NEW-YORK, March 21.

Extract of a letter from a merchant of Cape-Francois, to his correspondent in this city, dated March 3d, received via Baltimore.

"On the 19th ult. the blacks proceeded in four columns to attack the Cape. One of them took poſſeſſion of the hoſpital and fort Belair; the ſecond of the Gate Bouteille; and the third and fourth, who came down by the plantation D'Eſtaing and the fort Bourgeois, were to aſſail Haunt-de-Cap and the poſts that lie on the north ſide of the city: but acting without concert, the two firſt columns (which were waiting for the other two to commence the attack) were defeated before the arrival of the third and fourth. Having no way to retreat, becauſe Haut-he-Cap was untouched, they were ultimately obliged to fly by the top of the mountains, whither they were cloſely purſued as far as the rocks and precipices permitted our troops to go. Their loſs on this occaſion cannot be eſtimated, becauſe the greater part have carried their death-blow along with them.—One hundred and fifty dead bodies have been found on the field of action, and on the paths through which the fugitives retreated. Amongſt the priſoners (who were immediately ſhot!) were five officers, four of whom were hanged in the Market-place; the fifth has not yet undergone the fate of his companions, becauſe he expreſſed a willingneſs to make ſome important diſcoveries reſpecting a number of the friends of the blacks in the city, who are daily arreſted, and dealt with according to their deſerts.

"Tortuda has experienced another criſis, occaſioned by a gang of invaders, who ſucceeded in croſſing the channel. They were joined by the negroes of Labatut and ſome others, and have done much miſchief—Troops have been ſent againſt them. Mr. Labatut and his wife are ſaid to be detained in the woods by theſe brigands.

"Several parleys have been held lately between the government and a number of negroes in the country who proteſt againſt the conduct of Chriſtophe, Clervaux, &c. live peaceably on their reſpective plantations, and ſolicit the protection of the whites. Without relying on theſe profeſſions, the general takes the advantage of them by gaining time until he is able to take the field, which will ſhortly be the caſe, as the reinforcements from France begin to arrive. We expect ſoon to ſee better times."

Extract of a letter from the captain of an American veſſel, to his owner in this city, dated Cadiz, 18th January, 1803.

"I arrived here on the 15th inſtant, incog. by land from St. Lucar; which place I entered in diſtreſs on the 1ſt inſtant, having been off Cadiz harbor for a number of days in eight fathoms water, with the wind on ſhore, blowing a gale; and the weather ſo thick that I could not make the land; which obliged me to keep a very heavy preſs of ſail to keep off ſhore, which I did until the 29th of December, when finding myſelf in ſeven fathoms water, and ſtill blowing almoſt a hurricane on ſhore—and as I had carried away nearly the whole of my ſails and ſpars, I was juſt preparing for the laſt alternative of cutting away my maſts, and trying to ride out the gale with my anchors, when I ſaw an Engliſh brig that I had ſpoken the day before, who was alſo bound to Cadiz, and when ſhe bore away for the land, I hoiſted a ſignal and ſtood for her, when ſhe lay to for me at the riſque of the veſſel, and I followed her into St. Lucar; to which circumſtance and the goodneſs of capt. Errington, I am indebted for my life, and you for the veſſel and cargo. Fourteen veſſels were ſunk here, the moſt of them the night I got into St. Lucar. The Spaniards pay no attention to bills of health; and they will not give product to the poor people that are caſt away; who are obliged to build themſelves huts on the beach, until they can get away; and ſome of the cargoes that might be ſaved are left to periſh in the wrecks. I am afraid I ſhall be detained as I cannot ſee how to refit; and their quarantine laws are ſo ſevere that I cannot come here with the veſſel. Wine is 25 dollars the quarter caſk."

PHILADELPHIA, March 22.

