For Publishing
LEWIS & CLARK'S TOUR TO THE PACIFIC OCEAN

THROUGH THE INTERIOR OF THE CONTINENT OF NORTH AMERICA, Performed by order of the Government of the United States, during the years 1804, 1805 and 1806.

THIS work will be prepared by captain Meriwether Lewis, and will be divided into two parts, the whole comprized in three volumes octavo, the first containing at least 700 pages, the second and third from four to five undred each, printed on good paper, and a fair Pica Type. The several volumes in succession will be put to press at as early periods as the avocations of the author will permit him to prepare them for publication.

Part the first: in two volumes.
Volume first.

WILL contain a narrative of the voyage, with a description of some of the most re-markable places in those hitherto unknown wilds of America, acompanied by a map of good size, a large chart of the entrance of the Columbia river, embracing the adjacent coun try, coast and harbors, and embellished with views of two beautiful cataracts of the Missouri ; the plan on a large scale, of the connected falls of that river, as also of those of the falls, narrows and great rapids of the Co-lumbia, with their several portages. For the information of future voy-gers, there will be added in the sequel of this volume, some observations and remarks on the navigation of the Missouri and Columbia Rivers, pointing out the precautions which must necessarily be taken, in order to ensure success, together with an itinerary of the most direct and practicable route across the continent of North America, from the confluence of the Miss u ri and Mississippi rivers to the discharge of the Columbia into the Pacific Ocean.

Volume Second. Whatever properly appertains to geography, embracing a description of the rivers, mountains, climate, soil and face of the coun try; a view of the Indian nations distributed over that vast region, showing their traditions, habits manners, customs, national characters, stature, complexions, dress, dwellings, arms, and domestic utensils, with many her interesting particulars in relation to them: also observations and reflections on the subjects of civilizing, governing and maining a friendly intercourse with those nations. A view of the far trade of North America, setting forth a plan for its extension, and showing the immense ad antages which would accrue to the mercantile interests of the United States, by combining the same with a direct trade to the East-Indies through the continent North America This volume will be em bellished with twenty plates illustrative of the dress and general appearance of such Todian nations as differ materially from each other; of their habitations; their weapons and habiliments used in war; their hunting and fishing apparatus; domestic utensis, &c. In an appendix there will also be given a diary of the weather sept with great attention thro' out the whole of the voyage, showing also the daily rise and fall of the principal water courses which were navigated in the course of the same

Part the second : in one volume. This part of the work will be confined ex-clusively to scientific research, and principal ly to the natural history of those hitherto unknown regions It will contain a full dissertain the notice of the anthor, and which may properly be distributed under the heads of Botany, Mineralogy, and Zoology, together with some strictures on the origin of Prairies, the cause of the muddiness of the Missouri, of volcanic appearances, and other natural ena which were met with in the course of this interesting tour. This volume will also centain a comparative view of twenty-three vocabularies of distinct Indian languages, procured by captains Lewis and Clark, on the voyage, and will be ornamented and embel lished with a much greater number of plates than will be bestowed on the first part of the work as it is intended that every subject of natural history which is entirely new, and of which there are a considerable number, shall be accompanied by an appropriate engraving illustrative of it. This distribution of the work has been made with a view to the accommodation of every description of readers, and is here offered to the patronage of the public in such shape, that all persons wishing to become subscribers, may accommodate themselves with either of the parts, or the entire work, as it shall be most convenient to themselves.

Detached from this work, there will be published LEWIS AND CLARK'S Map of North America,

From Long. 9 deg. west, to the Pacific Ocean, and between 36 deg. and 52 deg. N. Lat. with extensive marginal Notes; Dimensions Five feet eight inches by Three feet ten inches

Embracing all their late discoveries, and that part of the continent heretofore the least known. This Map will be compiled from the best maps now extant, as well published as in manuscript, from the collective information of the best informed travellers through the various portions of that region, and corrected by a series of several hundred celestial observations, made by captain Lewis during his late tour. For the convenience of subscribers, these several works will be delivered at the most respectable commercial towns, and at the seats of government of the respective states and territories within the Union: no advance is required, nor will payment be demanded until such delivery is made.

The price of part the first, in two vols. will be ten dollars, and that of part the 2d in one volume, eleven dollars, delivered in boards Price of the Map, 10 dollars.

Any persons who may have subscribed for these works, to lists which contain no stipulated prices for the same, and who may be dissatisfied with the terms now proposed, are at libeaty to withdraw their names from such lists, at any time prior to the 1st day of December next.
