

RICHMOND, July 18.

We are authorized to state, that in consequence of information received that the British squadron had departed from Hampton Roads, and had taken a station off our Capes, the Executive has suspended the march to Hampton of the 500 militia ordered out from Gen. White's brigade. They have been permitted to return to their respective homes, with orders to hold themselves in readiness to take the field at a moment's warning.

The two companies of infantry, and the troop of cavalry already stationed at Hampton, will be continued. We are moreover authorized to state, that in consequence of the above information, and of positive assurances from General Matthews, that the militia already called into service from his brigade, aided by the cavalry from Petersburg and Richmond, will be amply sufficient to repel any attack that can be made by any force which can be spared from the British squadron; the infantry from Petersburg and this place will be immediately discharged; major Ambler, under whose command they marched to Norfolk, is authorized to charter one or more vessels for the use of such of them as may think proper to avail themselves of that mode of conveyance. All the other forces now under the command of General Matthews at Norfolk, will be continued until more substantial evidence is obtained of a change of disposition on the part of the British squadron. Those forces, together with the troops stationed at Hampton, will occasionally be relieved at short periods by other detachments of militia.

Examples of Patriotism.

The portion of militia from Hanover and Henrico, which was called out in part of the detachment of 500 men from Gen. White's brigade, intended to march to Hampton, consisting almost entirely of volunteers, assembled and organized with remarkable promptitude. A considerable part arrived at this place on Tuesday last, and the balance on the next day. On Thursday the necessity of their proceeding to the place of their destination, at present having ceased, they were permitted to return home until further orders, and directed to receive two days' rations, and pay for five days. They were also presented with the thanks of the executive. For their patriotic zeal. We are informed the intelligence of a postponement of their march was received by them with great regret; every man displayed the utmost anxiety to distinguish himself in the service of his country.

In consequence of the absence of so many of the inhabitants of Richmond, on the expedition to Norfolk (by which it was supposed the safety of this place was diminished) a number of public spirited citizens have formed themselves into an association for the defence of the city, and raised a large and most respectable troop of cavalry, of which Edward Carrington is captain, Wm. Dabney, 1st lieutenant, Thomas Taylor, 2d lieutenant, and Jekyl Jones, cornet. They voluntarily subject themselves to severe military duty, in which they exhibit very considerable skill, and every night patrol the streets. The executive, by virtue of a power vested in them by law, had previously appointed a small guard of sixteen men to serve the purpose of a patrol; but have since discontinued it, relying on the vigilance of the patriotic association of cavalry, who do indeed deserve well of their country.

COUNTERFEITS.

Counterfeit Ten-dollar bills, of the Hagerstown Bank (in this state) are in circulation. We have seen one, which was offered at the Mechanic's Bank in this city. This note is, by a competent judge, pronounced genuine in paper and plate; but the name of the person to whom payable, (Rezin Davis) is erroneously Rezin Davis; this and the president's and cashier's signatures are all written with the same pen, and are very poor imitations.

Captain Neilson, arrived at New-York, in force, that an embargo was laid on all neutrals at Kingston, Jamaica, on the 15th June, to continue until the 30th, excepting such as intended to sail with the fleet, and would give bonds not to leave it but in a certain latitude.

LEWIS' CLARK'S TOUR TO THE PACIFIC OCEAN

THROUGH THE INTERIOR OF THE CONTINENT OF NORTH AMERICA, Performed by order of the Government of the United States, during the years 1804, 1805 and 1806.

THIS work will be prepared by captain Meriwether Lewis, and will be divided into two parts, the whole comprising in three volumes octavo, the first containing at least 700 pages, the second and third from four to five hundred each, printed on good paper, and a fair Pica Type. The several volumes in succession will be put to press at as early periods as the avocations of the author will permit him to prepare them for publication.

Part the first: in two volumes.

