Seven Dollars per Annum.] FRIDAY, JANUARY 28, 1803. [Vol. XVIII—No. 2739

PROPOSALS,

FOR PUBLISHING

A Baltimore Price Current,

AND

COMMERCIAL REGISTER,

After the manner of the one in New-York.

This paper will contain

The wholesale prices of all goods sold at this market—a regular list of naval entries and clearances—an abstract of all merchandize entered at the custom house—premiums of insurance—the course of exchange—prices of stocks—prices in the West-Indies and other foreign ports, as often as they can be obtained—and all kinds of marine and commercial information interesting to merchants.

The utility of such a publication has long been acknowledged, and the compilers hope by their industry and correctness to merit the patronage of the merchants in this, as well as in other capital cities of the union.

CONDITIONS.

The Baltimore Price Current will be printed on fine paper, quarto size, and delivered to subscribers in the city on Saturdays.

The price will be Two Dollars per annum, to be paid in advance by persons not residing in the city, and half yearly by the merchants of Baltimore.

The paper will be published as soon as 400 subscribers are obtained.

☞ Subscriptions received at Bryden's coffee house, where the paper will be published.

Fifty Dollars Reward.

ESCAPED from Denton jail, in Caroline county, Maryland, on the night of the 8th January, 1803, an ungrateful mulatto villain, named WILL. ENGLISH, the property of the subscriber. He is five feet six or eight inches high; likely, sensible, pleasant and well made; has wool-hair, which he generally wears queued; has a scar on the back of one hand, and another on the joint of his great toe, occasioned by the cut of an axe, and is fond of a fiddle. He took with him a new great coat of dark flushing, the cape and edges bound with pale red silk ferret, and a variety of other cloathing. He is, I expect, flush of money in 50 or 100 dollar bank notes, (unless he may have found means to exchange them) having lately robbed me of 310 dollars, 100 dollars of which I had recovered from him before I sent him to gaol. He is an excellent waterman, and will probably make for Baltimore or Philadelphia. Whoever will take up and secure him, so that I get him, shall receive thirty dollars if taken in this state, and if out of it, the above reward.

WILL. RICHARDSON.

N. B. It is hoped that some one of the well disposed printers in Wilmington and Philadelphia, will lend their aid to detect a villain, by giving this a place in their useful papers.
