Education.
We the undersigned do certify, that having attended an examination of the pupils of Mr. Patrick Edwards, on the elements of the English Language, we were much satisfied with the plan he has adopted, which certainly tends to strengthen the memory, and to confirm them in a knowledge of the science. What his scholars acquire they are made perfectly to understand, and their progress appears to be accelerated by the exercises in which they are daily engaged. His method of teaching to write is very judicious, and has been attended with remarkable success.

TREATY
BETWEEN FRANCE AND RUSSIA.
From the Roy. l'Agence Courant extraordinary, Tuesday July 28, 1807.
PARIS, July 25.

Yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock the prince, arch-chancellor of the empire laid the two treaties before the senate which have been concluded with Russia and Prussia. He at the same time made a very impressive and dispirited address to the senate. Between his majesty the emperor of the French, king of Italy, and his majesty the emperor of all the Russias. His majesty the emperor of the French, king of Italy, protector of the confederation of the Rhine, and his majesty the emperor of Russia, animated with the same interest in putting an end to the devastation of the war have for this purpose, nominated and furnished with full power on part of his majesty the emperor of France and king of Italy, Charles Maurice Talleyrand, prince of Benevento, his great Chamberlain, and minister for foreign affairs, grand cross of the black, and red eagle of the order of St. Hubert.

His majesty the emperor of all the Russias has, on his part appointed prince Kourakin, his actual privy councillor—Member of the council of state and of the senate; chancellor of all the orders of the empire, ambassador extraordinary, and plenipotentiary of his majesty the emperor of all the Russias to his majesty the emperor of Austria, knight of the Russian order of St. Andrew, of St. Alexander; of St. Ube; of the first class of the order of St. Wolodimit, and of the second class of the Prussian order of the black and red eagle; and the Danish order of Dennebrog, and of the perfect union, and bailiff and grand cross of the sovereign order of St. John of Jerusalem; and prince Demoty Labasoff Van Rostoff, lieutenant demoty of the armies of his majesty the emperor of all the Russias, knight of the first class of the St. Anne, of the military order of St. Joris, and of the third class of the order of Wolodimit.

The above mentioned after exchanging their full powers, have agreed upon the following articles:
Art. 1. From the day of exchanging the ratification of the present treaties, there shall be perfect peace and amity between his majesty the emperor of the French and king of Italy, and his majesty the emperor of all the Russias.
Art. 2. Hostilities shall immediately cease at all points by sea or land, as soon as the intelligence of the present treaty shall be officially received, in the meanwhile, the high contracting parties shall dispatch couriers extraordinary to their respective commanders.
Art. 3. All ships of war or other vessels belonging to the high contracting parties or their subjects, which may be captured after the signing of this treaty shall be restored. In case of these vessels being sold, their value shall be returned.
Art. 4. Out of the esteem for his majesty the emperor of all the Russias, and to afford to him a proof of his sincere desire to unite both nations in the bands of immutable confidence and friendship, the emperor Napoleon wishes that all the countries, towns and territories conquered from the king of Prussia, the ally of his majesty the emperor of all the Russias, should be restored, namely, that part of the duchy of Magdeburgh, situated on the right bank of the Rhine; the Mark of Prignitz; the Uker Mark; the Middle and New Mark of Brandenburg, with the exception of the circle of Kothus in Lower Alsace; the duchy of Pomerania; Upper Lower and New Silesia, and the county of Glatz; that part of the district of the Netze, which is situated to the northward of the road of Drieten and Scheidmuth through Waldau to the Vistula, and extending along the frontier of the circle of Bromberg; and the navigation of the river Netze and the canal of Bromberg, from Drieten to the Vistula and back, must remain open and free of all tolls; Pomerania; the island of Nogat; the country on the right bank of the Vistula and of the Nogat, to the West of Old Prussia, and to the northward of the circle of Culm; Ermland. Lastly the kingdom of Prussia, as it was on the 1st of January 1772; together with the fortresses of Spandan, Stettin, Custrin, Glogau, Breslan, Schweidnitz, Neisse, Breig, Kosel, and Glatz, and in general all fortresses, citadels, castles, strong holds of the countries above named, in the same condition in which those fortresses, citadels, castles and strong holds may be at present; also, in addition to the above, the city and citadel of Grandentz.

