Her intereſt is to remain at peace with us She knows that ſhe can gain nothing by joining France—but ſhe is not ſtrong enough to reſiſt the conſular power; and Bonaparte is, no doubt, eager to preſs into the war the wealth and reſources of the poſſeſſions of of the mines of Mexico and Peru!

A Dublin and Waterford mail arrived this morning, but brought no news. Dublin continues tranquil; and letters from the north communicate the moſt favorable accounts of the diſpoſition of the public mind in that quarter. The accounts from Cork ſtate, that the period of the riſing in Dublin, was well known in Cork, where the diſaffected publicly declared on the 24th, that the 23d was a glorious day for Ireland. One of the perſons taken up has turned king's evidence. Several more arreſts have taken place in Cork and the neighborhood.

The Iſle of Elba will, we truſt, be again in our poſſeſſion. Lord Nelſon was left concentrating his ſhips and making preparations for an attack, as was ſuppoſed, upon the Iſle.

A notice was ſtuck up yeſterday morning at the poſt-office, ſigned by the ſecretary, Mr. Freeling, that the communication with France, by the way of Dover and Calais, is at an end; and that a mail will henceforth be diſpatched twice a week for Gottenburg, in Sweden.

PRIVATE CORRESPONDENCE.

CORK, Auguſt 5.

The diſaffected did not openly avow themſelves here. It is well known that their determination was to adopt the ſame rebellious proceeding as their brethren in Dublin. The greateſt exertions are making here by the magiſtracy, yeomanry, &c. to prevent ſurprize. Many men of good property are become inhabitants of our priſons, which are well guarded; among theſe are the two Drinanes, one of whom is ſaid to be worth two hundred thouſand pounds; Simon Donavan, and Todd Jones, of the North, whom I before mentioned; Dr. Callahan and his ſon, of Clognakelty; no relations whatever to the worthy phyſician of this city; a Mr. Buck, from the weſt, who had been for ſome time agent to Arthur O'Connor, and a Mr. Finn. It does not follow becauſe theſe perſons are taken up, that they are guilty; but conſiſtently with the conduct of the preſent mild government, their conduct will be fairly inveſtigated, and none but the guilty will ſuffer.

PARIS, Auguſt 1.

Letters from Bruſſels ſay, that M. Lombard, privy counſellor to the king of Pruſſia had offered the mediation of his court, conjointly with that of Ruſſia, to endeavor to affect a pacification between France and England. Time muſt ſee what foundation there is for this intelligence.

An advice boat, which eſcaped the vigilance of the Engliſh cruiſers, arrived on the 9th ult. in the Texel from the Cape of Good Hope. In the diſpatches which ſhe brought it is ſtated that every thing there is in the beſt condition, and the ſettlement is prepared to make a ſtrong reſiſtance againſt any hoſtile attack. The garriſon of the Cape was never ſo ſtrong in any former war, as it has been ſince the month of December laſt, when governor Janſen arrived with about ten thouſand men. Several detachments of theſe troops were intended for the Eaſt-Indies, but circumſtances rendered it neceſſary to retain them at the Cape.

DUBLIN, July 25.

Lord Kilwarden had been ſent for from his country houſe, and was on his way to the caſtle to attend a privy council, when he was murdered.

An Engliſhman and his wife, of the name of Cater, coming into town from Naas, the former was dragged out of the carriage, and piked in ſeveral places; but the military appearing at a diſtance, the rebels left him half dead, after taking from him 700l. he happened to have in his pockets; he is, however, ſtated to be in a fair way of recovery.

In one place in the Liberty was found a large quantity of gunpowder and 700 pikes.

A letter from Dublin of the 25th ſays, "On Sunday morning the dead bodies of the rebels were taken up in the ſtreets, and a great number of cars were employed in carrying them to the caſtle-yard for the purpoſe of having them identified. In the number were ſeveral women, who were found with pikes and ſtones in their hands. One corpſe particularly attracted attention. It was the body of an old man, upwards of 70, a ſhoe-maker, well known in the liberty. He was bare-footed and bare-legged. He had been ſhot through the body, and lay upon the ground with a large knife in each hand. The dead bodies appeared to be of the loweſt orders of ſociety."

And on the 29th, near the mouth of the Miſſiſippi, brig William, Royland, from the Bay of Honduras, out 22 days, for New-York.

The Eclipſe, capt Philips, of this port, was captured at one of the native ports in India, in the month of Febuary, by the Britiſh government ſhip the Cartier, which was fitted out at Bencoolen for the purpoſe. This ſhip alſo had ſeized the Harmony of Philadelphia, under pretence of an infringement of the Britiſh treaty. The crews of both ſhips were taken out, and the veſſels carried down to the Britiſh ports. The Eclipſe had taken on board an Engliſh gentleman as paſſenger from Bencoolen, who had among his baggage 4 cheſts Opium—and the Britiſh pretended ſhe had violated the treaty in diſpoſing of this artical among the natives and with a view of making the ſeizure the Cartier had purſued her throughout the whole extent of the coaſt of Sumatra.

