March 18. COMMERCIALLY IMPORTANT. Copy of a letter from Rotterdam of Jan. 9, 1807, to a house in this town. "We addressed you per this same opportunity to which we refer. We wrote you that several American vessels had been arrested on account of their having touched in England. This had naturally created a doubt whether American vessels that had touched in British ports, would be admitted in our ports; and therefore an explanation was asked from the king's minister, at the Hague, who has answered, that American vessels under such circumstances would be admitted as heretofore, provided their papers are in order, and they have not taken on board any thing in England—and whatever letters should be put on board in England, must immediately on arrival, be delivered to the commissary of marine, all the ship's papers and documents must be produced, even the bills of the light money, &c. in England, and none be concealed—otherwise it might give a suspicion as if the voyage was illegal. Please to have this published, as there is no time now to write to other friends. We are, &c. T. & A. CREMER."

FEDERAL GAZETTE.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 25.

We have given to-day many extracts from the late papers received by the Hercules. It may not be improper here to remark, that these papers confirm, unequivocally, the advantages gained by the Russians. We regret, however, that they do not contain the French bulletins. It appears from these papers that the battles of Pultusk and Golymin were but one battle, and that only one division of the Russian army had been engaged: the main body were fresh, and "eager for an opportunity to chastise the invader."

The general impression in England was, that government had conceded too much in the treaty with America; on which subject long and animated debates had consumed much time in parliament.

From our attentive correspondent, we have received (by captain Gould) Norfolk papers to the 21st instant inclusive. Interesting extracts from which will be found under the Norfolk head.

The following is a list of American vessels advertised at Liverpool, on the 19th February last, ready and preparing to sail for their respective ports. This list, which we find in one paper alone (Gore's General Advertiser) is no inconsiderable evidence of the great value of our trade to Great-Britain.

For Portsmouth, (N. H.) Ship Liverpool Packet. For Portland. Ships Packet, McLellan; Joseph Jameson; Henry, Weeks.

For Boston. Ships Packet, Scott; New Packet, Trot; William, Farman; Sally, Lewis; Bacchus, Davis; Rodney, Heard; Algot, Barker; Mount Vernon, Goss; Mary, Babbidge.

For New-York. Ships Alexander, Moores; Wm. Penn, Sherry; Ann, Flower; Robert Burns, Waite; Liberty, Chew; Eliza, Waterman; Hudson, Tombs; Swift, Price; Magistrate, Folger; Chatham, Wasson; Mercury, Christie.

For Philadelphia. Ships Annawan, Stotesbury; Western Trader, Whitesides; Juno, Harley; Halcyon, Road; Xenophon, Inglee; Sally, Hincley; General Scott, M'Conn; brig New-Jersey, Wade.

For Baltimore. Ships Ploughboy, Colard; Absona, Hobson; John Adams, Calender; United States, Harding; Adriana, Hartshorne.

For City-Point, (Va.) Ships Industry, Wilson; Roup, Chew. For Norfolk. Ship Dumfries, Beard. For Alexandria. Ship Leonidas, M'Kenzie.

For Wilmington, (N. C.) Ship Enterprise, Congar. For Savannah. Ships Aristides, Williams; Latona, M'Cray.

For Charleston. Ships Columbia, Goodrich; Lucy and Elizabeth, Stookes; Julius Caesar, Hall; Sally, Ashby; Sachem, Harris; Lydia, Turner.

For New-Orleans. Ships Brutus, Bance; Rover, Coffin; Lava, Hoole. American ships for freight or charter at Liverpool.

Perseverance, Fisher; Jupiter, Libby; Dryad, Grant; Charles, Crandon; Grand Schem, Lebrons—Mercator, Perry, Huron, Clarke.

Arrivals at Liverpool, on the 11th and 12th February. The Boston, Trot, from Savannah; Mary, Fostick, from Charleston; Huron, Clark, from Savannah; Grand Schem, Baron, from New-York; Mercator, Perry, from ditto; Susan, Stevens, from Charleston; Sheffield, Davies, from Virginia; Theron, Porter, from Bath; United States, Nelson, from Wiscasset; Dumfries, Beard, from Norfolk; Elbe, Sullivan, from Halifax; Lavinia, Bray, from New-York; Charles, Atwell, from Portland.

From a Philadelphia paper. We learn with pleasure, that Mr. Bowen, proprietor of the Columbian museum, at Boston, has experienced, in a high degree the liberality of the opulent and most respectable citizens of New-York and Philadelphia in contributions towards rebuilding the edifice which was consumed by a fire last January.

We understand that Mr. Bowen intends, as a proof of his gratitude, to have the names of his patrons inscribed on tablets, which are to be placed in his Museum—and that a card of perpetual admission is now engraving which is to be presented to those who have subscribed, and will entitle them and their friends to visit his Museum whenever they are in Boston.

From the Merchants' Coffee-House Books. Arrived, ship Margaret, Clark, 24 days from Havana—sugars—James Biays and others. Spoke nothing.
