FEDERAL GAZETTE

Several interesting marine articles will be found under the Norfolk head, from papers to the 23d instant, received at this office (by captain Deagle) from our correspondent.

A young gentleman of handsome talents, was induced, eighteen months ago, to commence the publication of a weekly paper in Hartford county, Maryland. The following proof of ill success is extracted from his farewell address: Abingdon, April 21.
The Editor of the "Abingdon Patriot" subscribes to the doctrine, that the will of the sovereign people should be the law of the land—and as he is fully convinced, by eighteen months' experience, that it is the will and pleasure of the majority of the sovereigns of Hartford county that no newspaper shall be published among them, he hereby gives notice, that the present number of the Abingdon Patriot, which completes the first half-year of the second volume, is the last which will be published—as it would be highly aristocratic to continue it for the gratification of a few, in opposition to the wish of the many. As the introduction of any kind of information into society, tends to destroy that natural equality which it is the pride of republicans to cherish, the dangerous tendency of newspapers cannot fail to be evident to all those profound politicians who never read one. The Editor is now satisfied that he did not understand the true principles of his republican fellow-citizens, and to show his sincere desire of co-operating with them in their laudable zeal against knowledge, he faithfully promises that he will never again publish a newspaper in Hartford county.

To those gentlemen who, through ignorance or any other motive, have patronized his undertaking, the Editor returns his most sincere thanks.

Private advices by the ship Sally, captain Privats, from Rotterdam, arrived at this port, state, that the loss of the French, in the late battles with the Russians, was much greater than was allowed to be published; and that reports, and even conversations on the subject were restrained by the government. [Phil. paper.] We learn that Mr. John M'Dowell, late provost of St. John's college, in Maryland, but now provost of the university of Pennsylvania, has arrived in this city, to take charge of that respectable institution. [Ibid.]

NASSAU (N. Y.) April 6.
The Mediator frigate, of 36 guns, captain Wise, arrived at Port-Royal, Jam. on the 4th March, from a cruise. On the 12th ult. in the Mona Passage, she fell in with La Bacchante, of 20 guns, captain Dacres, and off Cape-Samana, on the 14th, they descried a sail, on which they immediately went in pursuit, and after four hours chase, came up with and captured her, when she proved to be the national schooner Dolphin, of one long 12-pounder and two sixes, which they threw overboard in endeavoring to escape.
It was understood from her crew, that she had a few days before taken the British schooner Lovely Lass, Rodgers, from New-York, bound to this island, and the American ship George Washington, from Cape-Francois to New-Orleans, and that they were sent to Savannah-Bay. Captain Dacres, on receiving this information, immediately determined to make for that port, and endeavored to cut them out. On the 18th they arrived abreast of the fort, when the Dolphin was immediately manned with seamen and marines from the frigates, and the command of her given to the first lieutenant of La Bacchante, with directions to state, on being hailed from the battery, that she was a national schooner with two prizes, (the Bacchante and Mediator being disguised as such.) The enemy, however, soon discovered the imposture, and opened a heavy fire upon our vessel, which was as briskly returned; and after four hours engagement, they were seen flying in all directions, the battery being totally demolished. Captain Wise then landed and spiked several guns, and threw the remainder into the sea, and took possession of the Lovely Lass and George Washington, with three French schooners, all of which came into port with her. La Bacchante parted company the day after the attack.
The Mediator had four men killed and twelve wounded, four of whom, we are so-rily to add, were obliged to undergo amputation.
The sloop Roxana, Tucker, in 8 days from Wilmington, arrived here on Tuesday.
COURT OF VICE-ADMIRALTY, Nassau, April 7, 1807.
Before the worshipful Henry Moreton Dyer, esq. sole judge and commissary, Regulator, Hay, master—a further proof case—Mr. Armstrong, solicitor-general, exhibited further proof with respect to the respective claims of Messrs. John and Anthony Angue and Halberstadt, which he prayed to be admitted, and that the property might be restored as claimed.
Mr. Kerr prayed the said proofs to be rejected, and the said property to be condemned.
His honor the judge, having heard the said further proofs read, and the arguments of advocates and proctors on both sides thereon, rejected those produced in behalf of John and Anthony Angue, as insufficient; and pronounced the goods claimed by them to have belonged at the time of the capture and seizure thereof to the enemies of the crown of Great-Britain and Ireland, and as such or otherwise subject and liable to confiscation; and by interlocutory decree, condemned the same as good and lawful prize to the private ship of war Fancy, Henry Wood, esq. commander. Admitted the further proofs in behalf of the said Halberstadt, pronounced them to be sufficient, and by further interlocutory, directed the goods claimed by him, or the net proceeds thereof, to be restored.
Deborah, Mory, master—a further proof case. The solicitor-general exhibited further proof with respect to a quantity of specie found on board the said ship at the time of the capture thereof (unaccompanied either by bills of lading or other documents or constancy of property) which he prayed to be admitted, & that the said property might be restored as claimed.
Mr. Kerr prayed the same to be rejected, and the said property to be condemned.
His honor the judge, having heard the said
on, pronounced the same to be sufficient, and by interlocutory decree, directed the said property to be restored to the claimant, or his representative, for the use of the owners and proprietors thereof.