Died, on Sunday morning laſt, at his houſe on Cheſnut-Hill, Alexander Mack, aged 91 years. He was a native of Germany, and came over to America in the year 1729. He was a member of the German Baptiſt ſociety, at Germantown, among whom he has been an eminent miniſter of the goſpel for upwards of ſeventy years. He was reſpected by all who knew him for his humility, his meekneſs and wiſdom, of whom it might truly be ſaid that he was a ſcribe well inſtructed in the kingdom of God, and was enabled in his preaching to bring out of his treaſures things new and old, in which his ſuperior abilities were acknowledged by all who knew him. The ſaving influence of that pure and holy goſpel that he preached, ſo nurtured his mind, that he became ripe for that kingdom and glory which awaits the faithful. To him, death had no terrors, for he had a hope, full of immortality, and of him it may with propriety be ſaid, bleſſed are the dead who die in the Lord, from henceforth, yea ſaith the ſpirit, that they may reſt from their labors, and their works do follow them.

BY THIS DAY's MAIL.

NEW-YORK, March 22.

Captain Orne, of the ſhip Eſſex, from Calcutta, came up to town yeſterday. She brings no marine intelligence. He informs us, however, that he touched at St. Helena on the 25th of January—While he was there, an Engliſh packet arrived in 8 days from the Cape of Good Hope, having been at the Cape only three days. On the day of her arrival, the Engliſh colors were to have been ſtruck, and thoſe of the Dutch were to have been hoiſted. The arrival of the Britiſh Packet, however, put a ſtop to this procedure—ſhe brought orders for the Engliſh to hold the place; and the Dutch troops were marched out of town. Nothing was talked of but another war. After the Dutch troops had been marched out, they mutinied, and offered to join the Engliſh. In this ſtate of confuſion, the packet left the Cape.

The Eſſex ſailed yeſterday afternoon for Salem.

From a London paper, January 26.

It has long been reported that the two Floridas have been ceded by the crown of Spain to the French republic. The laſt mails from Holland brought over the ſame intelligence in a more authentic form than any in which it had before arrived. A matter of more ſerious importance ſcarcely remains to be ſettled by the powers on the continent, as it will certainly have great influence on the proſperity and peace of the United States of America, at the ſame time that it will greatly endanger our poſſeſſions of the Weſt-Indies, in the event of renewed hoſtilities. The Miſſiſippi river, and all thoſe which run into it from the weſtern countries of the United States, and by which alone that valuable and delightful country communicates with the ocean, will now paſs through French territory, and be liable to all the capricious embargoes and embarraſſments that ſuch a government may be expected to bring on ſo intereſting a navigation. If the two Floridas were fully peopled, they could never maintain more than one million five hundred thouſand inhabitants; but then thoſe inhabitants would be ſupported by France, and ſo involve the country of America in diſſentions, out of which ſhe never could in any reaſonable time extricate herſelf. A jealouſy between France and America muſt ſpring up out of this tranſaction; and the end will, in all probability be that the country now ſuppoſed to be ceded will be yielded up to the United States, though that cannot be expected to happen without a violent conteſt, which will involve all thoſe ſtates that feel intereſted in the reſult.

An article from the Hague, January 24, ſays, "General Victor has diſpatched a courier to Paris, to demand the proviſions that were expected from Belgium, for the Louiſiana expedition. Had they arrived a week ago, the expedition would have been by this time at ſea. We are ſurpriſed that ſo much tardineſs has taken place in an affair which in the preſent circumſtances, ought to have been accelerated by all poſſible means. All the tranſports and frigates which compoſe the expedition are now ice-bound. If the froſt continues, they cannot leave the Meuſe until ſpring. It is confirmed that 3 or 4000 French troops will remain in our republic during the preſent year."

Arrived, ſch'r Nabby, Titcomb (mentioned in our laſt) of Newburyport, in 23 days from Point-Petre, Guadaloupe. From captain T. we have been favored with the following liſt of veſſels lying in Guadaloupe the 22d February: ſchooner Gulielma, captain Rudyard, had juſt arrived in 17 days from this port; ſhip Hunter, captain Toppin; brig Star, Newel; Nymph, Foſter; Elizabeth Coats, Renmick; Unicorn, Miller; Induſtry, Bailey; George, Tucker; Traveller, Motley; Rebecca, Davis; ſchooner Clara, Prentice, Boſton; Four Brothers, Rice; Adventure, Smith, Glouceſter; and ſchooner ——, Curb, Middletown; brig Philip, Martin, of Baltimore, time of ſailing uncertain, having been already detained 91 days by government after the time ſpecified in the contract, and having no payment. Brig Fair American, Manning; Nymph, Hodgkiſs, of Baltimore; ſchooner Nancy, Gordon, belonging to Charleſton, ready for ſea. All was tranquil at Guadaloupe.

