BOSTON, May 29.

ANNUAL ELECTION.

The legislature of this state, for the current year, met yesterday at the new state-house, and commenced its re-organization. After the administration, by his excellency governor Strong, of the qualifications required by the constitution, the house immediately proceeded to the election of its officers.

The candidates for the clerkship in the house, were N. Tillinghast, esquire, and Charles P. Sumner, esquire.

The whole number of votes 460.
For N. Tillinghast, (federal) 206
For C. P. Sumner, (democratic) 251
Mr. Sumner was accordingly declared to be elected.

The candidates for speaker were the hon. Timothy Bigelow, esquire, and Perez Morton, esquire.

Whole number of votes, 463.
For Mr. Bigelow, (federal) 204
For Mr. Moreton, (democratic) 257
The latter gentleman was declared to be elected, and took the chair.

In the senate four several attempts were made in the forenoon to elect a president for that branch of the government; but they all proved ineffectual. The votes on each trial, being
For the honorable H. G. Otis, 18
For the honorable John Bacon, 19
And two scattering; of course there was no choice, the constitution requiring a majority of the whole number.

The difficulties which arose in this business, procrastinated the religious ceremonies of the day, until a very late hour. It was nearly two o'clock, when the procession reached the Old South Meeting-House. The tediousness of this delay was amply compensated by the rich display of piety and patriotism which succeeded in the very excellent address of the reverend Mr. Shepard, of Lenox.

The procession was escorted to and from the meeting-house, by the independent company of Cadets, under the command of col. Apshorp.

In the afternoon, the two houses met agreeably to adjournment, at 4 o'clock, and further adjournment till 6 o'clock; when they again met and continued sitting until 9. The house proceeded in appointing their usual committees.

The senate resumed the business of the election of a president; but, as in the forenoon, the attempt was ineffectual. A motion was finally made, declaring that the eldest member should preside as president pro. tem. until a choice could be made.

The votes were taken on this motion by yeas and nays, and stood thus:
Federal 19.
Democratic 19.

The chairman (hon. Mr. Bacon) who was the democratic candidate, after a few remarks, declared his vote in favor of himself. On this decision, a variety of debate ensued, on the constitutionality of this mode of proceedure, and on the question whether the hon. chairman was the senior member in that body. A committee was at length appointed to ascertain and report who was the eldest member. An adjournment then took place until 10 o'clock this morning.

J. D. Dunbar, esq. was elected clerk of the senate. The votes were for Mr. Davis, the former clerk, 19—for Mr. Dunbar, 20.

BY THIS DAY's MAILS.

NEW-YORK, June 2.

Captain Rea, from the Isle of France, informs, that there were thirteen British ships of the line lying at St. Jago; he also informs, that the latter end of March, the British ship London, and a frigate, engaged the ship Marengo, admiral Linois, and the frigate Bellepool; and, after an engagement of 3 hours, took them. Sir J. B. Warren, with seven sail of the line, then in sight. The captured vessels were carried to St. Jago, and put in commission.

It was said the French ships had on board property of immense value.

We learn, verbally, by the schr. Traveller, from Curracoa, that Miranda's two schooners had been captured on the Main, by a Spanish brig; and that Miranda, in the Leander, had afterwards a severe engagement with a Spanish sloop of war, and beat her off; after which he stood to windward.

It is said letters have been received in town, which state, positively, that Miranda has landed on the Spanish Main, at a place called Como, without meeting with any opposition. The schooner Bee is on her way with dispatches from Miranda, and is hourly expected here.

The awful sentence of death was on Saturday passed upon John Banks for the murder of his wife Though delivered in that solemn and impressive manner for which the honorable judge Tompkins is remarkable, and though it was a powerful appeal to the best feelings of the heart, the prisoner remained unmoved.—He exhibited a shocking instance of human depravity; enquired of the court if he could not be hanged the week following; and shouted as if in a delirium of joy. The day of execution is fixed for Friday the 11th of July.—We shall (probably to-morrow) present our readers with a sketch of the trial.

