For Sale,

A TRACT of LAND in Baltimore county, containing about six hundred acres; 4 hundred of which are supposed to be in wood. On this tract there is a handsome piece of meadow, and a young thriving apple orchard. This land is about 28 miles from the city of Baltimore, and not far from Colonel O'Donnell's country residence purchased of Mr. William Buchanan.

Also,

A TRACT of LAND containing about three hundred acres, about 14 miles from the city of Baltimore, west of Randall's town. On this last mentioned tract there is a stone dwelling house, just finished, with convenient cellars, two rooms and a passage on the first floor, three rooms and a passage on the second floor, and a garret; a new stone stable, corn house and coach house; an overseer's house with two rooms, lately repaired at the expence of two hundred dollars; kitchen and other out houses, an excellent apple orchard, with other good fruit trees, and a good garden.

On both places there is water, not exceeded in the county; and good clover lots. No place can exceed them in respect of health. There is a proportionate part of woodland on the last place.

I will permit the purchasers to seed the ensuing fall, or I would seed for them. The dwelling house on the last mentioned farm might be immediately taken possession of by the purchaser. Presuming that no person will purchase without viewing the premises, I do not go into detail.

Both of the above places are convenient to mills: there is a mill not more than a quarter of a mile from the last mentioned place; a good neighborhood, and the Episcopal and Presbyterian churches within five miles. An indisputable title will be given on the payment of the purchase money.

Now open,

THE GRAND HISTORICAL PAINTING

OF THE

Battle of Lodi,

Which was fought between the French & Austrian armies;

DESCRIPTIVE SKETCH.

On the right hand side, is a correct view of the town of Lodi, from the gate of which the celebrated bridge commences. To a considerable extent round the city, is a fine plain, deversified with villas, farms, cottages, and beautiful woods. The Adda parts this charming Champaigne; on the nearer side of which are seen the remains of the old fortifications, which the Austrians turned into barracks for their soldiers. The Austrian troops are clothed in white; their hussars in blue, with red cloaks. The Neapolitans in red, with yellow facings. The French are distinguished by green habits, long-haired helmets, blue coats, large hat, with national cockades. In the centre of the picture, BONAPARTE appears on a white charger, superbly caparisoned; he is giving directions to citizen Marmot, his aid-de-camp, the officer who afterwards so greatly signalized himself, and had a horse killed under him. General Lasnes is to the right of the commander in chief, on the roan horse; and general Berthier on the bay, is ordering his division to repel the Neapolitans, who are attempting to stem the impetuosity of the troops which are pursuing the Austrians. General Beaulieu, (commander of the Austrian army) on a chesnut horse, surrounded by his staff, is seen on an eminence, directing that a regiment of chasseurs a cheval should strengthen the cavalry destined to cover the retreat. Below is a squadron of hussars protecting the left flank of the retreating army against the French cavalry, which had crossed the river much above the town, at a spot scarcely fordable, under the command of general Bayrand. As a last refuge, the Austrians are firing out of the doors and windows of their barracks on the French, who are pressing forward with loud outcries of mutual encouragement. Bonaparte, as was said before, leads their van, and is followed by that standard, which has hitherto been considered as the palladium of their conquests, and which was lost at Alexandria, and taken by the British troops. On and near this spot, seem rallied all the horrors of the action. Generals Angereau and Massena are giving orders for a party to seize the guns of the enemy on the right, whose fire infiladed the bridge. Death exhibits itself in every terrible shape. The rails of the bridge give way, and the living with the dead, are precipitated into the river. Gen. Monier, on the brown horse, and gen. Dessaix (who has lost his hat in the heat of the battle) are stimulating the soldiers to despise the horror produced by the killed and wounded, which strew their path, and trample over them to victory. General Rusca on the black horse, in the centre of the bridge, is leading forward another part of the irresistable column: its rear is seen passing under the Adda gate; near which is a half-demolished statue; at the commencement of the battle, Bonaparte took his station on its pedestal, and whilst, under a heavy discharge of artillery, he was making observations with his glass, a cannon-ball carried off the head of the figure. On the Lodi side of the river, the rear of the French army line its banks, impatient for the signal to join ther victorious comrades.