The American of this morning gave the following Memorial, presented to Gen. WIL-KINSON, said to be received from N. Orleans. We have no knowledge of its date.
MEMORIAL.
Sir,
The recent arrest of Aaron Burr has, we hope, dissipated the dangers which have menaced the peace and safety of this city; and we therefore beg leave to congratulate you on the discomfiture of the wicked plot, and to present you our acknowledgments for the protection you have afforded it.
Spectators of the difficulties and embarrassments by which we have seen you encountered, we believe that a knowledge of facts and circumstances, as they have really occurred, will satisfy every unprejudiced person that the decisive steps to which you resorted, in a critical moment, were not only justifiable by the extremity of the case, but were essential to our preservation.

We are not surprised at the alarm, nor do we condemn the sensibilities which were excited by the extraordinary measures which you adopted, because the rights and liberties of an American citizen cannot be too sedulously guarded. But we are persuaded, that in the instance which has given rise to this address your conduct has been loyal, dutiful and patriotic; and that when your motives are made manifest by a fair development of the transactions which have engaged your attention in this city, the impartial and enlightened part of the world will concur with us in acknowledging your merits and services.
We lament the domestic afflictions which press upon you, and beg you to accept our best wishes for your future fame, prosperity and happiness.
[Signed by several hundred of the most opulent and respectable inhabitants, French and American.]

Extract from the Depositions of two gentlemen of irreproachable characters, general Henry K. Van Rensselaer and Mr.
Solomon Van Rensselaer, sworn to at Albany on the 3d inst. [N. Y. Evening Post.]
"The said Genet at the same time, expressed his regret that this deponent the said Solomon Van Rensselaer, had taken an active part in the election in favor of governor Lewis, for that in consequence thereof, the said Solomon would, in the event of the governor's defeat at the said election, be turned out of his office of adjutant-general.
That the said Genet in the course of the said conversation, also told these deponents, that his family in Europe had been well provided for by the present king of Holland and that Bonaparte had already subdued all his enemies in Europe, excepting England and Russia, and he would unquestionably conquer those powers also, and that afterwards in case the government of the United States did not conduct towards him with more friendship and civility than it had hitherto done, they would next be attacked and subjugated by him."

An operation was performed yesterday in the Pennsylvania hospital, in the presence of Doctors Physick, Wistar, Parke, James, Bryant, and other physicians, and about 80 pupils, on a Wm. upon the face and neck of John Butler, from Halifax, N. Carolina, aged about 28 years, which when extracted, weighed 1-2 pounds, and had been growing about 7 years.
It was an hour and twenty minutes under the Doctor's hands, and bore the operation with the greatest fortitude.
The success and cure of James Hayes, from whose face about 18 months since, a wren, weighing 7 pounds, was extracted in the hospital, and whose cure having been published in many of the newspapers, and seen therein by the above named John Butler, induced him to come about 500 miles, in hopes of receiving from the institution the same benefit.
The result cannot be yet known, but there is no apparent symptom at present but what promises well.
It is reasonable, however, to suppose, that the sooner such protuberances are removed, the chance of a radical cure is much greater; it is on that account, much to be wished, that such as require relief, would apply before the wren attains to the enormous size above mentioned; from which circumstance, and a much greater risk of not succeeding in such a critical operation.

The opening of the Pennsylvania Academy of the Fine Arts, appointed for this day, was very generally attended by the contributors. It is but justice to the directors to say, that the number and selection of artists, they have imported, do great honor to their exertions. The figures are from the choicest pieces of Statuary in Europe, and arranged with taste and judgment, formed a splendid exhibition, and gave universal satisfaction.— An appropriate address on the occasion, was delivered by GEORGE CLYMER, Esq. President of the institution.
