Union Mills for Sale.

UNION Mill is situated on the banks of Jones's falls, about two miles from this city; the mill house is stone, upwards of 40 feet square, two and an half stories high, neatly plaistered inside, one water wheel 29 feet high, which turns 2 pair of burs, one pair 6 feet the other 4, with all the necessary machinery, nearly new and in good repair. The mill is now able to manufacture upwards of 30,000 bushels of wheat per annum, and the great fall in the stream will admit of being occupied again with another wheel of nearly equal force. There are belonging to said mill from 50 to 60 acres of land, part of which is exceedingly rich, neatly enclosed, and under good cultivation, the residue in wood. The improvements are a tolerable log dwelling house and a kitchen, good stables, and some other out houses; a good bearing orchard, with a large quantity of young trees. The terms of payment will be made easy, and a good title given. For further information apply to Joseph Scott, at E. Tyson's mill, who will shew the property; to Samuel Byrnes or Elisha Tyson, at their respective dwellings in this city; or the subscriber on Cheapside.

Slaves for Sale.

The subscriber will, on Wednesday, the 16th day of February next, at the house of Anthony Addison, in Prince George's county, expose to public sale, for read money, to the highest bidder,

NEGRO Peter, a young man, with his wife Nell, and their four children; negro George, with Rose his wife and their five children; negro Jack, a blacksmith; negro Sam, a shoemaker, and Forester, Jem, Daniel, Jem St. Clair, Isaac, Dennis, Jack and Bob, eight likely young lads; at the sale, families will not be divided but sold together. These slaves are sold in virtue of a deed of trust, bearing date the 26th day of August, 1802, from Anthony Addison to me the subscriber, authorising and directing the sale of the said slaves, to raise a sum of money for the purposes therein mentioned.

The sale will commence at 12 o'clock noon of the day abovementioned; and so many of the said slaves will be sold as will raise the sum of 3,050 dollars, with interest on 3000 dollars, from the 26th day of August, 1802, until the day of sale aforesaid.

Port Folio.

BEING requested by Joseph Dennie, esquire, of Philadelphia, to receive subscriptions for the Port Folio from the citizens of Baltimore, and the state of Maryland at large; I accept with alacrity the trust, and do declare that in no instance did I ever come forward with more satisfaction to myself, to solicit the continuance and support of the public, than on the present occasion.

I confess it has often been a mortifying circumstance to me, though an indispesible duty, to open subscription papers for works which do not ultimately prove worthy of the public esteem, and although uninterested in the emoluments of such works, or the reputation that attaches to them, I profess myself so far interested as to feel the most sensible regret whenever the public are allured to disappointment or loss through my agency. But on the contrary, it is therefore my exultation now to call on the lovers of literature for their aid and attention, not to an airy vision or meteor of fancy, whose sudden and transitory blaze vanisheth and is no more seen; but to a work whose standard and approved merit, under the encouragement of a liberal protection, bids fair to continue as a star of the first magnitude—the glory of our literary world, to the gratification of its enlightened patrons, and the honor of its editor.

The extensive circulation of this record of the times, and repository of intellectual amusement, not only in America, but in Europe, is the best criterion of its merit. But it is still necessary to augment the number of subscribers among the citizens of America, in order to remunerate more fully the great labor and expence that attends the publication of the Port Folio.

Whose end is "to hold as 'twere, the mirror up to nature; to shew virtue her own feature; scorn her own image, and the very age and body of the time his form and pressure."

A SUBSCRIPTION BOOK

Is this day opened in my store, where gentlemen in town, desirous of becoming subscribers, may be pleased to call; and all letters from the country, post paid, containing the subscription money, shall be attended to with punctuality.

The subscription to the Port Folio is Five Dollars, payable in advance, for one year; and from the knowledge of the new arrangements made for this year, I have no hesitation in pledging myself to the subscribers for the completion of their files at the year's end, free of any additional charge.

A little more than one and one-third of a blank to a prize, subject to a deduction of 15 per cent.

The drawing will commence on the first Monday in May next, and continue until finally completed, if the sale of tickets warrant it; otherwise, it will be postponed until a sufficient number of tickets is sold to justify the commencement and continuance thereof to its conclusion.

Thirty days after the completion of the drawing, the prizes will be paid to the fortunate adventurers. Such prizes as shall not be demanded within twelve months after the drawing is finished, will be considered as relinquished for the benefit of the church.

