A NEW AND GREATLY IMPROVED
FAMILY PHYSICIAN,
Entitled

THE PLANTER'S AND MARINER'S MEDICAL COMPANION.

By JAMES EWELL, PHYSICIAN IN SAVANNAH.

RECOMMENDATIONS

In testimony of the merits of this work, the following certificates presented by some of the most distinguished Medical characters of the United States, are inserted.

Philadelphia, December 31, 1807.

Sir,

I have read your book entitled "The Planter's and Mariner's Medical Companion" with pleasure, and think it worthy the attention of of the citizens of the United States.

W. SHIPPEN, M. D.
Professor of Anatomy

Philadelphia, December 31, 1807.

Dear Sir,

I have carefully perused your work just printed, entitled "The Planter's and Mariner's Medical Companion." I take much pleasure in expressing my entire approbation of the plan of the work, and of the utility with which you have conducted your inquiries Your book cannot fail to be a very acceptable present to the public in general, and especially of our own Countrymen I really am of opinion, that you are entiled to much praise for the pains which you have taken in furnishing us with a work, such as the "Medical Companion," the want of which, has long been experienced among us.

With sincere wishes for your health and happiness, and for the continuance of your usefulness,

I remain, my dear Sir,
Your friend, &c.
B. S BARTON, M. D.
Professor of Materia Medica, Natural History, and Botany.
Dr. James Ewell.

December 28th, 1807.

I have read "The Planter's and Mariner's Medical Companion," by Dr. James Ewell of the State of Georgia, with pleasure and satisfaction. It is a book containing a variety of matter in a small compass. The practice which he recommends in diseases, is modern and judicious, and the work cannot fail of being extremely useful, in all families in the U. States.

JAMES WOODHOUSE, M. D.
Professor of Chemistry, in the University of Pennsylvania.
Dr. James Ewell.

Philadelphia, December 26th, 1807.

Dear Sir,

I have looked over "The Planter's and Mariner's Medical Companion" with great pleasure, and not a little instruction I find it an excellent remembrancer of much that I have already learnt from other works, and from professional experience. Being better adapted to the general circumstances of the people of the United States than any other production of the kind hitherto published, it cannot fail to prove an invaluable "Companion" to those remote from medical aid. That all your views in the publication of it may be more than realized, is the sincere wish of

Your friend and
Obedient Servant,
CHARLES CALDWELL, M. D.
Dr. James Ewell.

Philadelphia, December 29, 1807.

Dear Sir,

The work entitled, "The Planter's and Mariner'o Medical Companion," which you were good enough to submit to my examination, I have read very attentively, and I consider it the most useful popular treatise on medicine, hitherto published.

The writings of Tissot, Buchan, and Reece on this subject, have deservedly acquired reputation; but their practice is adapted rather to the diseases of the Countries in which they lived, than to those of our own

A well digested work, in a style plain and familiar, which should inculcate a practice suited to the diseases of the United States has been long required You have now supplied the want I trust that your very valuable book may be widely circulated. It is certainly calculated to do much good. Every family should purchase and carefully read it.

N. CHAPMAN, M. D.
Lecturer on Midwifery, and the diseases of Women and Children.
Dr. James Ewell.

DEAR SIR,

I have looked over your "Medical Companion" with pleasure and satisfaction, and approve of the design. The arrangement of the various parts is judicious, the language is plain and perspicuous, and the sentiments happily condensed—the modes of treatment grow out of the most improved state of our science, and may serve not only as a safe and useful guide to the "Planter & Mariner," but are well calculated, from their intrinsic merit, to suggest valuable hints to the medical practitioner.

Every family, cut off from the regular services of able physicians, would, in my opinion, with advantage, possess one of your volumes. Accept the homage of my regard.

JOHN B. DAVIDGE, M. D
Professor of Anatomy, Surgery, &c. in the College of Medicine of Maryland.
Baltimore, Feb. 19th, 1808.

Baltimore, March 3d, 1808.

DEAR SIR,

We have read over your publication entitled the "Planter's and Mariner's Medical Companion" with much satisfaction, and consider it as meriting esteem for the concise and accurate history which it gives of the various diseases of the human body, (few if any of which, we believe are omitted) and the method of cure, which is both rational and agreeable to our experience We are happy that you have made use of the new facts that have occured in medicine, in that plain and easy manner which renders them easy comprehended and acted upon by persons of moderate knowledge in disease. We can recommend it, with propriety, to that class of citizens who have not an opportunity or means of procuring regular medical advice, and consider it as fully answering the intention of your benevolence to people of these states, in its compilation.

