LOCAL & PER SONAL.

WEDNESDAY,......May 22, 1872.

☞There is much talk of a ghost near Chateau Church.

☞The Store House & Stock in trade of the late Josias S. Simmons will shortly be sold at public auction.

☞Trees are sadly needed around the Female Primary School. Little girls, like Lilies of the Valley, need shade.

☞Don't forget the handsome affair to come off at the Female Seminary on Friday morning at 11 o'clock It will be a rare treat. The public are cordially invited to attend.

☞The new brick African Church on High Street is now well under way and promises to be a substantial and handsome edifice.

☞The finest peas of the season we have seen were shipped on Monday from La Grange, the farm of A. H. Bayly Jr., near Cambridge.

☞The Rev. Mr. Naylor of the Baptist Church of Vienna, will lecture at Hayward Hall on Thursday evening, and the public are invited to attend.

☞Col. Wallace of Cambridge will lecture in Federalsburg on Friday evening (the 24th) at 8½ o'clock P. M. upon "Education and free Schools."

EXTRA TRAIN.—The Dorchester and Delaware R. R. Co., will commence running a train for fruit & vegetables Monday next, May 27th, leaving Cambridge at 12, noon.

☞We were visited with a refreshing rain on Saturday night, but only in the proportion of one-tenth of what is needed by the parched soil and perishing grain crops.

☞We have received a long and most interesting letter from our friend Dr. Chubb, which was crowded out of this issue by the local laws but will appear in the next.

☞Mr. Wm. M. Fletcher has sold a number of building lots on the corner of Muir & Academy Streets and new houses are already in process of erection upon them.

☞Dr. Wm D. Noble, of Federalsburg, has received an urgent professional call from the citizens of Denton to locate in their midst, to fill the void caused by the death of Dr. Charles E Tarr.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—As four negroes were crossing from Cambridge to the Talbot shore on Monday, their boat upset and one of them, John Canterbery by name, usually known as John Kent, was drowned.

☞W Wilson Byrn Esq., is making material additions to the building on Gay St., heretofore used for offices, and when completed it will be one of the most convenient and attractive residences for a small family in Cambridge.

LIFE INSURANCE —D. M. Henry Jr., Attorney at Law, has accepted the agency of the National Life Insurance Co., for this county and will receive and forward all applications for insurance and attend to any other business connected with said company.

☞Messrs. Crowell & Co., have their grist mill in beautiful order and now turn out the very best family flour for their customers. As an enterprising business firm who are a great advantage to the community they should receive a cordial support from our people. It is our interest, as it should be our duty, as all who try will find out.

☞We invite the attention of the public to the card of Rea & Hutchinson in our advertising columns. It is a mistake to suppose that because Mr Rea keeps a good hotel he has given up his old custom of making coffins.

In both his avocations he unites the useful and the ornamental in a remarkable degree. So if you want either a good dinner or a handsome coffin step along.

☞William Rea Esq., with the love of neatness and order that so eminently distinguishes him, has gone to work and made Gay Alley a credit to the town for its cleanness and beauty. The example he has set is a good one and can be followed with advantage by all our citizens. We should like much to see his praiseworthy efforts to improve his section of the town seconded by widening the at present ungainly and inconvenient narrowness of Gay Alley. We are satisfied that Mr. E. W. Lecompte would consent to the slight abridgement of his premises that would be necessary, upon proper compensation, and that an appropriation to that end by the Town Commissioners would be heartily approved by the people.

Political Notes.

There has been serious dissatisfaction with the Cincinnati ticket among the Germans, who constitute a main element of liberal republican strength, but the Westliche Post of St. Louis publishes favorable extracts from about twenty German papers in different parts of the West, crowning the list with a letter from Governor Koerner, of Illinois, heartily accepting the results of the convention. On the whole, it may be fairly said that German feeling, especially among republicans, is much more kindly than on the morning after the nomination, but that there is still discontent.

A Southern Democrat in Arms.

Mr. Greeley, for becoming the head of this revolution, will provoke more foul abuse than has ever yet been heaped on a candidate for office. Let his enemies paint him in all the dark, dismal, disgusting, loathsome colors they can compound of malice, wrath, and vengeance; let them collect all the opprobrious epithets in the dictionaries, and words that are known, but never go in dictionaries, and hurl them all at him, and when he is made as mean and disgusting as all these can make him, we still prefer him to Grant.—Memphis Ledger.

LAST week the bodies of three white men drifted ashore on Taylors Island, supposed to be a part of the crew of a pungy boat wrecked in the bay on the 4th of March last. An inquest was held by Justice Kirwan. There was nothing to indicate the names of the unfortunate men. The following description of their persons is furnished us by the Justice.

