MANCHESTER, May 16, 187.

My very Dear Sir,

Though laboring under much bodily indisposition, which renders the use of my pen burdensome, I cannot forego the oppertunit of inclosing a few lines to you, in the packet of books which our Society here with send ou because I wish to acknowledge, thankfully, the receipt of your two last lavors, the the receipt of your two last layors, the first bearing date, June 1st, 18 6, the second Nov. 18, 1806. You must however excuse my replying to the questions contained in them, until I acquire more strength, when, if ever the time arries, I shall be happy to resume my pen, and give you the real sentiments of my mind. You will perceive, from the contents of the packet, that I have been again using the weapons of concreversy, in replying to the weapons of the "Christian Observer," on the " Plain Answers," &c. Of this last work you expressed a wish to have fifty copies sent you but on mentioning the business to our society they thought it would be best to send you 25 copies of the "Plain Answers," and 25 of the answer to the Christian Observer. From the Copy of our report, which is also inclosed in the packet, you will perceive what liberty we have taken with your letters, and how we have endeavored to give circulation to the important information which they contain This, I trust, will be a motive with you for continuing your interesting communications

It will give you pleasure to hear that the new doctrines are making their way, gradually, in this country, through all orders and ranks of people, and this. I trust not only by an illumination of the understanding through the knowledge of the truth, but by the more efficacious purification of the will and life from all defiled affections, through the influence of a heavenly love and charity. We already rackon up between thirty and forty of the regular clergy, who have become devout readers u have perhaps been informed of the general conference of the ministers of the New Church, which was held at London last week : Nothing has yet come down to the society here respecting what was done on the occasion, but we expect their report will be shortly published.

I have now exhausted all my strength, and must therefore conclude with my best pray ers for yourself and the society over which you preside, that you may be enriched with every blessing from the Father of mercies, & attain unto all the peace of the New Jerusalem. In the spirit of this prayer, I remain, dear Sir, more than words can express, your affectionate friend and brother. JOHN CLOWES.