From the superior advantages of this scheme, wherein there is very little more than one and one-third of a blank to a prize, the managers cherish a hope that their friends and the public, seeing the difficulties attending their indefatigable efforts to carry their present undertaking into execution, will generously come forward and prove their benevolence by purchasing tickets.

The mayor having prohibited the sale of tickets in this lottery within the limits of the city, for the present; and it being therefore necessary for the managers to petition the mayor and city council, for permission to sell them within the said city, tickets may be had of the following persons, in the precincts only, until the fate of said petition shall be known, viz. the rev. Mr Reuter, next door to St. John's church; Mr. Jacob Stansbury, No. 46, Bridge-street, Old-Town; Mr. Christian Capito, head of Market-street; and of the subscribers at their respective dwelling houses.

A new and practical Work.

A PROPOSAL,

By WILLIAM Y. BIRCH, & ABRAHAM SMALL,
Of the city of Philadelphia,

For publishing in volumes, by subscription, that useful and popular work, the

DOMESTIC ENCYCLOPÆDIA;

OR, A

DICTIONARY OF FACTS,

AND

USEFUL KNOWLEDGE:

Comprehending a concise view of the latest discoveries, inventions, and improvements, chiefly applicable to rural and domestic economy. Together with descriptions of the most interesting objects of nature and art; the history of men and animals, in a state of health or disease; and practical hints respecting the arts and manufactures, both familiar and commercial.

Illustrated with numerous engravings and cuts.

By A. F. M. WILLICH, M. D.
Author of the Lectures on Diet and Regimen, &c.
First American edition,
With additions, applicable to the present situation of the United States,
By JAMES MEASE, M. D.
Fellow of the American Philosophical Society, and corresponding member of the Literary and Philosophical Society of Manchester.

To the Public.

AS the practical tendency of the work here announced, must be evident from the contents of the preceeding title its peculiar nature scarcely requires further explanation.

When we consider the natural condition of man, the object of all his pursuits becomes at once manifest and defined. To live with satisfaction to himself and others; to procure as many comforts of life as are consistent with his mental and bodily constitution; and to avert impending danger, or, in other words, to preserve himself from the injurious attacks of external agents, are nearly the whole of what relates to the practical part of human life. The present work being exclusively devoted to the departments of health and general economy, no subject could with propriety be introduced, which had a reference to ethics or morals, to metaphysics, or the abstract and professional sciences.

In order to unite conciseness with general utility, the theoretical or speculative part of every invention, discovery, or improvement, forms but a small portion of the Domestic Encyclopædia; because the rationale, or elementary principles, are only inserted in those instances where the subject cannot be sufficiently understood without them—And as the alphabetical form possesses many advantages over the systematic division and subdivision of articles, it has in the present case, been preferred, as more eligible for a popular work.

It will be easily conceived, that the subjects treated of in this collection must be numerous and important; inasmuch as the economical sciences are intimately connected with natural and experimental philosophy, including the knowledge of useful animals, plants, and minerals; chemistry, agriculture, gardening, hunting, the cultivation of trees, rearing of cattle, fishing, &c. To enable, however, the reader to judge of the method by which subjects apparently intricate and abstruse, are reduced to the level of ordinary capacities, the following heads will furnish an outline of the economical dictionary:

1. A concise historical account of the subject under consideration, or the manner in which it is most advantageously produced, either by nature or art—for instance, fuel, candles, hats, shoes, wine, yarn, &c.

2. The most judicious and economical mode of applying every substance to useful purposes

3 All the newly discovered methods of defending the objects of domestic and rural economy, from the effects of air, heat, and cold, the changes of climate, seasons, and other contingent causes; likewise, the most effectual way of preserving particular substances, such as seeds, roots, plants, &c from the depredations of insects, reptiles, and other animals

4. An explanation of the general effects which every article of food and drink, as well as all external and contingent causes, produce on the health of the human body; together with the most approved rules and directions for its preservation.

5. As the list of human afflictions contains many and obstinate diseases, such as cancers, consumption, epilepsy, gout, palsy, white swellings, &c. which have hitherto been for the most part considered as incurable, a concise and faithful account of the latest and most plausible remedies, or methods of treatment, is given.

