FEDERAL GAZETTE.

MONDAY, JANUARY 24.

Captain Frederick Traverſe, of the ſchooner Arradondo, from St. Auguſtine, (via Norfolk) 15 days paſſage, informs us, that the day previous to his ſailing, the governor of St. Auguſtine received official documents from the lieutenant general of the Havanna, that New-Orleans and Apalache were ceded to the French, and that they were in daily expectation of the arrival of French troops to take poſſeſſion. Both of the officers (alluded to above) were directed to give the troops every aid which might be required of them.

Captain Anthony, of the ſchooner Fair Play, who arrived at Wilmington, N. C. on the 2d inſtant, thirteen days from Guadaloupe, informs that the inſurgents in that iſland are entirely ſubdued; that tranquility, order and regular government had taken the place of inſurrection, and all thoſe dreadful forebodings which have been realized to the unfortunate inhabitants of St. Domingo; that buſineſs was beginning to aſſume a lively attitude, and American produce in conſiderable demand. For theſe bleſſings, however, ſacrifices ſhocking to humanity have been made. All the colored people of whatever age or ſex, have been burnt, hung, ſhot, and tranſported, except about 100 who were in the woods; but in conſequence of a proclamation, which was iſſued by the government, offering pardon with tranſportation, to thoſe who would ſurrender, a conſiderable portion of that number had come in before captain A. ſailed; and it was expected in a few days there would not remain on the iſland one of thoſe wretched beings, who but lately conſtituted a large majority of its population. The moſt reſpectable of them, and thoſe who had been diſtinguiſhed for their humanity to the whites during the revolution, were tranſported. They were forced on board of the American and Engliſh veſſels lying there, at the point of the bayonet—the latter were compelled to take on board from ten to twelve and the former 5 or 6 each.

Three men, two women, and a boy were ſent on board the Fair Play; and when captain Anthony expoſtulated with the officers of government againſt receiving them, he was told to throw them overboard when he got to ſea, and that if he attempted to reland them on the iſland his veſſel ſhould be ſunk. Thus all remonſtrance was in vain; his only alternatives were to deſtroy them or bring them to Wilmington, and humanity forbade the former.

There were 30 ſail of American veſſels at Guadaloupe when captain A. left there, to ſail in a few days to different parts of the union; which, on their arrival, will probably depoſit in our country, upwards of 100 of the late chiefs of the inſurgents of that iſland.

Captain Anthony has entered a proteſt, and the inhabitants of Wilmington and its vicinity, are about ſending a memorial to congreſs, ſoliciting their immediate interference with reſpect to this extraordinary conduct of the government of Guadaloupe, which, if not ſpeedily interdicted, may lead to the moſt fatal conſequence.

It was reported at Guadaloupe, by the officers of a frigate which had juſt arrived there from France, that a war was expected between that nation and the United States.

Information was received at Guadaloupe a few days previous to the departure of the Fair Play, that an inſurrection had actually taken place at Martinique, but to what extent our informant did not learn.

Singular attachment to Honor. It is related as a fact, that a gentleman of one of the firſt families in Ireland, lately ſitting alone in an apartment in his own houſe in Dublin, a very genteel ſharper having gained admittance, preſented his piſtols, and demanded the gentleman's purſe. This the latter, ſeeing no alternative, immediately delivered, when the thief, telling the gentleman that he had one more demand to make, inſiſted that he would give him his honor he would neither ſpeak to any perſon, nor move from the ſpot where he then ſat, for half an hour. This the gentleman alſo agreeing to the robber had not been long gone, before one of the family entered the apartment, who, upon aſking a queſtion, was juſtly ſurprized to ſee the gentleman ſhake his head and point to his watch, and which he continued to do to every interrogation, till the half hour was expired, when he exclaimed. —"I have been robbed!" The fellow, however, had ſo well availed himſelf of the time given, that all enquiry after him was fruitleſs. [London paper.]

