The Subscriber,

TO save the trouble of particular communications, to those gentlemen in the different quarters of the state, who have been so kind as to take charge of subscription papers for the work in which he is engaged, on land affairs, takes this method of notifying them, that the undertaking is in such forwardnes, as to require that his dispositions for publication should be conclusively settled by the end of August next. As the general approbation and encouragement which this design has received, leave but little doubt of his obtaining a moderate compensation for his labor, he does not mean to hazard much for the possibility of greater advantage, but intends to limit the number of copies to be printed, very nearly to that of the subscriptions which shall have been received by the period above-mentioned. He therefore respectfully requests those gentlemen, to forward to him, in the course of the said month of August, either the subscription papers in their hands, or transcripts of the signatures thereon, (the latter in preference, where there may still remain an expectation of augmenting the lists) and that in the mean time, they would take all convenient means of announcing and explaining the undertaking to their fellow-citizens, in order that he may be enabled, with some degree of exactness, to ascertain and provide for the real demand for the work.

NEW-YORK, May 2.

Last evening the election for members of congress and the state legislature terminated in this city in favor of the democratic candidates, by a majority, as far as could be ascertained last night at 11 o'clock, of about 600 votes. The democrats had calculated on an IMMENSE majority. This has been the most contested election ever known here. The federalists have made a noble stand; and there is no doubt of their success at the ensuing yearly election.

Extract of a letter just received from an inspector of one of the polls in a town in West Chester, where the electors were almost to a man democratic.

"Bloody work this election! We took in four tickets yesterday, and I suppose shall take about the same number to day!"

GERMAN PAPERS.

The papers by the ship Silenus, from Amsterdam, have been returned by the translator: though they are as late as the 22d of March, they contain but little news. The following articles, however, are deemed worthy of insertion.

AUGSBURG, March 3.

The head-quarters of the grand French army left this city to-day. Marshal Ney is expected here the day after to-morrow.

MUNCHEN, March 3.

Yesterday marshals Ney and Davoust arrived in this city.

The French have taken possession of Wilzburg, in the name of the king of Bavaria.

FRANKFORT, March 8.

On the 3d instant the grand French army arrived in this city from ugsburg, and the next day the city was taken possession of for the king of Bavaria. The head-quarters of this army were lately at Ulm.

All the French troops in Bavaria, & those that were stationed at the Leck, are all drawing through Swabia back towards the Rhine. The corps of general Marmont is marching towards Istrian Dalmatia, where France is collecting a considerable body of troops, on account of its contiguity to Corfu, where there are a number of French troops.

The French are now busily employed in transporting the spoils taken from the Austrians, through Swabia to Strasburg.

NAPLES, February 24.

Since the occupancy of this city by the French, all correspondence with Sicily as well as Calabria has been prohibited. The post, however, goes regularly.

NEWS FROM ENGLAND.

From London papers to the 15th of March, received by the late arrivals.

There is reason to believe that the British government has issued orders for a careful examination of the crews of British men of war, and for the immediate release of all Americans found among them.

The French have not diminished the number of their troops in Germany. They have merely changed their positions. New divisions of the German territory are making, so that all may feel their dependence on France.

The Russians keep their armies formed and in perfect readiness for operations.

The official account of the capture of the Cape of Good Hope had reached England. It was said Mr. Tierney was to be appointed governor. In the capture, the Dutch had 700 men killed and wounded; the British, 240. body of Dutch troops still remained in the interior.