Captain Goodrich informs that the day previous to his departure from Liverpool, (13th Auguſt) a report was in circulation that Bonaparte meditated a deſcent upon Egypt, and that the forces collected for the avowed purpoſe of invading England, would be employed in the expedition. Admiral Truguet is appointed to the command of the French fleet at Breſt, and admiral Bruix to the flotilla at Bologne.

A letter from Hull ſays, "Captain Riddle, of the Creſcent, of North Shields, from Memel to Waterford, (Ireland) reports, that on the 7th ultimo, (July) he paſſed through a fleet of Dutch doggers; he counted 70 ſail, under convoy of two brigs, who hoiſted Pruſſian colors. Captain Riddell put into Stromneſs the following day, and informed a lieutenant, who commanded there, of the circumſtance, who immediately ſent off an expreſs to the admiralty. It is ſaid they had French troops on board."

The ſchooner Atalanta, from Curracoa for this port, laden with indigo, &c. belonging to Mr. Holthuyſen, was captured on the 11th inſtant by the Britiſh ſloop of war Driver, and ordered for Halifax, under the pretext that the veſſel and cargo were Dutch property. Mr. Dixon, the mate, was put on board the brig Sally, Norton, which arrived at this port yeſterday from New-Orleans.

Captain Farley, of the ſchooner Good-Intent, from Jamaica, informs us that a deputation from Cape Nichola-Mole arrived at Martha Brae on the 12th of Auguſt, propoſing to ſurrender the place to the Britiſh, which was rejected. All was tranquil at Jamaica.

Admiral Latouche, in the Duguay de Trouin, having in company the Duqueſne, of 74 guns, and a frigate, took advantage of a heavy gale of wind, and got out of Cape-Francois. About the 10th July the Vanguard and the Elephant (both 74 gun ſhips) and two frigates fell in with and engaged admiral Latouche. The Vanguard captured the Duqueſne, and took her into Jamaica; the other two French veſſels kept up a running fight, and got off.

The brig Diſcovery, Darrel, formerly of this port, has been converted into a privateer; and about the laſt of July had a ſkirmiſh off Rocky Point with a French privateer of 10 guns and 120 men, which ſhe beat off, after killing the captain and ſeveral of his crew.

Prices Current at Liverpool, Auguſt 6.

Grain, buſhel, wheat 7s. 6d. to 8s. rye and Indian corn, none.

Flour, bbl. ſuperfine 29 to 30s. 6d. fine 28 to 29s. Since the date of our laſt price current, we compute that about 30,000 barrels flour have arrived; and in conſequence of the low price at which this article is offered by the holders, the demand is conſiderable at the quoted prices. Whilſt we continue to have ſo very favorable a proſpect with reſpect to the growing grain, we do not look for any advance in proviſions.

Rice, cwt. new, in bond, 33 to 34s. duty paid, 39 to 40s. Several ſmall parcels have of late arrived, and prices are rather giving way.

Aſhes, cwt. pot, new, Boſton, 45 to 46s. New-York 44 to 45s. pearl 45 to 46s. The demand for both pot and pearl aſhes continues very limited; and, although our ſtocks are but ſmall, we look for a further decline in the price.

Quercitron Bark, cwt. Inferior 10 to 11s. Middling 12 to 13s. fine 15 18s.—This article, we believe, continues out of uſe; and as the ſtocks in the kingdom have accumulated to an enormous extent, we are much at a loſs to know how the preſent ſtocks, with what is expected to arrive, will be diſpoſed of, even ſhould the former demand revive.

Bees wax, cwt. 200 to 220s. For the laſt three months we have had very conſiderable arrivals of this article, and prices are likely to decline.

Naval ſtores, cwt. Turpentine 20 to 22s. Pitch 10 to 11s. Roſin 14 to 15s. Tar 19 to 20s. per barrel. There is very little Turpentine, either in the importers or manufacturer's hands; but the latter are averſe to giving a higher price than 21 to 22s. per cwt. under an idea that the high prices will induce conſiderable ſhipments to be made to this port. The future currency will in a great meaſure be governed by our ſupplies. The ſpeculators in tar are now offering their ſtocks, and we calculate that there are about 5000 barrels now in the market; a quantity, with moderate arrivals, ſufficient to ſupply our demand for ſome time to come. If our further ſupplies come freely forward, we expect a reduction in the price.

Staves, W. O. 1000, barrel New-York 11 to 15l. hhd. do. 20 to 24l. Pipe do. 30 to 35l. Our ſupplies have of late exceeded the demand, and prices are declining. We expect a ſtill further reduction will take place.

