

To the Members of the Library Company of Baltimore.

GENTLEMEN.
It is now eleven years since the commencement of the Library Company of Baltimore; in its short period of time, a taste for useful reading, and polite literature, has evidently spread among the young of both sexes. A profession so pleasing in its nature, and beneficial in its effects, which the institution has certainly accelerated, cannot fail of securing to it, a continuance of protection and patronage.

A Library, formed with a due respect to Religion, and morals, which does not exclude works of genius, and amusement, which contains the most esteemed writings of every country, and the best books on the different arts, and in every branch of science and literature to whose ample stores, all persons may have access at a trifling expense, must rank amongst the most useful, and laudable institutions in society.

To select a Library, in conformity with these principles, calls for the Union of different talents, and various information. It must however be recollected, that although with a limited annual sum, all valuable books cannot at once be introduced, yet, that in time and successively, all of the greatest value, or importance, which can be procured, may find admission.

With such prospects, the Library Company of Baltimore, was instituted, and under the influence of corresponding principles, it has been uniformly and steadily conducted down to the present hour. Believing it to be the wish of the members, to continue to society the advantages of the institution, will it not be considered indispensable?

1. That the directors should not be obliged to apply any part of the monies now annually expended in the purchase of Books to any other object?

2. That the means be provided competent to procure a lot of ground, in a suitable situation on which may be erected, when it shall become necessary, a commodious building, for the deposit of the Books of the Company?

With respect to the first, The Directors would lament the occurrence of any circumstance, that should abridge the annual supply of Books, or the increase of the Library, upon this point, they feel assured they concur in opinion with the great body of Stockholders.

With respect to the second point, they also flatter themselves with a concurrence, for although fixed in their determination to retain the room now possessed by the company, as it will serve to contain their books, yet, as the time must come when it will be inadequate to that purpose, the directors consider it prudent and advisable, that the company should be provided against such an event.

A lot of Ground in a suitable situation, may be now had on reasonable terms. Should the purchase be deferred, who will insure to the company, that we shall be able to get a suitable lot hereafter? The probability is, if we neglect to buy now, that we either cannot be accommodated at market when we cannot longer do without a lot, or must pay, for a convenient situation, an extravagant price.

Acting under these considerations, the directors recently proposed to the company an additional contribution of two dollars per annum, to be paid on each share, for 25 successive years. This proposed contribution, so easy and equal in its operation, which to each member would have amounted to sixteen dollars only, was unanimously agreed to, at a meeting of the company, convened on the 26th May last, but at a subsequent meeting (the concurrence of two being required for its confirmation) from some members' misconception of the object of the measure, & the necessity of making the purchase, at this time, not being felt, or but slightly felt by others, it was rejected by a majority of the few who attended on that occasion.

The necessity of adopting the measure, still pressing upon the directors with undiminished force, they conceive it to be their duty, to call the attention of the company again to the subject, more especially as they cannot permit themselves to entertain a doubt that a revision by men, friendly to the extension of the arts and literature among us, will lead to a favorable result. The following proceedings were accordingly had, at a meeting of their body, held the 1st July instant:

Resolved, That a general meeting of the members of the Library Company be, and hereby is required, at the Library room, on the 17th of July inst. at 11 o'clock, A. M. in order to determine on the following propositions, which, if then agreed to and confirmed by the company at a future meeting, will become of constitutional force:

1. That every member of the Library Company of Baltimore shall pay annually, in addition to his present annual contribution, the sum of two dollars for eight successive years, which payments may be enforced under the regulations and in the mode prescribed for compelling payments of the said stated annual contributions: provided always, that any member shall be at liberty to advance fourteen dollars in one payment at any time, or before the first annual contribution becoming due, which advance shall be received in lieu of his eight years additional contributions.

2. That the directors of the Library Company of Baltimore be, and are hereby authorized and required, to appropriate the said additional contributions, or so much thereof as may be necessary to the purchase of a suitable lot of ground, on which may be erected a commodious building for the deposit of the books of the Library when the funds will permit.

By order,
FRANCIS BEESTON, Sec. B. L. C.

William Carman

HAS opened his SLATE YARD, on Spear's wharf, below Smith & Hooper's Bake-house, for the sale of SLATE, of which he has a good supply in readiness for the present season. The quality of the Slate is such that little need be said of it—general satisfaction has been experienced by those who have used it.

Many buildings in this city are covered with Slate that is really rotting, owing to the quantity of clay naturally mixed with it; but the slate here advertised is of the most durable kind, in consequence of the Iron contained in it. Such persons as see it, their interest to use an article of acknowledged superiority, may depend on having their orders punctually executed, as W. C. is determined to receive no more than he can fulfil in time agreeably to contract.

The buildings already covered with this slate are as follow:—Mr. Robert Oliver's back buildings in Gay-street; captain Carr's, on Fell's Point; Philip Littig's, Baltimore-street; Henry Payson's, Hanover-street; Jacob Myers's, South-street, and Amos A. Williams's warehouse, on Bowly's wharf.

N. B. The price of the Slate is 10 Dollars per square of ten feet (100 feet superficial measure). The slate is measured when the work is finished, allowing one foot extra in the length of the eaves, hips and valleys.

SLATERS will be recommended, if required, that will do credit to the work.