Brig Bulah-Maria, Morris, from Curracoa, (mentioned yeſterday.) Left, the pilot-boat ſchooner Fizgig, Records, to ſail for New-York, in 4 days; ſchooners Triton, Thomas, of Boſton; Rachael, Stevens, of Alexandria; Montferrat, Arnold, of Baltimore; Wealthy, Ingraham, of New-York; brig Edward, Tyler, of do.; and brig ——, Dean, of Philadelphia. Flour was from 5 to 5 1-2 dollars, butter 12 1-2 cents, pork 12 and beef 10 dollars, hides 9 ſtivers. Paſſenger, captain Dorgan. The Bulah-Maria, loſt two men at Curracoa.

Extract of a letter dated March 14th, from a gentleman living in Northumberland, to his correſpondent in this city.

"I would obſerve, that I am convinced we had flour ſcraped laſt year, which would have paſſed at ſome other times. How this happens, I cannot account for, one thing is certain, that if your inſpection is continued ſo cloſe, you will inevitably drive a great part of the flour from your market to Baltimore. We find that all we ſend down the river to Baltimore, paſſes, although it is certainly in worſe order than what goes to your market. It certainly will leſſen the quantity very conſiderably at your market if your inſpectors continue to be ſo hard on the Suſquehanna flour. The loſs we ſuffer by ſcraping would nearly pay the freight from Columbia to Baltimore, and then we are certain of its all paſſing. I think the ſubject worthy your attention."

☞ A contributor to the Baltimore General Diſpenſary would recommend to his fellow-contributors, Doctor JOHN C. SNYDER, as a gentleman of experience and as deſerving their notice at the election of Phyſicians for that inſtitution.—Of experience, becauſe he has practiſed phyſic, ſurgery and midwifery upwards of 20 years, four or five of which he ſerved his country in the army and hoſpital in the late revolution;—deſerving their notice, becauſe he has a young and uncommonly numerous family, who look up to him for ſupport. He is beſides notoriouſly indefatigable in the purſuit of his profeſſion, a qualification indiſpenſibly neceſſary for a phyſician.

An ordinance (ſays a London paper) has been publiſhed in the Madrid Court Gazette, by which the town of Ferrol is permitted to employ its harbor for the importation of foreign goods and carry on a free trade to America, under the ſame privileges which are enjoyed by the ports of Corunna and Vigo.

Mr. Wilkie, the pilot who brought up the brig Fanny & Jemima, captain Glad, in 16 days from Havanna, has favored us with the following intelligence: The Jemima and Fanny, 4 days after leaving Havanna, ſtruck on Florida reef, in a violent gale of wind, ſprung her bowſprit, and received conſiderable damage in the rigging; making ſome water, ſhe was obliged to put into this port. The Fanny and Jemima was bound to Cowes and a market, having on board 600 boxes ſugar conſigned to the captain. The brig belongs to Turo and Price of Charleſton.

The ſch'r Fox, Hazard, arrived at Havanna in 15 days from this port, captain H. was knocked overboard after being out 5 days, and drowned. A Spaniſh frigate arrived at Havanna from New-Orleans, having on board all the prieſts and monks, who had left New-Orleans in conſequence of the French having taken poſſeſſion of it. A pirate ſloop is cruiſing off Vera Cruz, and has taken a Spaniſh brig bound to Europe, having on board 200,000 dollars. [New-York paper.]