The Moniteur deſcribes a war on the continent, as a civil war in the boſom of the weſtern nation, meaning the whole continent of Europe. France calls herſelf the Great Nation, meaning that ſhe is the head of the weſtern nation; and Bonaparte, as head of the great nation, is ſtyled the arbiter of kings and people, implying that he can diſpoſe of every king and every tribe of people in the weſtern nation. Indeed there is not a country in Europe, Ruſſia and Britain alone excepted, over which he does not, in ſome degree, exerciſe ſovereignty. He gives peace to Europe; he gives his mediation to different ſtates; and he gives conſtitutions to his neighbors. He has juſt given his mediation between Sweden and Tripoli, by which he has procured a treaty for the former, as if Sweden were one of his children under his protection, one of the children of "the Weſtern nation." Of courſe, it would be rebellion in any ſtate of Europe, to lift the ſword againſt France. The Moniteur plainly avows it would be civil war. While this is laid down as the ſyſtem of the continent, Bonaparte puſhes aſide Britain as a petty iſland not belonging to the great family.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY

Of extracting pure, wholeſome, and freſh water from the ſalt water of the ocean, by means of evaporation and condenſation,

With a new and uſeful improvement in the carbooſe of a veſſel for working ſaid machine without any additional expence for fuel, and ſupplies at ſea a ſufficiency of freſh water for the ſhip's uſe. Invented by Simeon Rouſe, and by him aſſigned to John Lamb, who has obtained a patent from the United States, ſigned by the preſident the firſt day of January, 1803.

Many gentlemen have examined the drawing and deſcription of the ſaid machine, and are firmly of opinion that it is of the utmoſt importance, and will be highly beneficial to all nations forever hereafter. It is underſtood the patentee will ſhortly procure the machine (complete) on board one of our national ſhips (or ſome other) for ſatisfactory experiment, when the terms of vending will be made known and publiſhed in the ſeveral ſeaports in the United States.

The inventor and patentee are citizens of the ſtate of New-York.

From Halifax (N. S.) we learn, that on the night of the 23d of October laſt, the dwelling houſe and out houſes of John Lawlor, at Sackville, were deſtroyed by fire. Three females eſcaped from the houſe, but four men and one female periſhed in the flames. Mr. Lawlor's loſs is reckoned at 2000l. ſterling. The fire had made great progreſs before it was diſcovered, and the cauſe is utterly unknown.

From the New-York Evening Poſt.

LIBERTY of the PRESS.

The following extract from the Albany Centinel of this morning, ſhews what the federaliſts are now to expect as to the freedom of the preſs. When the ſheriff, for the trial of an iſſue between a man and his country, returns a jury of twelve, who are all notoriouſly violent party men, and all of that ſide in politics oppoſed to the defendant, it is making uſe of his office to deprive a member of the community of his law—it is to poiſon juſtice at its fountain; and unleſs it meets with that unequivocal expreſſion of execration and abhorrence from the more reſpectable part of our citizens, which ſhall deter from its repetition, muſt end in civil war and bloodſhed. Let this prediction be remembered!

By the way, we ſhould be glad to know under what ſtatute this proſecution is commenced? We know of none; we never did know of any, excepting the ſedition law; but that expreſsly allowed the defendant to ſcreen himſelf from puniſhment by ſhewing that what he had ſaid was no more than the ſtrict truth. In this caſe the attorney-general ſays, the truth can form no defence. After the party have declared over and over again, in congreſs and out, that there is no common law in the United States to puniſh a libel, do they mean now to reſort to that very common law to puniſh the firſt printer they can get hold of? Democratic conſiſtency forever!

"We are informed that Mr. Croſwell, jun. editor of the Balance, had two indictments found againſt him this week, at a court of ſeſſions now ſitting in Columbia county, for "ſlandering the preſident."—The indictments were found the firſt day in term, by a grand jury returned by a democratic ſheriff, before a democratic court—and the thing well cut and dried, we preſume, by a democratic attorney-general, who, we are told, preſſed hard to have the matter tried the ſecond day in court, and oppoſed the application for a poſtponement, on the ground of the common law principle, that the defendant could not be permitted to juſtify, by giving the truth in evidence; and therefore could be no better prepared for his trial at a future day than he was then.