Tobacco, lb. duty unpaid, York and James River 3 1-2 to 7d. Rappahannock 3 1-4 to 6 1-4d. Potomak 3d. to 6d. Stemmed 5 to 7 1-2d. Maryland brown 3 3-4 to 4 3-4. Coloury 5 to 6d. Kitefoot 6 1-2 to 8d. Owing to the obſtacles which our trade has met with ſince the commencement of hoſtilities, the demand for tobacco, is limited; but it is not offered at lower prices; and if we have ſoon a free trade to the Elbe, &c. we expect the preſent quotations will be ſupported.

Cotton, lb. New-Orleans, 11 to 15d. Georgia Upland, 12 to 13d. Sea-Iſland, fine, 33 to 35d. Middling, 24 to 30d. Inferior, 18 to 24d. Saw-ginned, 18 to 21d.

Arrived, off Dover, Young Factor, Gardner, New-York.

Cowes, Hero, Cole, Virginia.

Falmouth, Rebecca, Frazer, do. Union, Merrihaw and Vengeance, Rea, Baltimore.

Briſtol, Sally, Rowe, America.

Liverpool, Mentor, Gibbs, Philadelphia; Union-Iſland; Frazer, Charleſton; Seven-Siſters, Childs, Wilmington; James Chandler, Miſſiſippi; Juliana, Clark, Virginia; Venus, Maſſachuſetts; Sally, Ray, New-York; Mars, Rogers, ditto; Two Pollies, Boſton; Spaniſh Lady, N. Orleans; and Mary, Simanton, ditto; Three Friends, Little, Maſſachuſetts; Flora, Hart, New-Orleans; Marietta, Williams, ditto; Scipio, Holſton, Virginia, Carolina, Motley, Philadelphia.

Sailed, Eleanor, Shaw, Maſſachuſetts.

Cleared, Portland, Crabtree, Portland, and Maſſachuſetts.

Plymouth, Auguſt 4. Arrived, the American ſhip Alexander, Hodgſon, laden with coffee, cotton and ſugar, from the Iſle of France, bound to Marſeilles, detained by the Victorieuſe ſloop of war.

Dublin, Auguſt 5. An American ſhip the Paragon, from New-York, ſtruck on the North Bull, on Wedneſday, and received no damage, and it was hoped would be got off the next tide.

London, Auguſt 5. Arrived, ſhip Henry, Jacks, Virginia; ſhip Wanſanſet, Rundle, Porthmouth, New-Hampſhire.—Cleared, ſhip Venilla, Glover, Boſton; ſhip Governor, Chamberlain, Virginia.

FEDERAL GAZETTE.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 19.

The ſhip Redreſs, Norton, from Baltimore for Cowes, was ſpoken Sept. 4, in lat. 38, long. 69, out 5 days.

The brig Amphitrite, from Alexandria for St. Bartholomew, was ſpoken on the 27th of Auguſt, in lat. 28.

Extract of a letter from Liverpool to a merchant in New-York, dated Auguſt 6.

"The conduct purſued by the French has induced our government to blockade the Elbe and the Weſer, and as this for the preſent puts an end to the intercourſe with the continent, through the important channels of Hamburg and Bremen, we continue to experience an extreme dulneſs in all articles of export. Some ſhipments are about to be made to Holland in American veſſels, and to the port of Tonningen, but it does not ſeem to be expected that theſe will be extenſive. The ſales for ſome time paſt have been very inconſiderable, and there being no demand, the quotations are nearly nominal. The proſpect of a favorable change is very uncertain, it depends much on the opening of a vent for exportation, and how ſoon this may take place it is difficult to foreſee, as it is not known what part the northern powers will act under the exiſting circumſtances. In the mean time our merchants ſuffer ſeverely from a ſcarcity of money, and if the want of demand for produce continues, we ſhould not be ſurpriſed to ſee ſome further decline, in conſequence of the attempts to force ſales. With reſpect to the ſtocks on hand, thoſe of foreign Muſcovado ſugar are ſmall, but of coffee we have received conſiderable ſupplies through capture, and in this way they are likely to be further encreaſed, as well as of ſugar.

"The market is well ſupplied with mahogany and very dull.

"The quantity of cotton taken out of the market during laſt month, ſcarcely exceeds 4000 bags, and within the ſame time the importations from America have been equal to 10,000; our ſtock is therefore encreaſed, and of Uplands and Sea Iſlands it is very conſiderable; but the proportion of good quality of both is ſmall; the ſtock of New-Orleans is not large, but further ſupplies daily arrive. The general dullneſs that prevails has had an unfavorable influence on the manufacturing trade, the conſumption at this moment is materially leſs than it was before the war, the decreaſe is believed to be fully one third. Upland Georgia is the deſcription moſt generally uſed at preſent, on account of its cheapneſs enabling the manufacturers to keep their works employed at the leaſt expence; but the demand is limited. For Sea Iſlands there is ſcarcely any demand; ſome of the holders endeavor to relieve themſelves from their ſtocks by forcing ſales, and in this way we underſtand that a parcel of good quality was ſold lately at 2s. 4d. per lb. the future currency almoſt entirely depends on circumſtances occurring favorable or otherwiſe to a general improvement in trade."
