planations relative to these preparations, and that he was informed by the Reis Effendi, that such preparations were necessary for restoring and preserving peace in the interior of the Turkish empire. A considerable Turkish fleet is fitting out.

The promises and threats of France and Prussia to induce Denmark to assist in excluding our flag from the Baltic, have been hitherto unavailing; the Danish ministry insist on a rigid neutrality; and it is probable that she will succeed in maintaining it.

There was a report on Saturday that gen. Mack had been convicted of high treason, and condemned to suffer the pain of death.

By the Hamburg Mail received on Monday morning, we have accounts from Berlin to the 20th inst. which entirely discredit the report that prevailed in London, on Saturday and Sunday, of the death of the king of Prussia.

Baron Hardenberg, it appears, has at length formally resigned. Count Haugwitz has been appointed minister of foreign affairs.

The intelligence of the detention and capture of Prussian ships has produced considerable agitation both at Berlin & Hamburgh; where, however, hopes continue to be entertained that the Prussian rivers will not be blockaded!

Permission, as it is called, is said to have been granted to the French to pass thro' the Austrian territory, and 40,000 men are on their march towards Dalmatia.

The German papers contain no further news from Naples, than that prince Joseph is to make a visit to upper Italy for a short time. This looks as if he did not feel himself comfortably accommodated in the former country.

Private letters from Hamburg, are said to state, that Austria has declared in favor of Russia. This report is not sanctioned by any of the German papers.

Arrived, ship Henrietta, Nichols, Liverpool, 58 days; brigs Eliza. Stotesbury, St. Domingo, 25; Drummond, Drummond, Norfolk, 7; Lydia, Webb, Bordeaux, 36; Callisto, Tyler, Lisbon, 45; Marry Daly, St. Pierres, 20; schr. Resolution, Griffing, Baltimore. 11 days.

Cleared, brig Rebecca, Wilson, Lisbon and a market; schr. William and Mary, Tupper, St. Jago-de-Cuba.

FEDERAL GAZETTE.

FRIDAY, MAY 30.

Very late and interesting news will be found detailed in the columns under the mail head. We have laid aside our selections from London papers to the 13th received last evening by the Herschel, to give place to those of a much more recent date received by this morning's mail.

After a tedious suspense, though a much shorter one than might rationally have been expected, we have obtained an insight into the views and principles of the new ministry of England; as well as into the dispositions of the most consequential continental powers. If our present accounts from England are to be accredited, and we believe they may be in a considerable degree, Talleyrand, as was to have been expected, has extended the treacherous hand of fellowship and peace to his cousin Fox, and it is a circumstance of congratulation to this and every other country in possession of its independence, that his overtures have been unhesitatingly rejected; and that an active and vigorous co-operation between England, Russia, Sweden and perhaps Austria and Denmark, will be maintained against the overwhelming influence of France.

England has declared war against Prussia, and is equipping an expedition of 12,000 men to the continent to co-operate with the Swedes. The whole cabinet and nation are resolved on war.

Russia inflamed, though not worsted by the battle of Austerlitz, and stung by the philippics of Bonaparte, is gathering her forces like a thickening tempest on the confines of Turkey and Prussia, and seems disposed, while she protects the impotency of the one, to punish severely the treachery of the other. She is already said to have taken possession of the important city of Warsaw, in Polish Prussia. In the south of Europe, she has anticipated the French in getting a footing on the east side of the Adriatic, on the road to Constantinople. The position which they have occupied on the Cattaro, with 10,000 men, is said to be highly important. It was ceded at the treaty of Presburg by Austria to France, and appears to have been left in the hands of the former a long time after it became the property of the latter, in order that, by the conduct which its garrison should pursue, it might be ascertained whether Austria would adhere to her old allies or slavishly defend the territory which she had dastardly lost. The event was very probably such as was hoped. The Austrian garrison made no resistance; and though neither bound nor able to make any, it is a sufficient pretext with Bonaparte for war measures against Austria, who though smitten to the dust and smarting under the scourge of an unfeeling foe, was guilty of being suspected of silently meditating the means of retrieving her disasters. The archduke Charles was thought to be marshalling the forces of the monarchy for something like offence or defence—but a country once under the foot of Bonaparte, must not presume to look up, much less to rise up. In his tender mercy, therefore, he is said to have ordered the fortifications of Braunau to be re-occupied, his troops to retrace their steps towards Vienna, and the Austrian prisoners who were returning, to be retained.