Which may be seen for 50 Cents.

Painted on the same grand scale as the Storming of Serengapatam, by that celebrated young artist, ROBERT KER PORTER, (containing 3120 square feet of canvas) is open every day from 9 o'clock till dusk, in a building erected for that purpose, in Stillhouse-street, Baltimore, near Christ-church, being nearly opposite the dwelling-house of Jehu Bouldin, city surveyor.

☞ As a companion to the Painting, may be had at the above place, an accurate Sketch of the Battle of Lodi, to which is prefixed a striking Likeness of BONAPARTE---price 25 cents.

Valuable Property.

FOR SALE,

THE PLANTATION whereon I reside, containing about 331½ acres of land, four and a half miles from the city of Baltimore, adjoining the lands of general S. Smith, Daniel Bowley, Richd. S. Thomas, and Robt. Walsh, esquires. On this land are erected, a comfortable Dwelling-House, a convenient stone Barn 33 feet in width and 75 feet long, a Still-House with 2 stills and a Spring-House, the lower part stone, the upper part brick, exclusive of several other tenements, and every other necessary out-house—good apple and peach Orchards, of excellent fruit—also, good kitchen Gardens.—About half the land is clear, the other half is young thriving wood—a considerable quantity of meadow, a constant stream of water running through it. The upland is kind for all sorts of grain. This property is a healthy, handsome and pleasant situation.

ALSO,

That well-known, valuable FARM, called Grace's Quarter, situated in Middle-river Neck, at the conflux of Gunpowder river and Salt-Petre creek, by which two waters it is almost surrounded. It contains about 424 acres of arable wood and meadow land. For fertility of soil, this place is equalled by few. To point out the number of natural advantages attending it, would far exceed the bounds of an advertisement. There is on it a good comfortable House, almost new, with Kitchen, Negro Quarter, Spring-House, with necessary out-houses, and a large frame Barn (erected last summer) with stables, cow-houses, &c. underneath it—likewise, two apple-orchards, two peach ditto of the best of fruit, with cherry and plumb-trees, and about 20 remarkably fine pear-trees, from the fruit of which alone considerable sums have been made. In fact, no place in the country can be better situated, either for the grazier or planter, for nearly the whole of the farm can be put into meadow, at a small expence. The fishery on this place, in the season, is extremely profitable; and the shores are lined with wild fowl of all kinds. It has the advantage of an elegant prospect of the river and adjacent country, and good water. The distance to Baltimore by land is sixteen miles, and by water four or five hours sail. These properties are objects well worthy the attention of any person or persons inclined to purchase landed estates so near the growing and flourishing city of Baltimore. It is unnecessary to add any thing further, as it is supposed those inclined to purchase will first view the premises. I will give a bargain of the above-mentioned property, if speedy application is made.

I likewise offer the following town-property for sale:

A Lot of Ground, fronting on Paca-street 49 feet, binding a 10 feet alley 140 feet, to a 20 feet alley. This lot may be divided into two good building lots.

A Lot opposite the new market, fronting on Louisiana-street 24 feet, and running in depth 60 feet to the before-mentioned 10 feet alley.

A Lot fronting on Hanover-street 21 feet, running deep 150 feet to Liverpool-alley,—whereon is erected a brick house and stables, now in the tenure of Mrs. Elizabeth Guthrey.

A Warehouse on Bowly's wharf, 24 feet in front and 54 feet in depth, running to a dock, in tenure of Messrs. Joshua & George Ward.

A Lot of Ground, fronting on Fish-street 124 feet, and in a line with Holliday-street 46 feet, running to a canal whereon is erected a soap and candle manufactory (utensils all complete) now in the tenure of Mr. George Don.

Whoever is inclined to purchase any of the above-mentioned property, is requested to call on me, or leave a line at my store, 30, north Gay-street, which will be attended to.
