Obstructions of our Harbor.

We cannot publish the following order of the common council passed last evening, without expressing our surprise, our sorrow and mortification, that such a step should have been taken. We shall hereafter take occasion to make some remarks on a subject in which every citizen of New-York, is less or more interested. Deprive it of its harbor, and it is no longer New-York. At present we shall barely ask if any clause can be produced either in the charter, or in any statute vesting the corporation with the power to interfere in any shape, with the harbor as far distant from low water mark as the place where they mean to lay these obstructions? And whence do they derive their authority to tax the inhabitants, to meet the expenses of their artificial reef of rocks? We fear here is more haste than good speed. [E. Post.]

IN COMMON COUNCIL,

August 31.
Resolved, That eight piers be sunk in the channel, opposite Oyster Reef, without delay. That the first pier be sunk 600 feet from said reef, and the others piers alternately at 600 feet from each other. That immediate notice be given in the public papers, that contracts will be received at the comptroller's office, until the 31 day of September next. The contracts to specify the number of piers each contractor will engage to sink, and the price per cubic foot.

DIMENSIONS.
1st pier to be 53 feet by 50 feet—31 feet in height.

2d Pier 50 by 50 36 do.

3d Pier, 60 feet at bottom, brought into 50 feet at top, in its position across the channel; and 70 feet at bottom, and 50 feet at top, to its position up and down the channel.

In confirmation of the account from Albany, of the hostile disposition of the western savages, we have seen a letter from a gentleman at the seat of government, stating that an Indian war is momentarily expected; and that the governors of several of the western states and territories have been ordered to make a detachment from the militia for the purpose of repelling any aggressions that may be made. It is stated that these savages have been excited to hostility by a pretended prophet among them, who says that the English, French and Spaniards are the descendants of the good spirit; but that the Americans are the creatures of the wicked spirit, and ought to be destroyed. It is suspected that the English traders among them have given countenance to this wicked imposture. [U. S. Gazette.]

The following paragraph is from the Aurora of yesterday, September 3. It is the standing boast of that paper, that it predicts in truth all matters of consequence that are to occur; that it details faithfully and honestly things as they do happen; and that it possesses an extended and universal confidence amongst its readers. Such an instance will shew, as fully as whole volumes of declaration, what is the real character of that paper.

From the Aurora of Sept. 3.

It appears, after all, that the late piratical enterprise in the Chesapeake Bay, on the ship Othello, is a brilliant achievement of our good friends the British—but no doubt the British prints will say it was "undoubtedly."

We are informed, that the Governors of Ohio, Michigan, and Indiana are immediately to be called on, by the government of the United States, to put forth the requisite militia to check the hostile spirit, which is manifested by the Northern Tribes (supposed to have been instigated by the English Traders among them) and, if necessary, to chastise the Savages. [Phil. Register.]

A new party is said to be forming in Pennsylvania, which are designated by their leader or founder, from a Creole epithet—QUADROONS—this epithet is appropriate enough in another view, since they are only the successors in fact and form of the third party or quids, and consist of the same materials, pursue the same measures, affect the same public spirit and disdain of federalism, with which they secretly combine, and whose only hopes are founded on sowing division, and preserving the places held by loyal servants of the reigning Dynastius. [Aurora.]

It was yesterday rumored in this city, but we do not vouch for the correctness of the rumour, that general Hull, governor of Michigan Territory, had retired from the attacks of the Indians. [N. Y. Paper.]

The Porto Rico Gazette, speaking of Miranda, says he is now reduced to the station of an overseer or negro driver of a sugar plantation, and a greater part of his artillery and military stores have been purchased at less than half price by the Spanish government, and are now at Porto-Rico.

TRIAL OF AARON BURR,

pital in the hall of the house of Delegates.) for high treason against the United States.

On Friday Mr. Martin resumed the discussion on the important motion before the court; and spoke 8 hours.

On Saturday he continued his argument and spoke till 3; that is 14 hours in all.
He was followed by Mr. Edmund Randolph, who spoke until 5.

We intended to have commenced in this number our sketch of the arguments of counsel on this question—but not being furnished in time with the notes of one of the counsel and this argument assuming additional interest from the circumstance of its being almost certainly the concluding argument on the prosecution for treason, we have determined to reserve it for our next paper, to give it more correctly and in greater detail.

Monday, August 31.

This day the court met a few minutes after 11, and the chief justice was occupied until half after two, in delivering the opinion of the court, on the motion before it.
The opinion was of course extremely elaborate and voluminous. We shall present a complete copy of it as soon as possible to the public, and in the mean time they must be satisfied with the following statement of its principal and very interesting conclusions. The following explanation will make those points more intelligible to our readers.

The counsel for Mr. Burr stopped the interrogation of Maurice P. Belnap, who was examined on the 20th ult. and moved the court to exclude further evidence upon this ground that the accused was proved not to have been present at the time of the overt act laid in the indictment:

In support of this motion they urged the following reasons:

1. That Burr not being present was merely an accessory, and not a principal, and therefore not punishable under the constitution and laws of the U. S.

2. That if he was a principal he was a principal only in the second degree, where guilt is merely derivative, and that therefore no parol evidence could be admitted against him, until a record was produced of the conviction of the offender in the first degree.

3. That the fact must be proved as laid in the indictment, and evidence proving the accused to have been absent at the time of the overt acts is inadmissible to support an indictment charging him with the commission of that act.