FROM this account of the Domestic Encyclopædia, it must be obvious to all, that the nature of the work is peculiarly adapted to the present wants of the United States. Perhaps it contains a greater number of useful facts than have ever appeared in the compass of four moderate volumes. No pains, trouble, or expence appear to have been spared to render this economical dictionary as complete as the present advancement of agriculture, gardening, of the familiar arts and manufactures, as well as the imperfect state of medical science, would respectively admit. It includes almost every object more or less connected with rural, domestic, and animal economy. Hence the reader will find numerous experiments related, many hundreds of which have not hitherto been published in the English language.

With regard to the additions, the editor will observe, that no exertions shall be wanting on his part, to render them as useful as possible, to the people of this country—As no other diseases but those enumerated in article five, are introduced in the original work, and as it is peculiarly adapted to the situation of persons in the country, remote from medical aid, it has been deemed necessary in the present edition to detail the most approved methods of guarding against the attack of diseases, commonly prevalent in the United States, of curing them when actually present, and of treating the various accidents to which agricultural people are liable. There shall also be given, as full an account of all the poisonous plants growing in the United States, as can be obtained.

Care shall be taken to detail all the discoveries which have been made in the United States—These will be found to be more numerous than is generally imagined—Many machines for diminishing labor, and which are peculiar to this country, shall be described and illustrated by plates.

The VETERINARY SCIENCE comprehending the application of the principles of medicine, to the preservation of the health of domestic animals, and the cure of their diseases, shall also claim a due degree of attention—That destructive and native disease, the yellow water of horses, shall be described, and a successful method of cure pointed out.

Lastly, the object of the work being to supply families with a compact guide, in all economical affairs, every useful fact in rural and domestic economy, omitted by Dr. Willich, and which may be known to the editor, shall be inserted; and in order to take advantage of progressing improvements, arrangements have been made to have all the periodical works on the above subjects, forwarded as soon as published in England or France.

The editor will thankfully receive any communications which may tend to improve the work and he begs leave respectfully to solicit them.

The publishers have but little to add for themselves; knowing, that professions generally are, and, perhaps, ought to be, in a great measure, unavailing, they refer the public to the books they have already published. They have given to the world two editions of Dr. Russel's Modern Europe, within the last three years; the manner, therefore, in which they execute their undertakings, can be ascertained. In the present work, if they do not advance much, they pledge themselves not to degenerate. It shall be printed in the first style of uniformity and taste. The paper shall be superfine; and the engravings at least equal to those in the London copy.

CONDITIONS.

I. It shall be printed in five large handsome octavo volumes. One volume shall be delivered every three months. Price to subscribers, two dollars and fifty cents per volume, in boards, payable on delivery.

II. The first volume shall appear on the first of April, 1803, and a volume regularly every three months afterwards.

III. It may be had in one delivery when finished, at twelve dollars and fifty cents per set, or fifteen dollars well bound, payable on the delivery of the books. It will, however, be only obtained at these prices, by those who give the publishers their names during the process of the work, to take it when finished.

IV. At any considerable distance from Philadelphia, it can only be delivered in the last mentioned manner—the forwarding of single volumes to many places being impracticable.

N. B. The public will please to notice, that the amount in price of this improved and extended work, is not higher than the London work in four volumes.

 Among the numerous original articles which will appear in the first volume of this work, and the substance of which is not contained in any other Encyclopædia, we shall enmerate only the following: Abdomen, abortion, abscesses, abstinence, adulterations, agriculture (in general), agues, air, ale and beer, animation (suspended), anodynes, antidotes, apoplexy, apples and apple-trees, apricots, asparagus, baking, barley, barometers, bedsteads, beef, bees and bee-hives, beet-root, blacking (Frankford), bleaching, bleedings, books (popular), bread, breath (offensive), brewing, bricks (indestructible), buildings, burials, burns, butter, &c. &c.

☞ Subscriptions will be taken in at any of the bookstores in Baltimore.

Lands for Sale.

The Executors of the late general George Washington, offer for sale, the following TRACTS of LAND, viz.

A tract in Loudoun county, on Difficult run, containing 300 acres. The soil well adapted for farming, and a considerable proportion of it might easily be improved into meadow. There is a valuable mill seat on the premises. It lies on the great road from the City of Washington, Alexandria and George-Town to Leesburgh and Winchester, nineteen miles from Alexandria, less from the City and George-Town, and not more than three from the Great Falls of Potomak.