This, we preſume, is one of the "monuments of ſafety with which error of opinion may be tolerated, when reaſon is left free to combat it. [Albany Centinel.]

The following is propoſed as an amendment to the conſtitution of Maryland, by the legiſlature. The avowed object is to get clear of the federal judges. Whether the people of Maryland will ſuffer theſe ſacred guardians of their property, their lives and reputations, to become the ſport of ambitious demagogues and the victims of party intolerance, remains for them to determine. If they have any regard for themſelves or their poſterity they will manfully and unitedly oppoſe thoſe dangerous innovations. Under the wiſe inſtitutions and ſalutary regulations of our fathers, we have continued free, happy and proſperous. And ſhall we now ſacrifice theſe bleſſings at the requeſt of the ignorant, ambitious and envious.

[Waſh. Fed.]

An ACT to alter, change and aboliſh, ſuch parts of the conſtitution and form of government as relate to the eſtabliſhing a general court and court of appeals.

BE it enacted by the general aſſembly of Maryland, That from and after the day of , there ſhall be a court of appeals, compoſed of three perſons of integrity, and ſound judgment in the law, who ſhall be ſtyled in their commiſſions, judges of the court of appeals, whoſe judgment ſhall be final and concluſive in all caſes of appeal from the court of chancery, county court or orphans' court; and that the court of appeals ſhall held two ſeſſions on the Weſtern Shore, and two on the Eaſtern Shore in each year, at ſuch times and places as the future legiſlature of this ſtate ſhall direct and appoint.

II. And be it enacted, That from and after the ſaid day of this ſtate ſhall be divided into five judicial diſtricts, viz. St. Mary's, Calvert, Prince-George's and Charles counties, ſhall be the firſt diſtrict; Cæcil, Kent, Queen-Anne's and Talbot counties, ſhall be the ſecond diſtrict; Anne-Arundel, Baltimore and Harford counties, ſhall be the third diſtrict; Caroline, Dorcheſter, Sumerſet and Worceſter counties, ſhall be the fourth diſtrict; and Waſhington, Frederick, Montgomery and Allegany counties, ſhall be the fifth diſtrict; and that there ſhall be appointed for each of the ſaid diſtricts two perſons of integrity, and ſound judgment in the law, who ſhall reſide in the diſtrict for which they ſhall be appointed, who ſhall be ſtyled in their commiſſions diſtrict judges of the county courts in ſuch diſtrict; and there ſhall be appointed for each of the counties of this ſtate one perſon of integrity, experience and knowledge, reſident of the county for which he ſhall be appointed, who ſhall be ſtyled in the commiſſion aſſociate judge of the county court of the county for which he ſhall be appointed; and the ſaid diſtrict judges in their reſpective diſtricts, together with the ſaid aſſociate judge in the reſpective counties, ſhall compoſe the county court; and the county courts ſo eſtabliſhed ſhall have, hold and exerciſe, all the powers, authorities and juriſdictions, that the general court and county courts of this ſtate has heretofore held, uſed and exerciſed, except the appellate juriſdiction of the general court; and that the county courts ſhall hold their ſeſſions in the reſpective counties at ſuch times and places as the future legiſlature of this ſtate ſhall direct and appoint.

III. And be it enacted, That if this act ſhall be confirmed by the general aſſembly after the next election of delegates, in the firſt ſeſſion after ſuch new election, as the conſtitution and form of government directs, that in ſuch caſe this act, and the alterations and amendment of the conſtitution and form of government therein contained, ſhall be taken and conſidered and ſhall conſtitute and be valid, as a part of the ſaid conſtitution and form of government, to all intents and purpoſes, any thing in the ſaid conſtitution and form of government contained to the contrary notwithſtanding.

IV. And be it enacted, That all and every part of the conſtitution and form of government that relates to the court of Appeals or the general court as now eſtabliſhed, or to the judges thereof, or that is in any manner contrary to or inconſiſtent with the proviſions of this act, be and are hereby declared to be repealed and aboliſhed on the confirmation hereof.