Art. 5. Those provinces, which, on the 1st January, 1772, formed a part of the kingdom of Poland, and have since, at different times been subjected to Prussia, (with the exception of the countries named or alluded to in the preceding article, and of those which shall be described below the 9th article) shall become the possession of his majesty the king of Saxony, with power of possession and sovereignty, under the title of the duchy of Warsaw, and shall be governed according to a regulation, which shall insure the liberties and privileges of the people of the said duchy, and be consistent with the security of the neighboring states.

Art. 6. The city of Dantzic, with a territory of two leagues around the same, is restored to her former independence, under the protection of his majesty the king of Prussia and his majesty the king of Saxony; to be governed according to the laws by which she was governed at the time when she ceased to be her own mistress.

Art. 7. For a communication betwixt the kingdom of Saxony and the duchy of Warsaw, his majesty the king of Saxony is to have the free use of a military road through the states of his majesty the king of Prussia. This road, the number of troops which are allowed to pass at once, and the resting places, shall be fixed by a particular agreement between the two sovereigns, under the mediation of France.

Art. 8. Neither his majesty the king of Prussia, his majesty the king of Saxony, nor the city of Dantzic, shall oppose any obstacles whatever, to the free navigation of the Vistula under the name of tolls, rights or duties.

Art. 9. In order as far as possible to establish a natural boundary between Russia and the duchy of Warsaw, the territory between the present confines of Russia from the Bug to the mouth of the Lassaona, shall extend in a line from the mouth of the Lassaona along the towing path of the said river, and that of the Bobra up to its mouth; that of the Narew, from the mouth of that river as far as Suradiz; from Lissa to its source near the village of Mein; from this village to Nutzeck, and from Nutzeck to the mouth of that river beyond Nurr; and finally along the towing path of the Bug upwards to extend as far as the present frontiers of Russia. This territory is forever united to the empire of Russia.

Art. 10. No person of any rank or quality whatever, whose residence or property may be within the limits stated in the above mentioned article, nor any inhabitant in those provinces of the ancient kingdom of Poland, which may be given up to his majesty the king of Prussia, or any person possessing estates, revenues, pensions, or any other kind of income, shall be molested in his person, or in any way whatever, on account of his rank, quality, estates, revenues, pensions, income, or otherwise, or in consequence of any part, political or military, which he may have taken in the events of the present war.

Art. 11. All contracts and engagements between his majesty the king of Prussia, & the ancient possessors, relative to the general impost, the ecclesiastical, the military or civil benefices, the creditors or pensioners of the old Prussian government, are to be settled between the emperor of all the Russias and his majesty the king of Saxony; and to be regulated by their said majesties, in proportion to their acquisitions according to article 5 and 9.

Art. 12. Their royal highnesses the dukes of Saxe, Cobourg, Oldenburg, and Mecklenburg Schweren, shall each of them be restored to the complete and quiet possession of their estates, but the ports in the duchies of Oldenburg and Mecklenburg shall remain in the possession of French garrisons till the definitive treaty shall be signed between France and Britain.

Art. 13. His majesty the emperor Napoleon accepts of the mediation of the emperor of all the Russias, in order to negotiate and conclude a definitive treaty of peace between France and Britain, however, only upon condition that this mediation shall be accepted by Britain in one month after the exchange of the ratification of the present treaty.

Art. 14. His majesty the emperor of all the Russias, being desirous on his part to manifest how ardently he desires to establish the most intimate and lasting relations between the two emperors, acknowledges his majesty Joseph Napoleon, king of Naples, and his majesty Louis Napoleon, king of Holland.

Art. 15. His majesty, the emperor of all the Russias, acknowledges the confederation of the Rhine, the present state of the possessions of the princes belonging to it, and the titles of those which were conferred upon them by the act of confederation, or by the subsequent treaties of accession. His said majesty also promises,—information being communicated to him on the part of the emperor Napoleon, to acknowledge those sovereigns who may hereafter become members of the confederation, according to their rank specified in the act of confederation.