One a man about 30 years of age, 5 feet 8 inches in height, dressed in light drab pants with overhauls of dark drab color, striped gansy shirt, dark casimer coat, oil cloth jacket, leather belt around the waist, gaiter shoes and cotton socks. His hair was dark and slightly curling at the end.

One about 20 or 25 years of age, 5 feet 6 or 7 inches in height, of light complexion, sandy hair and moustache, and with an old scar on left cheek near the chin, was dressed in gray casimer pants and vest, gansy shirt trimmed in front with pink or red braid, and pegged boots.

One about 20 year of age 5 feet 4 inches high, and was tattooed on the left hand between the thumb and fore finger with a small figure or naught. Had on casimer pants, coat and vest and a striped cotton shirt.

GEORGE W. MURDOCH, one of the Annapolis Registration officers indicted under the Ku-Klux law for striking the names of certain negro voters from the voting list, was found guilty on Saturday in the U. S. District Court of Baltimore, but unanimously recommended by the jury to the mercy of the Court.

QUITE a sensation was created in Cambridge on Tuesday morning by the appearance in the streets on horseback of a gentleman who has lived seventy years among us in peace and honor without ever having made such a venture before.

POLITICAL SENSATION.—Mr. Voorhees of Indiana made quite a sensation in Congress last week by a vehement invective against Mr. Greeley and expressing strong opposition to the endorsement of him by the Baltimore Convention.

Sketch of Hon. B. Gratz Brown.

The lineage of Hon. B. Gratz Brown is a distinguished one. His grandfather Hon. John Brown, who was a native of Rockbridge county, Va., was a representative in Congress from 1779 to 1783 from that State, and subsequently removing to Kentucky, was there elected to the United States Senate.—He was a warm supporter and personal friend of Jefferson. His son, Judge Mason Brown the father of Gov. Brown, was an eminent jurist. On the maternal side, he is a decendant of Hon. Jesse Bledsoe, also a distinguished jurist, and a representative of Kentucky in the United States Senate. Gratz Brown was born in Lexington, Ky., May 28, 1826, and after graduating at Transylvania University, and subsequently at Yale, entered the legal profession and settled in St. Louis. He was elected to the Missouri Legislature in 1852, serving six years, and aided in establishing and edited the St. Louis Democrat from 1854 to 1859. In 1857 he took a determined position in favor of the abolition of slavery, and becoming the free-soil candidate for governor came within 500 votes of being elected. In the beginning of the late war he commanded a regiment of militia, and co-operated with the federal troops in the capture of Camp Jackson, which fixed the attitude of the State in the Union. He subsequently commanded a regiment of volunteers, but in 1863 yielded to popular sentiment and entered the United States Senate.—There he supported zealously the war measures of the administration, and when the great conflict was ended favored generous treatment to the vanquished. Retiring from the Senate, after serving the four years term, he was in 1870 elected Governor of Missouri by a coalition of republicans and democrats. The great issue of the election was the removal of the proscriptive measures which the angry passions incident to the war had placed in force His administration has been marked by his exertions in repairing the social disturbances of the war, in securing the just rights of all citizens and in the development of the material resources of the State. In person he is of less than the middle height, slightly built, and of nervous organization. He is characterized for vigor and directness of thought, decision of action, thorough gameness and great capacity for long continued labor.—Balt. Sun.

Baker and Elizabeth A. Baker his wife, Josiah Russell and Sallie A. Russell, his wife, John L. Vickers and Elizabeth Vickers, his wife, Phœbe Helsby, William F. Vickers, Daniel J. Vickers, Daniel J. Vickers and Vaughn S. Vickers to them, and the survivors or survivor of them at the expiration of four years from his death, in fee simple. PROSPECTUS OF A NEW INDEPENDENT HEALTH MONTHLY.

The object of it is to teach the people all that pertains to the preservation of Health, the prevention of Diseases, and how to live in order to develop normally in body and mind.

It is not a Medical Journal, but PHYSIOLOGICAL and HYGIENIC, a family magazine, containing just that practical information on the laws of Life and Health, useful to every member of the household and cannot but be worth many times its price to every family in which it is read.

Quack Medicines, and quack doctors will be exposd, and swindlers will not be allowed to impose on the people where the Science of Health is generally circulated.

This Journal will be the exponent of all known means by which Health, Strength, Vigor, and a Long Life, may be attained by using and regulating those agencies which are always accessible and so vitally related to Health and the treatment of Diseases, including Air, Light, Temperature, Bathing, Eating, Drinking, Clothing, Recreation, Exercise, Rest, Sleep, Electricity, Mental Influences, Social Relations and all Normal agents and Hygienic materials. All that is required to keep well and to preserve health, is a knowledge of the uses and misuses of these agencies.

The Science of Health will be the best exponent of the scientific principles of these subjects, and not the organ of any particular institution, or of the professional practice of any one, but devoted to the best interests of the whole people.
