A Fashionable Disease

CURED WITHOUT ANY USE OF MERCURY. NOTWITHSTANDING the many remedies for curing and removing the Venereal disease from the constitution, and without the use of Mercury, which have been frequently pretended, and almost as often proved ineffectual; although the honorable faculty, Docui Medice, have united most generally in declaring no remedy to exist, in their belief, capable of removing the Venereal in all cases without the use of Mercury, which they do not hesitate to pronounce extremely pernicious, and not infrequently making the most desperate ravages on the whole constitution, and rendering the state of health ever after wretched and miserable; yet, notwithstanding all these objections heaped together, the writer, who has no other interest in the business than such as every well disposed citizen ought to have, and feel for the happiness and well being of his fellow creatures, does most confidently give assurance, that he is positive that there is another remedy, perfectly mild and easy in its operation, and which will effectually remove the disorder in all cases, and to all extents and purposes, as that Mercury will effect the same, but frequently to the great injury of the person's future health and happiness. The writer, knowing the disadvantages under which a medicinal specific labors, which makes its appearance (as it were) in Arcane, undertakes to make this important affair known in behalf of the proprietors; and he will neglect no opportunity or justifiable means of making this business as generally known and as extensively useful as possible—the old fashionable, mechanical, precise, and lingering mode of proceeding, in similar matters to the contrary, notwithstanding. This remedy, he earnestly requests those who may need assistance in the complaint above alluded to, that they make reasonable application in order to obtain a timely relief—Says a wise and learned gentleman of this country—"Except the fine box, (to which this is similar and equal) a discovery so important and so useful to mankind, has not been made in physics during the last century." "It has been more than seventy and seven times tried in America, within two years past, and has ever and uniformly operated, in all cases, to full satisfaction." The specific, which is a pleasant cordial, is used without any change in diet or mode of living, and with the same intention that a glass of wine is drunk. It is offered, for the first time, for the benefit of the people in this place. Although the particular province of this useful specific is the Venereal, yet, as it effects this point by purifying the blood and cleansing the system, it consequently has great power in removing all those complaints which arise from impurity of the blood. It will extract the mercury from the blood of those who have made too imprudent use of this "poison destroyer of the human frame." Application to be made at the house, standing in the corner of Granby and Queen-streets, on south-east side, leading from the Market to the Point, in the morning before noon, and in evening, where a gentleman, competent to the business, will wait on those who may call, with all possible care and tenderness, in behalf of Doctor Herschell, late resident at London, Paris, and last at Rome.

The Key'd Violin,

A New Invented Musical Instrument, of five Octaves, by C. VELTENAIR.

A RESPECTABLE Public art hereby informed that C. Velténair, a celebrated Artist, inventor and improver of several useful machines, and citizen of Virginia, being on his journey to Washington to obtain letters patent of the president of the United States, intends in passing this city, to exhibit and to give a concert, on this instrument, by himself invented, and which in the opinion of a number of judges and commissioners, is admitted as the only musical instrument of the kind. This curious and wonderful, and in the highest degree of art discovered musical instrument, has never been known in the musical world, produces the soft and swelling notes of the violin by a perpetual and uniform friction of an endless and artfully constructed band or bow, excites at the same time the grave and majestic tones of an organ. This instrument is played like a piano or organ but in such a manner that the ear may be delighted with the most pure and perfect sounds of a grand piano, with or without the accompaniment of the touching tones of the violin or rolling sounds of an organ.

The most ingenious artists of England and France have long labored on a discovery of an instrument of this kind, but in the course of their tedious experiments have failed in the attempt, and at last declared this possibility impossible, as an experience of three years, during which time this instrument was accomplished, proves. The proprietor flatters himself with the idea that the performance on this instrument will give entire satisfaction. The exhibition will take place at Mr. Meyer's Hotel in Market-street, on Tuesday evening next at 7 o'clock. Tickets of admission (1 dollar each) to be had of the bar.

Le Sr. VELTENAIR,

ARTISTE, ET FABRIQUANT DES INSTRUMENTS MUSICAUX.

Commu d'après des différens pays pour ses Inventiones Méchaniques.

A l'honneur d'informer le public, qu'il est intentionné d'exposer son Instrument, le seul de son espèce, et donner un CONCERT délicieux. Cet Instrument, perfectionné au dégré le plus haut, fait naître les douces sons du Violon, excité par le toucher perpétuel d'un arc infini et merveilleux, en faisant entendre en même temps tous les sons graves et majestueux de l'Orgue. On le touche comme un Forte-Biano, mais de la manière, qu'on peut déceler l'oreille des sons les plus purs et perfectionnés d'un Forte-Biano, sans l'accompagnement ni des sons touchés du Violon, ni des voix oranges de l'Orgue. Malgré que les artistes les plus célèbres, et de la France et de l'Angleterre, après avoir cherché pendant plusieurs années à construire un Instrument de cet espèce, à la fin ont nié la possibilité de le finir jamais; le Sr. Velténair cependant a prouvé le contraire, par un travail de trois ans, et le sacrifice d'une grande partie de sa fortune. Il ose donc se flatter, que l'attention et la sensibilité de tous les connoisseurs, qui veulent bien honorer de leur présence, sera concédé entièrement. On va commencer demain (Mardi) le soir, à sept heures, dans l'Hôtel de Sr. Meyer, rue Marché; où on peut avoir aussi les Billets d'Entrée à $1 pour chaque personne.

It lies about forty miles to the south-west of Fort Cumberland, is on the waters of the Great Youghoughany, and about 4 miles distant from the main road leading through Virginia to the western country. 3. "Clover Bottom" lies on the Little Cross-roads, about 3 miles south of Braddock's road, contains 432 acres of land; a part of which is well calculated for meadow, the remainder is well timbered, and of the first quality. The Grist mill is three stories high, and has an excellent pair of country stones; there is also a wheel for a pair of Burrs.
4. "Corrycupia." This tract contains 1100 acres, and is the residence of Mr. Dan. Grant. The improvements are, a large and comfortable dwelling-house, and an extensive barn with stabling underneath; a young thriving orchard, and about 100 acres of cleared land under good fencing. Braddock's road passes through said farm, which makes it an eligible stand for a public house, being about twenty-two miles from Fort Cumberland. Few farms in Maryland, the same distance from Baltimore, are more valuable than this. It is of the first quality as to soil, heavily timbered, and nearly the one half of it well adapted to timothy meadow; the residue equally well adapted to the raising of wheat, rye, oats, &c. The one-fifth of the purchase money will be required in hand, the residue in five annual payments. Mr. Grant will allow the above land to any person who should be inclined to purchase.