One tract containing 2481 acres, lying in the counties of Loudoun and Fauquier, called Ashby's bent. The soil is that which is said to be most favorable to plaster of Paris, well watered by several never failing streams issuing from the mountain. Part of this land is cleared and tenanted for lives.

One tract lying part in each of the above counties, containing 885 acres. Chatten's run passes through this tract and gives several valuable mill seats. The soil is similar to the above tract, and equally favorable to plaster of Paris.

A tract on the south fork of Bullskin, containing 1600 acres; one also, head of Evans' mill, containing 453 acres; and one on Wormley's line, containing 183 acres. These several tracts are in Jefferson (late Berkeley) county—the soil very similar in quality, and particularly adapted to the culture of tobacco, hemp, wheat and Indian corn situated twelve miles from Harper's ferry.

One tract containing 571 acres, in Frederick county. This land is in the vicinity of the last mentioned tracts, and equally valuable.

One tract in Hampshire county, containing 240 acres. This tract, though small, is extremely valuable—It lies on Potomak river, about 12 miles above the town of Bath (or Warm Springs,) and is in the shape of a horse-shoe, the river running almost round it; two hundred acres of it are rich low grounds, with a great abundance of the largest walnut and other trees, which, with the produce of the soil, might (by means of the improved navigation of the Potomak) be brought to a shipping port with more ease and at a smaller expence, than that which is transported only 30 miles by land.

One third part of 1119 acres in Nansemond county, near Suffolk, lying on the road from Suffolk to Norfolk, and on Nansemond river. This land is considered extremely valuable by those who are acquainted with it.

One tract in Charles county, Maryland, containing 600 acres—it is very level, and lies near the river Potomak.

One tract in Montgomery county, Maryland, containing 519 acres. This land lies about 30 miles above the City of Washington, not far from Kotoctan and is good farming land.

One tract in Pennsylvania, containing 234 acres. This land affords an exceeding good stand on Braddock's road from Fort Cumberland to Pittsburg, and a large quantity of natural meadow, fit for the scythe. It is distinguished by the appellation of the Great Meadows, where the first action with the French, in the year 1754 was fought.

One other tract on the Mohawk river, state of New-York, containing 1000 acres.

In North-Western Territory.

Three tracts lying on Little Miami, containing, 3051 acres.

In Kentucky.

On Rough creek, one tract containing 3000 acres; ditto, adjoining, 2000 acres.

Indisputable titles can be given for the above lands.

Lots in the City of Washington.

Two improved lots near the capitol, square 634. The improvements are, on each, an elegant three-story brick house.

Four other unimproved lots on the Eastern Branch, Nos. 5, 12, 13 and 14, in square 667. These lots are advantageously situated on the water.

Alexandria.

A few valuable lots in Alexandria, corner of Pitt and Prince-streets; three or four of which are let on ground rent at 3 dollars per foot.

Winchester.

One lot in town, of half an acre, adjoining Dr. Makay's, enclosed with a good post and rail fence and another lot in the commons of about six acres.

Bath, or Warm Springs.

Two well situated lots, on one of them is a small building large enough to accommodate one family.

The terms of sale will be made known by application to either of the subscribers.

Seventy Dollars Reward.

RAN-AWAY from the subscriber, ten or 12 miles from Hancock-town, on the Potomak, on the night of the 14th of December last, two negro men, slaves: SAUL is about 5 feet 5 inches high, of a yellow negro or a dark mulatto complexion, about nineteen years of age, bad countenance, heavy eye-brows; some marks about his mouth resembling a burn; has bushy hair; is artful and talkative; calls himself Saul Cornish; purchased by me from doctor Daniel Sullivan, of New-Market, Dorset county, Eastern Shore, Maryland. Had on a drab colored great coat, a blue top jacket, and blue trousers.

BEN is about five feet six inches high; has a good countenance, and is a bright mulatto; about twenty years of age: stout made; has worked at the carpenter's business—purchased for me on the 2d December last, by John Enser, from Barnett Johnson, near Peach Bottom Ferry, not far from Baltimore; where, probably, he will lurk. Ben had on a blue top jacket and trousers.

Forty dollars reward for Ben, and thirty dollars for Saul, will be given by my attornies, Messrs. Macdonald and Ridgely, of Baltimore, on the said slaves being lodged in Annapolis or Baltimore jail, or otherwise secured, so that my attornies can sell or dispose of them.