Art. 16. His majesty the emperor of all the Russias cedes all his property in the right of sovereignty to the lordship of Jever, in East Friesland, to his majesty the king of Holland.

Art. 17. The present treaty of peace shall be mutually binding, and in force for his majesty the king of Naples, Joseph Napoleon, his majesty Louis Napoleon, king of Holland, and the sovereigns of the confederation of the Rhine, in alliance with the emperor Napoleon.

Art. 18. His majesty the emperor of all the Russias also acknowledges his imperial highness prince Jerome Napoleon, as king of Westphalia.

Art. 19. The kingdom of Westphalia shall consist of the provinces ceded by the king of Prussia on the left bank of the Elbe, and other states at present in the possession of his majesty the emperor Napoleon.

Art. 20. His majesty the emperor of all the Russias engages to recognize the limits which shall be determined by his majesty the emperor Napoleon, in pursuance of the foregoing 19th article, and the cessions of his majesty the king of Prussia (which shall be notified to his majesty the emperor of all the Russias) together with the state of possession resulting therefrom, to the sovereign for whose behalf they shall have been established.

Art. 21. All hostilities shall immediately cease between the troops of his majesty the emperor of all the Russias, and those of the Grand Seignior, at all points, wherever official intelligence shall arrive of the signing of the present treaty. The high contracting parties shall, without delay, dispatch Couriers extraordinary to convey the intelligence, with the utmost possible expedition, to the respective generals and commanders.

Art. 22. The Russian troops shall be withdrawn from the province of Moldavia, but the said provinces may not be occupied by the troops of the grand Seignior, till after the exchange of the ratifications of the future definitive treaty of peace between Russia and the Ottoman porte.

Art. 23. His majesty the emperor of all the Russias accepts the mediation of his majesty the emperor of France and king of Italy, for the purpose of negotiating a peace advantageous and honorable to the two powers, and of concluding the same.

The respective Plenipotentiaries shall repair to that place which will be agreed upon by the two powers concerned there to open the negotiations, and to proceed therewith.

Art. 24. The periods within which the high contracting parties shall withdraw their troops from the places which they are to evacuate pursuant to the above stipulations, as also the manner in which the different stipulations contained in the present treaty shall be executed, will be settled by a special agreement.

Art. 25. His majesty the emperor of the French, king of Italy, and his majesty the emperor of all the Russias mutually ensure to each other the integrity of their possessions, and of those of the powers included in this present treaty in the state in which they are now settled, pursuant to the above stipulations.

Art. 26. The prisoners made by the contracting parties, or those included in the present treaty, shall be restored in a mass, and without any cartel of exchange, on both sides.

Art. 27. The commercial relations between the French empire, the kingdom of Naples and Holland, and the Confederated states of the Rhine, on the one side, and the empire of Russia on the other, shall be replaced on the same footing as before the war.

Art. 28. The ceremonial between the two courts of the Tuilleries, and Petersburgh, with respect to each other, and also their respective ambassadors, ministers, and Envoys, mutually accredited to each other, shall be placed on the footing of complete equality and reciprocity.

Art. 29. The present treaty shall be ratified by his majesty the emperor of the French, king of Italy, and his majesty the emperor of all the Russias; the ratifications shall be exchanged in this city within the space of four days.

LONDON, August 3.

Early on Saturday morning a gentleman arrived at Mr. Secretary Canning's office, with dispatches from the continent, which were taken into consideration at a cabinet council held at one o'clock. The council sat till near six o'clock, when Mr. Miles, the messenger, was ordered to hold himself in readiness to leave town at an hour's notice, for the continent.

The expedition which sailed from the Downs on Friday, under the command of lord Inlaw, it is stated, has on board about 15000 men.

Dispatches were received from admiral Gambier, who, we understand, was about to pass the Sound when they were sent off. Our readers saw, by the Tonnigen mail which arrived on Friday night, that Bernadotte had set off in great haste for Copenhagen, with a message from Bonaparte. The object of it is believed to be to induce Denmark to declare against this country, menacing her with over-running Holstein, if she refuses. Admiral Gambier, however, we
