THEATRICAL.

The managers of our theatre have got up the tragedy of Gastavus Vasa, by Brook for this evening: a piece justly celebrated for the genuine sentiments of liberty it breathes in every page.

This piece had been long banished from the British stage, as containing too pure a democratic spirit, to be suitable to the taste of the government that of country, untill it was, some time since, brought forward by the celebrated Charles James Fox. deceased - ho after pruning those branches too luxprient in patriotism for that climate, and suiting it to the palate of the dramatic licencer, had it represented on the London stage, " shorn of its beams" -but still retainan sufficient attraction to assemble crouded h u es. Betore an American audience it will, this evening, appear in its original garb; and we doubt not of its exciting a general interest from its speaking home to the feelings of every lover of his c untry.

It will be succeeded by a new musical afterpiece, called the 'Soldier's Return,' never performed in America. As it will have the hole strength of the company, there can be no doubt of its being favorably receiv-

It is but justice to the managers to observe, that they have spared neither trouble nor expence in bringing forward pieces both splendid and novel for the entertainment of the town-and we are much concerned that the unusual severity of the weather has prevented their remuneration. SENEX.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

From our Correspondent. Washington, November 21.

Proceedings this day.
On motion of Mr. Crowninshield, Resolved. That the clerk of the house of representatives furnish the respective standing committees with such maps as may be required by the said committees.

On motion of Mr. Newton, Ordered, That each of the standing committees be furnished by the clerk with Graydon's Digest of the Laws of the United States.

Mr. Clopton, from the committee of revisal and unfinished business, made a report in part, which was ordered to be printed. The house went into committee of the whole on the report of the committee to hom was referred the petition of Sir James The report of the committee concludes plain bosom cut very low, trimmed tel que la | as follows: Resolved, That it shall be lawful for the President of the U.S. to obtain by purchase at a reasonable price, for the use of the public, the exclusive right to the System invented by Sir James Jay, and submitted by him to the executive department: provided, that in the opinion of the President it shall be of public utility and importance to possess which is stated to have been of essential service during the revolutionary war.] After some discussion, the question was taken on agreeing to the resolution, and it was carried committee of the whole then rose, and reported their agreement to the resolution and on the motion to concur, Mr. D. R. Williams, after remarking that the decision made in committee of the whole was novel and unprecedented, called for the ayes and noes: They were accordingly taken, and the resolution was agreed to, ayes 54, noes 53. The resolution was referred to a select committee for the purpose of bringing in 2

The principal objections to this resolution were, that there was no certainty of this invention being still a secret, or that it would hereafter remain so; that even if it were, it would be of little use, as it might be discovered, and as there were other and better methods of secret communication; and that the house were voting away the public mo-ney, without knowing for what purpose. --On the other hand it was argued, that the house might be satisfied as to the composition being yet a secret, and that they might demand security for its being kept so; that the use of it had been of great service to Gen. Washingson, during the revolutionary war; that if we did not avail ourselves of it, some other nation might get possession of it; and, that its value might be axed by the bill o be brought in.

Mr. Van Cortlandt presented a memorial from Peter Landais, praying compensation for services performed during the revoluti-Referred to the committee of claims. The house then adjourned a little before two o'clock.