Volume First.
WILL contain a narrative of the voyage, with a description of some of the most remarkable places in those hitherto unknown wilds of America, accompanied by a map of good size, a large chart of the entrance of the Columbia river, embracing the adjacent country, coast and harbors, and embellished with views of two beautiful cataraacts of the Missouri; the plan, on a large scale, of the connected falls of that river, as also of those of the falls, narrows and great rapids of the Columbia, with their several portages. For the information of future voyagers, there will be added in the sequel of this volume, some observations and remarks on the navigation of the Missouri and Columbia Rivers, pointing out the precautions which must necessarily be taken, in order to ensure success, together with an itinerary of the most direct and practicable route across the continent of North America, from the confluence of the Missouri and Mississippi rivers to the discharge of the Columbia into the Pacific Ocean.

Volume Second.
Whatever properly appertains to geography, embracing a description of the rivers, mountains, climate, soil and face of the country, a view of the Indian nations distributed over that vast region, showing their traditions, habits, manners, customs, national characters, stature, complexions, dress, dwellings, arms, and domestic utensils, with many other interesting particulars in relation to them: also observations and reflections on the subjects of civilization, governing and improving a friendly intercourse with those nations. A view of the fur trade of North America, setting forth a plan for its extension, and showing the immense advantages which would accrue to the mercantile interests of the United States, by combining the same with a direct trade to the East Indies through the continent of North America. This volume will be embellished with twenty plates illustrative of the dress and general appearance of such Indian nations as differ materially from each other; of their habitations; their weapons and habiliments used in war; their hunting and fishing apparatus; domestic utensils, &c. In an appendix there will also be given a diary of the weather kept with great attention throughout the whole of the voyage, showing also the daily rise and fall of the principal water courses which were navigated in the course of the same.

Part the second: in one volume.
This part of the work will be confined exclusively to scientific research, and principally to the natural history of those hitherto unknown regions. It will contain a full dissertation on such subjects as may have fallen within the notice of the author, and which may properly be distributed under the heads of Botany, Mineralogy, and Zoology, together with some structures on the origin of Prairies, the cause of the mudiness of the Missouri, of volcanic appearances, and other natural phenomena which were met with in the course of this interesting tour. This volume will also contain a comparative view of twenty-three vocabularies of distinct Indian languages, procured by captains Lewis and Clark, on the voyage, and will be ornamented and embellished with a much greater number of plates than will be bestowed on the first part of the work, as it is intended that every subject of natural history which is entirely new, and of which there are a considerable number, shall be accompanied by an appropriate engraving illustrative of it.

This distribution of the work has been made with a view to the accuracy and every description of readers, and is here offered for the patronage of the public in such shape, that all persons wishing to become subscribers, may accommodate themselves with either of the parts, or the entire work, as it shall be most convenient to themselves.

Detached from this work, there will be published
LEWIS AND CLARK'S

Map of North America.
From Long. 9 deg. west, to the Pacific Ocean, and between 36 deg. and 52 deg. N. Lat. with extensive marginal Notes; Dimensions Five feet eight inches by Three feet ten inches.

Embracing all their late discoveries, and that part of the continent heretofore the least known. This Map will be compiled from the best maps now extant, as well published as in manuscript, from the collective information of the best informed travellers through the various portions of that region, and corrected by a series of several hundred celestial observations, made by captain Lewis during his late tour.

For the convenience of subscribers, these several works will be delivered at the most respectable commercial towns, and at the seats of government of the respective states and territories within the Union: no advance is required, nor will payment be demanded until such delivery is made.

The price of part the first, in two vols. will be ten dollars, and that of part the 2d in one volume, eleven dollars, delivered in boards. Price of the Map, 10 dollars.

Any persons who may have subscribed for these works, to lists which contain no stipulated prices for the same, and who may be dissatisfied with the terms now proposed, are at liberty to withdraw their names from such lists, at any time prior to the 1st day of December next.

Land for Sale,

About 380 acres of Woodland, from nine to ten miles from Baltimore, on the main road to Ellicott's upper Mills: there is a large quantity of timber and wood on this tract; it is allowed by good judges that it will average considerable more cords of wood per acre, than will pay the price I ask for it, as it stands, without any expense or trouble in cutting. The price of fire wood the last winter, with the increasing scarcity of that article on the tide waters, and near Baltimore, is thought will make this property of great value in a few years, to one that has the money to spare. The whole may be sold together or had in lots, as may best suit purchasers, one half the money will be required in hand, for the other half, two or three years credit will be given.