4. That no parol evidence could be given to connect the prisoner with the men assembled on Blannerhassett's island, until an act of treason in these men was proved; and that the assemblage there was not an act of treason.

We understand that in the first point, the opinion of the court was, that a man might commit treason in levying war against the U. S. without being present at the time of the overt act alleged in the indictment. Being leagued in the general conspiracy and performing a part in it was deemed sufficient.

The court admitted the second and third propositions to be correct.

On the fourth point, the court gave a very long and a very elaborate opinion as to an overt act of levying war. The opinion delivered by the supreme court in the case of Bollman and Swartwood, was declared to be not correctly understood, and that there must be, before an overt act of treason is completed, either the actual employment of force, or a military assemblage of men, who are in a posture of war.

As soon as the chief justice had concluded, Mr. Hay rose to observe, that the opinion just expressed by the court, furnished matter for the very serious consideration of the prosecution. As he had not very distinctly heard every part of the opinion, he hoped the court would allow him an hour or two for its more complete consideration.

He requested also the use of the opinion, for his more particular inspection. Some desultory conversation ensued on the possibility and propriety of printing it for the use of the court. This arrangement was however waved, when Mr. Hay requested the chief justice to permit him to have the use of the paper itself. The latter expressed some doubts about Mr. Hay's ability to decypher it, but cheerfully conceded to the request.

Mr. Hay moved an adjournment of the court until Wednesday, 12 o'clock, which Mr. Lee objected to, on account of the number of witnesses who were detained on the trial; and Mr. Randolph, on account of the inconveniences to which it would subject some of the jurymen. The chief justice then proposed to adjourn the court till 6 o'clock this evening; by which time, perhaps, the counsel for the prosecution might determine on the course which they would pursue. Mr. Wirt observed, that it would take at least till 6 o'clock to decypher the opinion. Chief Justice. We will adjourn the court till 6 o'clock; and if the prosecution are not ready, we may adjourn till a more distant time.

Mr. Burr. I would ask if necessary, that the jury should in the mean time go more at large. This proposition was finally rejected.

The court adjourned at 6, without doing any thing.

Tuesday, 11 o'clock.

The court met at 10 when Mr. Hay addressed them—I have looked into the opinion, and have neither argument nor evidence to offer to the jury.

Chief Justice. The jury may then retire.
Marshal conduct them out. The jury accordingly retired.

After an absence of 25 minutes, colonel Carrington, their foreman, reported the following verdict, endorsed upon the indictment.

"We of the Jury, find that Aaron Burr is not proved to be GUILTY under this indictment by a evidence submitted to us. We therefore find him not guilty."

Mr. Burr and his counsel objected to entering this form of the verdict on the record.

The court at length decided; that the verdict should remain on the indictment, and that the general verdict of not guilty, should be entered on the record.

Jonathan Dayton appeared. An affidavit was exhibited to prove that he was not at Blannerhassett's island at the time charged in the indictment; and he was accordingly discharged from it. He was then admitted to bail on the indictment for the misdemeanor in the sum of 10,000 dollars. A Mr.
Williamson of New Jersey and Luther Martin were his securities.

Mr. Hay informed the court that the counsel for the United States had not determined on the course which they should pursue; whether they should proceed to the trial of Aaron Burr on the indictment for a misdemeanor, or whether they should move the court to commit him for his trial in Kentucky where an overt act is said to have been committed at the mouth of Cumberland river.

From the rapidity of Mr. Woodbridge's utterance, some Errata have necessarily crept into our statement of his testimony. As we wish to catch every beam of light that can be shed on this interesting trial, we think it proper to correct them, in Mr.
Woodbridge's own words.

ERRATA—First column D. Woodbridge's testimony—answer to Mr. Hay, "colonel Burr wished to give me a draft on New-York for payment, &c." Instead of which I said, "I agreed to take a draft on New-York; but expressed to Mr. Blannerhassett, who handed me the draft, my dissatisfaction at the long sight on which it was drawn; viz. 90 days;" observing that the draft would not fall due until after the time in which the boats and provisions were to be delivered, and that I wished to run no hazard. Mr. Bl. with some warmth asked me if I doubted col. Burr's honor, and observed, that he would relieve my fears by guaranteeing the draft.

Second column of D. W.'s testimony—question by Mr. Wirt, "In having these boats built, did you understand they were built for Burr, or for Burr and Blannerhassett?"—Note—If this question was asked, I could have made no other answer, than that they were built for Burr.

Mr. Blannerhassett did not, as was stated tell me the use that was to be made of the boats. In my narrative of Mr. Blannerhas-sett's communication to me, I am made to say, "I evaded his question, but could not avoid telling him I thought my situation better than a precarious one."—I did not evade his question, but did tell him I thought my situation better than a precarious one.

Answer to Mr. Wirt's question—instead of "his landed property cost 50,000 dollars," &c. Say the Island and improvements cost about 40 or 50,000 it would not however sell for near that sum, except to a person of similar taste, with Mr. Blannerhassett.

Mr. Hay's question—"If delivered to Blannerhassett, would you not have considered yourself as delivering them (the boats) to one of Burr's associates?" I made to answer "I do not know what I should have thought."—It is impossible that I should have made that answer, for I just before stated that Mr. Blannerhassett had told me he had embarked with col. B. and I never had any reason to doubt it.

With respect to the questions generally about Mr. Blannerhassett's property, I did not speak positively. The expression from Tyler, I was positive in. [Esquire.]
