Whereas,

HUMPHREY PEIRCE has thought proper to introduce my name in the public papers, without my knowledge or consent, and that too, in such a questionable shape—notifying all those indebted to me to make immediate payment to him, as the only person, in the absence of my brother, authorised to settle the business of my estate; which would seem to imply something he does not avow, at the same time compels me, in justice to myself and creditors, to request all persons concerned, to defer forming an opinion or complying with the said Humphrey Peirce's notice for a few days, as a second meeting of my creditors will shortly take place, when a statement of my affairs will be laid before them.

The EMBARGO.
