FEBRUARY 23, 1807.
ON application to the judges of the said county court, by petition in writing of Campbell S. Askew, of said county, praying the benefit of the "Act for the relief of sundry insolvent debtors," passed at the November session, 1805, on the terms mentioned in the said act; a schedule of his property and a list of his creditors, on oath, as far as he can ascertain them, as directed by the said act, being annexed to his petition; and the said county court being satisfied by competent testimony, that the said Campbell S. Askew has resided the 2 preceding years within the state of Maryland, prior to the passage of the said act; and the said Campbell S. Askew, at the time of presenting his petition as aforesaid, having produced to the said court, the assent in writing of so many of his creditors as have due to them the amount of two thirds of the debts due by him at the time of passing the said act. It is thereupon adjudged and ordered, by the said court, that the said Campbell S. Askew (by causing a copy of this order to be inserted in the Federal Gazette, every other day for three months successively, before the 9th day of May next) give notice to his creditors to appear before the said county court, at the court-house in the said county, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of the said ninth day of May next, for the purpose of recommending a trustee for their benefit, on the said Campbell S. Askew, then and there taking the oath by the said act prescribed for delivering up his property.

Six Cents reward.

Ran away from the subscriber, an apprentice to the milling business, named JAMES STUART. He is twenty years old, about five feet five inches high, fair hair and complexion, grey eyes, marked by the small pox, sour look, fond of drink and low company. Had on when he went away a brown coat, striped hennet's cord vest, corduroy trousers, all of which he has changed for a blue one about and trousers. Also took with him one pair of boots and half soled; has been seen often on the Point and about the Reister's Town road. I will give the above reward to any person bringing home said apprentice, or lodging him in any goal, so that I get him again.

Mr. Wrixford,

Late from Boston,
Purposes to teach the ART of WRITING, in this place, by a new and expeditious method. Persons rising ten or twelve years of age, possessing good common capacities, may acquire a fair and handsome hand, by receiving twenty lessons; one hour of time to each lesson. The method is well suited for the benefit of young persons fitting for the mercantile line of business; and also for ordinary writers already engaged in the same line, of almost whatever age; likewise for young gentlemen who are either in or destined for the learned professions. Ladies who either have or have not received their education, in other respects, can be attended either at their own dwellings, or elsewhere, as they may choose.
Mr. W. takes up the Art of Writing as a species of drawing, and teaches it by a system of rules, methodically arranged; but as the plan may perhaps be rather novel in this city, it would be difficult, in a notification like this, to point out the peculiar mode of proceeding.
Any person who may think proper to call on Mr. W. at Mr. D. Fulton's, sign of the Globe, Baltimore-street, will, it is presumed, be satisfied in those particulars of which they may wish to inquire.