Such are the political aspects of the moment. The commercial world is not less convulsed, and as the contest from the rupture with Prussia, has become more anti-commercial than ever, the old channels of trade between Europe and this country, are likely to be entirely broken up. We do not find, however, that the ports of Holland have been officially declared to be blockaded, as reported last evening, but a great number of American vessels, among which are six from this port, have been already sent into England, for attempting to enter those ports as well as the rivers officially stated to be blockaded.

Fine flour at London, April 28, 75s. to 80s.

Stocks—Consols 60 1-8—Omnium 2 1-2.

Our London papers (says the N. Y. Even. Post of May 27,) came to hand so late that we can give little more this evening than ship news. Tomorrow we shall present our readers with a Message from his majesty with a very interesting speech of Mr. Fox on the occasion. A declaration and protest by the king against Prussia is contained in the same paper and will be given.

In the Glascow Courier of the 23d of April, we receive a set of resolutions entered into by "The society of ship Owners of Great-Britain," for the purpose of preventing "any further suspension of the navigation laws of Great-Britain," more particularly those suspensions in favour of admitting American vessels to trade with their colonies. The resolutions will appear at length to-morrow.

The number of Prussian vessels seized amount to 500.

Captain Brown, from La-Vera-Cruz, arrived at New-York, informs, that a shock of an earthquake, which threw down a church and killed several hundred people, was felt there about the middle of April, & at the distance of 90 miles from the city. La-Vera-Cruz and the adjacent ports were well fortified and strongly garrisoned, and no apprehensions were entertained of an attack from any quarter.

The schooner Amazon, from Baltimore, bound to Barbados, was spoken on the 4th instant, in lat. 27, 6, N. long. 61, W. out 10 days.

Mr. Wm. Nicholson, of Richmond, took passage with captain Davis, for Liverpool—this gentleman was one of the mates of the ship Nankin, bound from Norfolk, for Cowes, with orders, but was pressed, together with two others, on board the British ship of war Confiance, and there compelled to do duty—they made a master's mate of Mr. Nicholson, a few days after put him on board a recaptured brig as prize-master to proceed to England, but contrary winds obliged him to put into Kinsale. The ship Nankin was afterwards captured by an English government brig and sent into Falmouth, when she was immediately restored to the captain. May 10, lat. 46, long. 46, fell in with the Newfoundland fleet—was boarded by a sloop of war and treated politely. Capt. K. informs that the ports of Hamburg, Bremen, &c. were declared in a state of blockade previous to his sailing.

300 Dollars Reward.

RAN away from the subscriber living at the White Marsh, Prince Georges' county, three slaves, named Simon, Michael and Bill. The first ran away on Whitsunday, 1805; he had procured the pass of a free negro called Moses Queen, and may probably have assumed his name. Simon is a dark mulatto, about twenty-two years old, 5 feet, 3 or 4 inches high, long face, has a strong voice, down cast look when spoken to. It is suspected he went towards Philadelphia, where he has several relations of the Queen family.

Michael, brother to Simon, went away about six weeks ago, is two years younger, nearly the same height, but not so slender. Had on when he went away, a blue vest, Welch kersey short coat and nankeen pantaloons. The father of these two men, is a free negro called Simon Queen, now working about Baltimore, or in the neighborhood thereof.

Bill, cousin to Simon & Michael, is a bright mulatto, about twenty-three years of age, nearly 6 feet high, has lost two of his upper fore teeth, and stammers in his speech; he went away last Sunday night. Had on nankeen pantaloons and kersey round jacket.

Whoever will apprehend the abovementioned slaves, or any of them, and lodge them in jail, so that the subscriber gets them again, will be entitled to fifty dollars for each, if apprehended in Maryland; and one hundred dollars for each, if taken out of said state. Moreover, all reasonable charges if brought home, to be paid by

B. G. BITOWZEY.