City Commiſſioners' Office,

Baltimore, 24th March, 1803.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the city commiſſioners will meet on Tueſday next, the 29th inſtant, between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock, A. M. to aſcertain and eſtabliſh the north-weſt corner of New-ſtreet and Public-alley.

They will meet the ſame day, between the hours of eleven and twelve o'clock, to aſcertain and eſtabliſh the eaſternmoſt boundary line of a part of lots No. 23 and 24, on Baltimore-ſtreet, leaſed by Richard Croxall to Andrew Buchanan, on the 13th July, 1773; alſo, the weſternmoſt boundary line of a part of ſaid lots, conveyed by David Stewart to Iſaac Edmondſon, on the 2d day of November, 1801.

The commiſſioners will alſo meet on Wedneſday the 30th inſtant, between the hours of ten and eleven o'clock, to eſtabliſh the following boundaries, viz.

The 1ſt, 2d and 3d boundary lines of a parcel of land, conveyed by Bryan Philpot to Caleb Smith, on the 10th December, 1802; alſo, the ſouth-weſt corner of lot No. 465, it being the beginning of a parcel of land leaſed by John Cornthwait to William Aſkew, on the 1ſt day of January, 1781; alſo, the north-weſternmoſt interſection of Exeter and Duke ſtreets, and the ſouth-eaſt line of King George-ſtreet from Exeter-ſtreet to Harford-ſtreet.

Thoſe who are intereſted are requeſted to attend, with the ſurveyor, land marks and papers neceſſary for eſtabliſhing the aforeſaid boundaries.

By order of the board,

The Subſcriber offers for Sale,

The following deſirable REAL PROPERTY, on reaſonable terms and accommodating credit, viz.

A three-ſtory brick Warehouſe and Lot, ſituate on Pratt-ſtreet, adjoining the ſtore of Mr. William Liveſay, and directly oppoſite the new tobacco inſpection. The lot is 25 feet front by 80 feet deep; the brick warehouſe covers the front, and running back feet to a good two-ſtory frame warehouſe—the whole ſubject to 12*l.* ſterling per annum ground rent.

A beautiful Country Seat, formerly the property and reſidence of doctor Moore Falls, about two miles from the city, on the road leading to the Windſor mills, containing 52 acres, of which 45½ are in one body, all under good fence, the remaining 6½ being on the oppoſite ſide of the road, adjoining the ſeat of Job Smith, eſquire. On the firſt lot is erected an elegant and almoſt new and well-finiſhed two-ſtory white frame houſe, 42 feet front, three rooms below, with a paſſage; a large and commodious kitchen, two ſtair caſes; a large cellar; two piazzas, a neat one to the front houſe, the other to the back building; four lodging rooms above excluſive of the garret, which is plaiſtered, with partitions for ſtore room and ſervants' lodging; a dairy; an excellent pump and well of never leſs than 9 feet good water; an ice houſe, gardener's houſe, and a large ſtable for cows & horſes, with a ſpacious loft; an excellent garden of 1½ acre, incloſed by paling. Of this land 14 acres are good meadow, watered by a run paſſing below the lot, three patches of excellent clover in good order, an excluſive collection of every kind of good fruit trees, ſuch as pears, apples, plumbs, cherries and peaches, and ſhrubs of all ſorts. The ſituation is really romantic, extremely pleaſing and remarkably healthy. The man who takes care of it has, with his family, (which is numerous) lived upon it theſe two years—and for further teſtimony of its ſalubrity, reference may be had to Meſſrs. John H. Frieſe, Archibald Stewart, and John H. Behn, whoſe families have reſpectively occupied the premiſes. The 45¼ acres, with the improvements thereon, may be had ſeparately. The man having care of the place, will at any time ſhew the ſame to any perſon deſirous to purchaſe.

A Lot of 39 acres, (part of an eſtate called Stock Hill) 26 of which may be made excellent meadow at a ſmall expence, lying on the north ſide of the Philadelphia road, within two miles of this city, and about 300 yards to the weſtward of the road leading to the ſeat of David Harris, eſquire; 13 acres of it are heavily timbered, capable of yielding 7 or 800 cords of wood. There it on it a new frame houſe, occupied by Mr. John Sap, tenant, who will ſhew the whole premiſes.