Captain Teubner left Bordeaux the 28th April, and informs, that 7 or 8 British sail of the line were cruizing off that port.

The sloop Polly, Williams, in 27 days from Annatto Bay, Jamaica. Left sch'r Industry, Caldwell, of New-York, just arrived from N. Carolina, having, near Turks-Island, been plundered by two French privateers—they informed, that they had an engagement with an American brig a few days before, and had a number of men killed and wounded, which they gave as a reason for plundering the Industry, and told the captain he must look to the American government for pay. Also, left sch'r Nancy, to sail in 4 days for Snow-Hill. Left at Kingston, May 1, the ship Philipsburg, Leffingwell, of New-York, sent in on her passage from Bordeaux, for New-Orleans, by the Petrel sloop of war, discharging her cargo, and to sail in ballast for New-York, in 15 days.—May 19th, in lat. 32, 20, long. 78, spoke ship President, of Wiscasset, 2 days from Charleston, for Falmouth, England.

Capt. Pratt, from this port for Havana, was afterwards boarded by the Arethusa—the captain informed him, that it was their determination, had the Ildefonso come up with them, to have laid her alongside and boarded her.

FEDERAL GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 4.

On the non-contagiousness of the Yellow Fever.

We present to our readers the following extract from "The Medical and Physical Journal," of London, for the month of March, 1806:

To the Editors of the Medical and Physical Journal.

GENTLEMEN,

My friend Dr. Rush, of Philadelphia, has in his new edition of his Medical Enquiries and Observations, retracted his former opinion respecting the contagious nature of the yellow fever, and being desirous of making this recantation as public as possible, he has requested me to obtain the insertion of the following extract from his preface in one of the periodical works of this country. If you will have the goodness to give it a place in your valuable journal, my friend's object will be accomplished, and you will much oblige yours, &c. L. J. JARDINE.

Liverpool, Feb. 10, 1806.

"In the fourth volume, the reader, will find a retraction of the author's former opinion of the yellow-fever's spreading by contagion. He begs forgiveness of the friends of science and humanity, if the publication of that opinion has had any influence in increasing the misery and mortality attendant upon that disease. Indeed such is the pain he feels, in recollecting that he ever entertained or propagated it, that it will long, and perhaps always deprive him of the pleasure he might otherwise have derived from a review of his attempts to fulfil the public duties of his profession."

PRUSSIAN PATENT.

"We Frederick William, king of Prussia, &c. &c. make known and declare as follows:

"The wish to secure our faithful subjects, and the neighboring states of the north of Germany during the war, and to preserve and confirm the duration of the blessings of peace, was at all times the intention of our indefatigable endeavors. These wholesome measures were made known upon some recent occasion; as the object of our late patent, dated January 27, 1806, according to which the electoral states of Brunswick and Lunenburg, in Germany, were taken possession of by our troops, when the administration of the same passed into our hands. But in consequence of the exchange of the electorate of Hanover in consequence of the cession of three of the provinces of our monarchy, and for the permanent tranquility of our subjects and the neighboring states, we have found it indispensibly necessary to enter into and conclude a convention with his majesty the emperor of the French and king of Italy; and as the electoral states of the house of Brunswick, situated in Germany, were obtained by the emperor Napoleon, by right of conquest, we hereby declare, that the right of possession of the territory of that house has passed over to us, in consideration of the cession of three of our provinces, and is now subject to our power only; consequently, from the present time, the government and the administration of these countries will be administered simply in our name alone, and under our supreme authority.

We therefore call upon all persons, whatever may have been the functions assigned them, to execute those functions only in our name and under our authority.

"Count Schulenberg Kehnert, and the commissioners who were attached to him, expect no less than all the prelates, the burgers, and the inhabitants in general, will obediently conform themselves to the order of things which a new æra has rendered necessary for their tranquility and well-being; and, in so doing, they will afford his majesty a proof of their devotion to their country.

"So, on our part, nothing shall be neglected to confirm them in the persuasion of our paternal situation and our sincere wish to make them happy.

(Signed) FREDERICK WILLIAM.
