of Havre de Grace, died of a heart attack. He had been put to work here digging a ditch preparatory to building a gasoline station.

Vets to Gather

Ocean City—The 18th annual encampment of veterans of the Spanish American War living on the Delmarva Peninsula will be in Convention Hall at the Atlantic Hotel on June 20-21. Senators, Congressmen and Mayors have been invited to speak.

Scrap Over Highway

Salisbury—County and civic officials in both Wicomico and Worcester counties are putting up a scrap on the location of the contemplated dual highway to Dixie. Worcester says build it through Berlin, Snow Hill, and Pocomoke City. Wicomico says build it through Bridgeville, Seaford, Delmar, Salisbury and Pocomoke.

No Journey's End

Princess Anne—The expressed desire of Lloyd Merle to go into the marshes of Deal's Island there to end it all because he is weary of living, brought arrest and a stretch in jail on a charge of vagrancy for the eccentric individual. Police investigated when residents reported a ragged unshaven figure in the marshes.

Stay at Home Plea

Hurlock—If you look around you, you will find ample opportunity to employ your talents profitably, successfully and to the advancement of your communities and there is no necessity to migrate to other States or cities, Lansdale C. Sasscer, President of the Maryland Senate, told graduates of Hurlock High School.

Fish Fair Organizes

Easton—Max Chambers' ideas of a Fishing Fair to advance the Eastern Shore as a haven for disciples of Izaak Walton moved a step further toward fulfillment when officers of the Association were elected and the first round-up for presentation to prizes to champion fishermen in June, July, August was set for "The Gooses" of Tilghman's Island on September 12.

Female Bicyclist

Elkton—Peddling a bicycle over 40 miles of smooth modern highways is just a day's sport for Miss Eugenie Z. Hecker, of Long Island, who at the moment is visiting in Wilmington. She had business in Elkton with a lawyer, so she peddled over and back to transact it. She's been a bike enthusiast for 20 years.

Malicious Glass Cutter

Princess Anne—Proprietors of main street stores and offices awoke the other morning to find that parties unknown had walked the length and breadth of the business section with a diamond ring or cutting tool and had scraped plate glass windows. Business men fear the slightest jar will easily wreck $1500 worth of windows here.

Fined But Commended

Berlin—Testifying before magistrate Culver that she drove a car without a license because the man supposed to drive it was under the influence of liquor and she didn't wish to risk a wreck, Mrs. Myrtle Littleton not only got off with a suspended $10 fine but drew a word of commendation from the magistrate.

Something for the Zoo

Elkton—Philadelphia got a contribution for its zoological garden when sportsmen off White Crystal Manor captured a giant sea turtle weighing upwards of 300 lbs., claimed the biggest ever caught in local waters.
