Fell's Point Hotel,
AND
Exchange Coffee-House,
Corner of Bond and Fell's ſtreet.

To the Merchants and Traders of the city of Baltimore.

GENTLEMEN,

SINCE my removal from my late ſituation, the Columbian Inn, I have been repeatedly encouraged, by the opinion of many gentlemen extenſively engaged in the ſhipping buſineſs, to believe that very great advantages would reſult to the intereſt and eſtabliſhment of my houſe by adding to my other accommodations a MARINE REGISTER, &c. The ſituation being immediately contiguous to where moſt of the ſhipping take in and diſcharge their cargoes at all ſeaſons of the year, and where the owners and maſters of veſſels continually reſort to tranſact buſineſs—theſe motives, together with the repeated aſſurances of ſupport which my friends have proffered me, has induced me to lay the following propoſals before you for your conſideration, at the ſame time pledging myſelf, that ſhould my plan meet your ſupport, no exertions on my part ſhall be wanting to render the inſtitution a deſirable object to its patrons.

It may be conſidered needleſs in this place to point out the numerous advantages to be derived by the mercantile intereſt from inſtitutions of this nature, as well in Europe as in America—almoſt every ſea-port town in all countries has its exchange or coffee-houſe. For many years, inſtitutions of this nature have been conſidered ſo indiſpenſibly neceſſary as to have been very ably ſupported in New-York, Philadelphia, &c. Within the laſt two years Mr. James Bryden, notwithſtanding the many fruitleſs attempts which have been previouſly made, has, in a conſiderable degree, ſucceeded in eſtabliſhing a houſe of this kind in the city; and ſo ſenſible are the merchants of the very great advantages which they derive from the undertaking, that although the liſt of ſubſcribers are by no means ſo numerous, as at the firſt eſtabliſhment, yet do we find that the ſum ſubſcribed the laſt, exceeds the firſt years ſubſcription. The plan which I now propoſe will not, it is preſumed, nor do I wiſh that it ſhould, interfere with the before mentioned eſtabliſhment. The increaſed population of our city, the diſtance of the reſpective ſituations as well as the more immediate relation which Fell's Point bears to commercial affairs, will, it is preſumed, at leaſt juſtify me in making an attempt. My neceſſary avocations will very probably render it impracticable for me to make a general perſonal application; therefore propoſe, as ſoon as my propoſals have obtained a general circulation, to open ſubſcription-books for the receipt of ſignatures in different places of public reſort in the city and Fell's-Point—leaving it optional with every perſon to ſubſcribe ſuch ſum as he conceives the undertaking merits.

I again take the oppportunity to thank my friends and cuſtomers for that liberal ſupport which I received during a four years reſidence at the Columbian Inn, and hope by the exertions I am determined to exerciſe, to merit the patronage of all who may in future favor my houſe with their cuſtom.

After ſubmitting the annexed propoſals for your conſideration, I take the liberty to ſubſcribe myſelf, The public's

Moſt obedient humble ſervant,

H. PECK.

PROPOSALS

1. The room of the hotel ſhall be appropriated for the uſe of the mercantile intereſt generally, furniſhed in the moſt commodious manner.

2. A clerk ſhall be employed to collect and record all intereſting marine intelligence, a regular liſt of all entries and clearances from this port, receive and forward ſhip letters, for which purpoſe bags will be provided, and carefully ſealed and delivered to the captains.

3. The newſpapers from all the different ports on the continent ſhall be immediately procured and regularly filed, and ſhould ſufficient encouragement be given, a correſpondence will be opened and the moſt generally intereſting European papers be obtained.

If the encouragement given to the above propoſals, equals my ardor to render my houſe an intereſting place of reſort to my fellow-citizens, I hope to carry my plan into complete effect, by the firſt day of February next.

H. PECK.

To thoſe members of the Proteſtant Epiſcopal Church, who have not yet ſubſcribed, or are not annual contributors to the inſtitution under the care of the Benevolent Society.

THE Truſtees of the Benevolent Society take the liberty of calling your attention to the ſtate of the inſtitution for the maintenance and education of poor female children, which is under the patronage of the Proteſtant epiſcopal church. Encouraged by the liberal contributions of a reſpectable number of the members of that church, they erected a commodious building for the reception of thoſe children who might be deemed objects of the charity. In doing this, they were unavoidably led to exceed their funds, and to contract a conſiderable debt. To pay the intereſt of this, and to provide for its gradual extinction, they are obliged to break in upon the funds intended for its annual ſupport. If poſſeſſed of other means, they would be able to increaſe the number of thoſe who are now benefited by this excellent inſtitution; an inſtitution which, they flatter themſelves, has the approbation of every humane and reflecting perſon—With theſe means they may be eaſily ſupplied. Partly from the want of the neceſſary application, partly from miſapprehenſion, many of the members of the Proteſtant epiſcopal church have not yet contributed any thing to this charity; and not a few of its founders have not yet thought it proper to ſubſcribe to its annual ſupport. The truſtees knowing the benevolence and generoſity of thoſe whom they addreſs, cannot believe that they want the inclination to devote to this benevolent purpoſe ſuch an annual ſum as their abilities will warrant—and they now entreat them to extend to it the hand of pecuniary aid. They are aware that many perſons are unwilling to bind themſelves to the payment of any annual ſum; they have, therefore, ſo framed the annexed head for a ſubſcription, that none who may ſubſcribe it will be bound by it longer than is agreeable to their own pleaſure and convenience. A very moderate ſum contributed by each of thoſe whom God has bleſſed with the ability, would, in a ſhort time, extricate this valuable inſtitution from its pecuniary embarraſſments, and enable its directors to render it more extenſively uſeful. To this ſubſcription they reſpectfully but earneſtly invite you—ſo ſhall you ſnatch many helpleſs females from deſtruction; but above all, ſo ſhall you recommend yourſelves to your Father who is in heaven, and to that Gracious Being who hath ſaid "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not."

By order of the truſtees,
JOSEPH G. J. BEND, Preſident.
Atteſt,
HENRY NICOLS, Sec'y.

WE, the ſubſcribers, deſirous of promoting the inſtitution for the maintenance and education of poor female children, under the direction of the Benevolent Society of the city and county of Baltimore, promiſe to pay, during our pleaſure, to the truſtees thereof, on the day of the annual ſum reſpectively ſubſcribed to our names.
