BRITISH SEAMEN.

It is stated in the late London papers. that Berkley will be recalled, and that his successor is to have an accession of force under his command. If we may form an opinion from the many desertions announced in the New-York papers, he will soon require a large supply of seamen.

From a Boston haper of Sept. 7. LATEST FROM EUROPE.

By the Sally-Ann, capt. Glover, arrived on Friday last from Liverpool, we have received London papers to the 31st July, and Liverpool to the 1st August.

They furnish a great variety of important and interesting information.

The war between France & Sweden was recommenced on the 13th July. Several skirmishes had taken place, in all which the latter troops were worsted, and were leaving Pomerania for the strong position at Stral-sund. It was confidently expected, however, that his Swedish majesty would, before the fall of that place, which was immediately to be invested by a powerful army. accept the terms of peace offered by Bonaparte, as the emperor Alexander had offered his mediation, and strongly recommended the measure. What effect the succors which have been sent to this prince by England, will have on his mind, it is deficult to say ; but calculating on events of recent time, there seems to be but little hazard in surmising, that whatever assistance he may receive, or however bravely and pertinaciously he may adhere to his original plan of opposing the arms of France, he will be compelled, at length, to yield to the fate that has befallen, alike, his powerful as well as feeble neigh-

This event is considered in England as unavoidable-and every hope of future assistance on the continent, as lost forever.

AMERICAN AFFAIRS.

Our readers will glance with avidity on every article of our foreign department, which relates in any way to the affairs of this country. To the several matters which will be found in that place, we therefore add the following, from the Sun of July 30 : "A considerable number of merchants, engaged in trade to America, yesterday assembled at the London tavern for the purpose of entering into a consideration of the probable effects which the late action between his Majesty's ship Leopard, and Chesapeake American frigate, may produce upon our in-tercourse with the U. States. Mr. Sansom, the banker, who was called to the chair, informed the company, that he had been favored with an interview with the Secretary of State, (Mr. Canning) on the important subject which had occasioned the present meeting, and it was with much pleasure he stated, that the honorable secretary manifested an earnest desire to preserve the most amicable relations between the two countries; but that as no authentic particulars had yet come under the cognizance of government respecting the late unfortunate transaction, it was impossible to enter into a discussion as to its probable consequences. Mr. Sansom, however, had the satisfaction gave it. of adding, that in order to maintain a friendly dispositon, Mr. Canning had already had an interview with Mr. Munroe, the American minister, at which it was mutually agreed, that if the conduct of either of the commanders should be found censurable, the aggrieved state should receive all proper reparation from the other. This information was highly gratifying to the company, and must of course have the same effect upon the public at large, who may be assured that ministers will neither compromise the honor of their country, nor give auy sanction to a wonton attack upon any other state with which we are in amity." DEFENCE OF ENGLAND. The British parliament were warmly engaged in bringing forward some plans of national defence more consonant to the spirit of the enemy which opposes that country, than those founded on the militia or volunteer system. Mr. Lochart, in the house of Commons, July 27, speaking on the subject observes :---- It was only by adopting the vigorous system of the enemy to whom we were opposed, that we could be a match for him. It was stated in a late Bulletin, that the French soldiers laughed at the Cossacks for opposing them with arrows. Would they not equally laugh at this country for apposing them by measures less vigorous than their own. The people of England must, if it should be necessary which he hoped it would not, be forced to defend themselves and their country ; and he thought it impossible they could feel dis. gust at a measure necessary to the safety of their country. This was the moment to exert all our energies, for the preservation of every thing dear to us against the vengeance and rapacity of an enemy, who, if he should conquer us, would leave us nothing. He had told his army at Ulm, that he would wreak on this country 500 years of vengeance. He had not said this without meaning, but he spoke historically, for it was just 500 years that this country had been the rival of France. He had spoken this to the Inst and avarice of his soldiers. He had not broken his word in any thing cruel with the nations of the continent, and was it to be supposed he would break it with this country, if the performance ever came within his power ? It was only by the vigorous exertions of our best energies that our safety fair, if not the next fair day, at No. 59, North was to be secured; and it was better to bear Gay-street, to rectify a dispute concerning a partial and temporary evil, than utter and the said Lot Ail these concerned will please frretrievable ruin.