Such of the foregoing property as may not be diſpoſed of at private ſale by Tueſday the 12th of April next, will on that day be offered at auction, at Meſſrs. Van Wyck and Dorſey's vendue ſtore, at half paſt 11 o'clock.

IMPORTANT!

LETTER from the honorable A. C. HANSON, Eſquire, chancellor of the ſtate of Maryland—

To the Editor of the Maryland Gazette.

SIR—For the good of the public, as well as from a deſire to do juſtice to a man of merit and genius, I requeſt you to publiſh the following caſes:

A young man in my family, who had read Dr. Hamilton's advertiſement, and who had, for ſome time, as he ſays, experienced the ſymptoms deſcribed by doctor, as indicating the preſence of worms in the human ſtomach or inteſtines, reſolved, without conſulting any perſon whatever, to try the doctor's remedy.

He accordingly procured a box of the Lozenges. Laſt evening he took 4 of the yellow, and this morning he took an equal number of the brown kind. They did not, as he ſays, operate harſhly, except one ſtool, when he felt conſiderable griping, and when there came from him a worm, perfectly white, about a yard in length, as broad as his little finger, and having a number of joints, about an inch or 1¼ of an inch diſtant from each other.

Beſides this worm, he ſays there came from him a conſiderable number of flat worms, about ½ of an inch in length, and nearly the ſame in breadth. He did not think of counting them, but he ſays there were more than 20.

I regret extremely that I had not an opportunity of ſeeing the tape worm; the young man not having, as he ought to have done, taken meaſures for preſerving it, and the ſimple ſervant girl who attended his chamber, having, before I had heard of his taking the medicine, thrown it and the other worms into the neceſſary, not thinking it of conſequence to take care of them. This girl, however, and another ſervant concur with him reſpecting the worms which appeared in the veſſel; and the tape worm, they ſay, was alive, ſo far as to have motion after it came from him.

It is needleſs to deſcribe his ſymptoms, as he ſays they were exactly ſuch as are deſcribed by the doctor.

Another young man of my family alſo, without any conſultation or advice, one evening and morning, about three months ago, took ſeven Lozenges, which operated powerfully. No worm came from him; but in the courſe of two or three days, he was quite well, and has ſince had a conſiderable acceſſion of fleſh and ſtrength.

In ſhort, although I, like many others, have been incredulous with reſpect the virtue of Hamilton's Lozenges; I am, at length perfectly convinced of their great efficacy and utility.

As I cannot reaſonably be ſuppoſed to have any motive, except a conſideration for public good, for publiſhing theſe caſes, I flatter myſelf that I ſhall not incur ridicule or cenſure from thinking men, for adding my ſecond-hand teſtimony to the evidence of the numerous reſpectable characters, who have aimed to render juſtice to Dr. Hamilton (with whom I have not the ſlighteſt acquaintance) and to give important information to their fellow creatures.

I think it not amiſs to add, that, from the healthy appearance of the young man, who has been ſo greatly and quickly relieved, I ſhould have ridiculed his ſymptoms and apprehenſions, had he communicated them to me before he took the Lozenges. The fact, I am perſuaded, is, that moſt young perſons, who are, from time to time, diſordered without a viſible or apparent cauſe, are afflicted by worms.

A. C. HANSON.

Annapolis, Sept. 18, 1802.

THE Medicine above alluded to has received the approbation of reſpectable gentlemen in every ſituation in life, and in all parts of the United States: it has ſtood the teſt of 5 years extenſive experience, and, it is believed on good grounds, that nearly Two Hundred Thouſand perſons have received benefit therefrom—from the infant to the aged of both ſexes, and under every circumſtance; and notwithſtanding the attempts of ſeveral envious perſons to impoſe counterfeits on the public, yet the preſent demand for HAMILTON'S WORM DESTROYING LOZENGES is much greater than it has been at any former period; and it is probable that no advertiſed medicine ever acquired an equal reputation.