We are your well wishers,
LITTLEJOHN & DONALDSON.
Dr. James Ewell.

DEAR SIR,

We have perused you book, entitled the "Planter's & Mariner's Medical Companion," with much satisfaction, and strongly recommend it to the attention of those families who cannot, with convenience, procure medical aid. We think it the best publication we have ever read, on the domestic treatment of diseases, more especially as it regards those of our climate.

We are,
Very respectfully,
Sir,
Your most obd't servants,
BROWN & MACKENZIE.
Dr. James Ewell.
Baltimore, 4th March, 1808.

SIR,

I have read your work on Domestic Medicine, with pleasure. The practice recommended in it is, I think, judicious, and I have no doubt that the solitary planter and the voyager, secluded from medical aid, will often be under great obligations to you. Your work is the first that has been written for family use in this country, and being from the pen of a native physician, has great advantages over the publications of Buchan and Tissot / If its dissemination shall prove equal to what it merits, you will soon have a call for another edition.

I am, with respect,
JOHN SHAW, A. M.
Professor of Chemistry, in the College of Medicine of Maryland.

I have carefully perused your Medical Companion," and have much pleasure in asserting that it abounds with excellent observations, well calculated to convey valuable instruction to all who are possessed of regular information on the subjects of which it treats. It is easy of comprehension, and has an important advantage in being short, whilst it leaves little that is essential unnoticed Heads of families will find it a useful guide on many interesting occasions. Were indeed, men in general to give more attention to the principles of diseases, and the means of remedying them, their ravages might be much more extensively mitigated. With my best wishes for your success in your endeavors to lessen the sum of human evils, I beg you to be assured, that I am, Doar Sir, yours with sincere regard.

To the Millers, Manufacturers

of FLOUR & MEAL in the UNITED STATES

THE subscriber has obtained letters patent under the authority of the United States, in pursuance of an act of Congress in this case made and provided, securing to him, &c. the exclusive right, for fourteen years, of making, vending, &c. his improvement "in the art of manufacturing flour and meal, and in the several machines which he has discovered, invented, improved and applied to that purpose," consisting of the Elevator, the Conveyer, the Hopperboy, the Drill, and the Kilndryer.

By means of which machines and devises, all moved by the power which moves the mill, the patentee accomplishes his great improvement in the art of milling, which consists in raising and conveying the grain from one place to another; in elevating the meal, as ground, in small separate parcels, spreading, stirring, turning and gathering it by constant motion and rotation, until bolted; at the same time exposing it to the free action of the air; while the heat, generated by grinding, or artificially communicated to it by the Kilndryer, during the process, operates to expel the superfluous moisture. Thus the flour is prepared immediately for bolting, all danger of fermentation is avoided, and it is packed in a condition to keep sweet. By this machinery also, labor is saved, expence is lessened, waste is prevented, and the manufacture is in all respects improved.

All those, who have any part of the above machinery in use, and have not obtained a license for the same, are required to pay the license money without delay, to the subscriber, at Philadelphia, or to Nathaniel Williams attorney at law, in Baltimore. A reasonable time will be allowed for a compliance with this invitation, after which suits will be instituted against all delinquints, the costs of which may equal, perhaps exceed the sums demanded. The patentee is determined, however, that the money received from those who promptly pay, shall not, as heretofore, be expended in efforts to collect from the tardy defaulters. There will henceforth be demanded a higher price for the use of the machinery; a price bearing a nearer proportion to the importance of the invention, the value of which, in one mill, is at least 600 dollars a year. The former rate has been too far below the benefit afforded, and has but ill repaid the labor and expence bestowed on the discovery. Those who have the machinery in use may procure their licenses, by paying the former price, with interest from the time the same became due, provided they do so in a short & reasonable time, but all who fail to comply with these terms, will be required to pay the additional price.

The subscriber likewise requests those, who use his Patent Screw-Mill for breaking plaister, in either of its forms, speedily to pay the licence money due for the same, or they will incur the cost and vexations of a suit.—This invention although slowly adopted, is now found to be extremely useful; and the patantee has a just claim to remuneration for the discovery. He has established an Iron foundery and a Smith's shop, for the purpose of casting and constructing his Screw-Mills, and Steam-Engines for sale, and no other person is licensed to do the same in Pennsylvania. He repeats, that he is determined his Patent Rights shall not be any longer infringed with impunity.