PHOENIX COMPINY OF LONDON, Is fully authorised to effect insurance on Houses, Buildings, Stores, Ships in Harbor, Goods Wares, and Merchandize, in any part of the state of Maryland, FROM LOSS OR DAMAGE BY FIRE,

On terms so moderate, as will, it is pre-sumed, make it the interest of all to resort to a measure so well calculated to give additionsecurity to commercial transactions, and to afford protection from the injuries which Fires have so often occasioned.

In this Office, no insured person is liable to any call to make good the losses of others, but in case of Fire, the sufferer will be fully indemnified with that liberality and prompt-ness which have always distinguished this company; requiring no other delay (even where presumption of fraud appears) than is necessary to distinguish the honest sufferer from the fraudulent incendiary.

As a proof of the usefulness of this institution and the benefit that individuals have de rived from it, it is only necessary to state, that since the commencement of the Office, in 1782, near SEVEN MILLIONS OF DOLLARS have been paid to claimants upon their policies. The following is published for the information of those who reside at a distance. CONDITIONS OF INSURANCE. I. PERSONS desirous to make Insurance on BUILDINGS, are to deliver in to the agent the following particulars, viz. Of what ma-terials the walls and roof of each building are constructed, as well as the construction of the buildings contiguous thereto-whether the same are occupied as private dwellings, or how otherwise-where situated-also, the name or names of the present occupiers.

Each building must be separately valued, and a specified sum insured thereon-and in like manner a separate sum insured on the property contained therein

All manufactories which contain furnaces. kins, stoves, coakels, e ens. or sotherwise use fire-heat, are chargeable at additional rates.

And when any loss or damage shall have been duly proved, the insured shall receive satisfaction to the full a-mount thereof, without allowance of any discount, fees; or other deduction whatever.

X. Per ons choosing to insure for sevan years, will be charged for six years only; also, for a less number of years than seven, will be allowed a reasonable discount. Pitch, Tar, Turpentine; Saltpet Hemp, Oils, and Tallow, are deer-oils Goods. Tallow pattern

Ships in port, and their cargoes; ships building or repairing; also, barges, and other small craft, with goods on board, may be ins sured against fire, at 75 cents for one year; 45 cents for six months, and 37 1-2 cents for three months per 100 dollars. Barns, Stables, Hay and Grain contained in them, or in stacks or ricks, and Live Stock, will be insured at such premiums as may be agreed on.

The rates on buildings (and on property con-tained in them) depend so much on the materials of which they are constructed, the purposes for which they are used, and their sinuation with respect to other buildings that may be deemed hazardous, that particular attention is requested to these circumstances in the orders for insurance.

In cases requiring a surveyor's report or plan of the buildings, where there are several, showing their stuation with respect to each other and to other buildings, such survey or plan must be furnished by the assured, or at his expense ; but where a clear des rip ion of the property can be given, of which the agent must be the judge, they may be dispensed with. In stating the sum for which insurance may be requested on any property, it should be re-collected, that indemnity only is the object of insurance against fire, and that benefit or expetted propt or advantage, beyond a just estimate of the value of the property destroyed, is against the principles of the contract. ### PROPOSALS

bor, goods, wares and merchandize, FROM LOSS CR DAMAGE BY FLRE. Insurance from loss or damage by Fire hath beer found a measure of great importance to the happi ness of families, and has given additional security to commercial tran actions. The distinguished ap-probation with which the public through ut Great-Britain received the improved system of this office, eccasioned frequent application for the insurance of property in the principal cities and towns in Eu-rope and America, and induced the company ma ny years since to extend their plan to the continents of Europe and America, and to the West-India The Phœnix Company can refer to the islands. unerring test of experience to ascertain their character; and, gratified by the unbounded confidence they have obtained, and for the purpose of facilitat-ng to the inhabitants the means of effecting insurance on their property, the directors have lately de-termined to extend the sum which they have been accustomed to insure in any single risk, and have arranged rates of premium upon the various des-criptions of property, which, they trust, will be tound moderate, just and equitable. The prompti-fude with which this office has adjusted the claims of sufferers, and the solidity of its funds, are so well known, that it is unnecessary to offer more on the subject, than to refer those who desire information, to the merchants of London, with whom they cor-