Sixth Regiment.

The district alloted to this regiment which comprehends all that part of the city, South of Great York-street and East of Jones's Falls, has been by the field Officers, divided by a line running along the middle of Bond st. the east & west divisions have each of them been subdivided into 5 company districts and will be enrolled by the captains or other officers of each district, and the men capable of bearing arms, between the ages of 18 and 45 will be enrolled, but a certificate shewing that they belong to a volunteer company will excuse them from turning out on the militia day of their district, a certificate from the surgeon of the regiment will excuse any person from duty by reason of bodily infirmity, and a certificate from a minister of the gospel will excuse any from duty by reason of conscientious scruples and no application for an excuse, need be made in any other way, as the whole of the district will be immediately enrolled; the colonel expects that no impediments will be thrown in the way of the officers assigned to that duty & that no citizen will refuse to give his own name and age, or the name and age of any person residing or living with him; if a contrary conduct is pursued by any citizen, it is his determination to inforce the law in that as well as in every other respect In the first section of the present militia law it is enacted, "and if any person called on to be enrolled, shall refuse to declare his true name and age to the best of his knowledge or the name of any person an inhabitant of his house, with which he is acquainted, he shall for every offence, forfeit and pay the sum of 10 dollars," &c.

Cleared, ship Aldebaran, Fitch, New-Bedford; brig Hetty, Bird, Jamaica, Mary-Ann, Tomos. Charleston; sloop Industry, Burrows, Georgetown; Packet, Dwight, New-Bedford.

Brig Joanna, Gardner, from Madeira, and 39 days from Terceira, bound to Baltimore, being short of provisions, and put in for supplies—cargo wines, Citron—hides, Brazil woods fruit, &c. to W. S. Shaw on board, or W. & S. Robinson. Some British troops were expected at Terceira. A few days previous to leaving that place a British 74 arrived from off Lisbon, and a frigate from off Madeira, with dispatches to the governor-general—reports by the 74, that the most distressing famine had commenced at Lisbon: No Portuguese of whatever description were allowed to leave the country. A great number were obliged to enter into the French army for bread: Arrived at Terceira Jan. 20. schr. Sally, Edes, of Boston, in distress, having had her register endorsed by the lieutenant of British frigate Pomona, of Belisle and warned not to proceed; she was bound to Nantz, with a cargo of codfish from the Banks. Captain Gardner of the above brig Joana, sailed from Nantucket in the ship Union on a whaling voyage to the coast of Brazil. In lat. 38, 40, long. 44, 14, W. his ship struck on a whale about midnight, bilged, filled with water, and sunk in less than two hours. Captain G. and the crew, 16 in number, had only time to take to the boats. They steered eastward, and after many narrow escapes, on the 8th day arrived at the island of Flores. Capt. G. his mate and 5 seamen went from thence to Fayal, and came in the above brig.

Sloop Sincerity, Cook 20 days from Antigua. Left schooner Sophia-Ann. March 3d in long. 70, spoke brig Two Brothers of and for Boston from Barbadoes, out 16 days.

It is understood, that the court-martial, which lately sat on Commodore Barron, have acquitted him of all the charges alledged against him by the court of inquiry. It is strange, that the proceedings are not made public. [Relf.

LATEST FROM EUROPE.

Yesterday arrived at this port, the brig Amazon, capt. Ellis, from Falmouth, (England) which place he left on the 17th of January, and brings London papers & Lloyd's List to the 13th, which furnish the following articles. Capt. Ellis informs that the British cruizers continued to carry in all American vessels bound to the continent—among this number was the Montezuma of this port, bound to Amsterdam, sent into Guernsey. The spring vessels in England, bound to America, would all sail without freights. They had not heard of the embargo, though it will be perceived by an article below, that a non-intercourse act was confidently expected to proceed from this country, in retaliation of the British decrees.

Price stocks, Jan. 12—one o'clock—consols shut—reduced 63¾—omnium 2½ premium.

LONDON, Jan. 12.

We have made some further extracts from the papers received by the Gottenburg mails. Two Danish sail of the line, which after having effected their escape from Christiansand, where they had been blockaded by capt. Stopford, took shelter in Frederickswarn, arrived in Copenhagen roads in safety. They have again sailed for the Baltic, to intercept any British cruizers or merchant vessels which might be in that sea. It is much to be regretted that an English squadron has not remained off Copenhagen:
