Sale by Auction.

IRON WORKS. The following LANDS will be sold together or in separate parcels to suit purchasers at Public Auction, at Mr. Chase's Vendue Warehouse in Baltimore, on SATURDAY the 14th day of May next, at 12 o'clock, 23,343 acres of LAND, more or less, consisting of different surveys adjoining each other, lying in Bath and Botetoute counties, in the state of Virginia, on the cow pasture river, which empties into James River. There is on the above Lands, a great abundance of Iron Ore, of the best quality to be obtained, with very trifling expence, near navigable water, and situations suitable for erecting furnaces and forges. The annexed certificate of Adam Clackner, (an experienced man of good character) is referred to for further particulars. The first named subscriber has also been on the Lands, and examined the situations on the river for furnaces and forges, and is of opinion that the annexed certificate is in every respect correct. The terms of sale will be 5000 dollars cash, and for the residue of the purchase money, an extended credit will be given. The titles are believed to be unquestionable. The Patents may be seen by application to the subscribers. JOSIAS PENNINGTON, N. BRICE, Trustees of the Patente CERTIFICATE: I hereby certify, that in the year 1803, I examined the Ore banks, on the above mentioned lands, and found the ore to be of a very superior quality, and in very great abundance. The Ore banks consist of three mountains, and such is the facility of getting the ore, that in my opinion one man will be able to raise as much as will supply one furnace. The proper place for a furnace is not more than 3-4 of a mile from the banks, and for a forge that may be worked with four hammers; about 5 miles distant on a good road, there is also an abundance of wood to supply the furnace and forge, and a large quantity of White LIME STONE near the furnace seat. I am of opinion that there are two good seats for forges, (exclusive of the above mentioned) each to act with one hammer, within 3-4 of a mile of the Furnace; upon the whole I solemnly declare, that in my opinion (and I have been for many years acquainted with the qualities of ore, and the proper management of Iron Works) the above property has more advantages in every respect, for the establishment of IRON WORKS, than any I have ever seen. Adam Clackner. In addition to the above, I certify that at the period above mentioned, I procured some of the ore, and had it made into Bar Iron at Long's Furnace and Forge, near Fincastle in Botetoute county, and since have made it into Steel, both Bar Iron and Steel of a superior quality. ADAM CLACKNER. The Editors of the Richmond Enquirer and the Lancaster Journal, will please insert the above twice a week till day of sale and forward their accounts to the Editor of the Federal Gazette. HeadQuarters,

Annapolis, April 23, 1868. By the commander in chief of the militia of the state of Maryland, General Orders. It having been represented to me that some of the surgeons of the regiments of militia have conceived themselves entitled to, and have demanded and received compensation for granting certificates to invalid soldiers of their respective regiments, "that they are not of sufficient ability to perform military duty." I have, therefore, from the presumption that such practice has proceeded from a misconception of the law, thought proper to issue this general order; and I do hereby direct and order that the surgeons of the respective regiments shall give such certificates where such disability exists, and that no compensation be demanded or received for the same, and that where any compensation has been received for such services, the same be refunded. And I hereby order the colonels of regiments and majors of extra battalions, not to discharge any soldier but on the certificate of the surgeon of the respective regiment or extra battalion, where there is such surgeon in office, that there may be an official responsibility, or where there is no surgeon on the certificate of two respectable physicians of the county, if there are two such in said county; and where there is no surgeon, and only one physician in the county, on the certificate of such one physician, and not otherwise. By the commander in chief. SAMUEL T. WRIGHT, Adjutant-General S M april 28. 1aw4t

FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBSCRIPTION, A History of the Kine Pock, And for supplying Physicians and others regularly with ACTIVE VACCINE MATTER, until the first of May, eighteen hundred and eleven. By JAMES SMITH, Physician, Chatham-street, CONDITIONS. I. The History of the Kine Pock, will be published as soon as circumstances will admit. The work shall be as concise as possible; not omitting, however, any information that may be considered either useful to the Inoculator, or interesting to the community. II. The subscription for each copy will be five dollars, payable on delivery of the work.—Distant Subscribers are requested to nominate, if convenient, any person in this city, who would receive the Work, and forward it without delay. III. Every subscriber shall be entitled to a free supply of Active Vaccine Matter, at any time until first of May, 1811. It will be transmitted by post to any part of the United States. A charge, however, of five Dollars, will be hereafter made for every Portion of Vaccine Matter put up for the use of any other person than subscribers to this work. IV. Every subscriber for one copy shall be entitled to one Inoculation every year, for three years from this date, free of any expence. Subscribers for two or more Copies shall be entitled, during the same period, to have inoculated any number of their own children, apprentices and servants, free of all charges. V. Every necessary attendance will be given to those inoculated at their own houses, if in the city or precincts, or at the Author's Inoculating Room, in Chatham street; as may be most convenient. A regular record will be kept of every Case. POOR PERSONS of every description, are inoculated and particularly attended to, every Sunday morning, at the inoculating room. Subscribers to this work are earnestly desired to bring forward, to receive the Kine Pock, the Orphan who may be destitute, and the children of any person who may be unable to secure them from Small Pox. ALTHOUGH the discovery of the KINE POCK has been justly acknowledged to afford us the means of securing ourselves, our children, from the Small Pox with little or no inconvenience whatever; and though it has been introduced and spread amongst us with as much industry, and on terms as favorable as could be wished—yet how much is it to be regretted, that every day seems to lessen its importance, or adds greatly to our negligence in using it! For a little while, indeed, we were all enthusiasts in adopting the new Inoculation, and we expelled the Small Pox from our city. But already the public seem to have become wearied with obtaining so great a benefit, on terms so easy and so simple; and at this time we can scarcely find a family but has one or more of its members liable to take the Small Pox, if chance should bring again its contagion to their door. To preserve a constant supply of Vaccine Infection, so that it may at any time be procured from some well known source, has been always considered to be an object of the first importance to the community. It is now well known that it is scarcely possible for physicians in the country, to keep a supply of active vaccine matter for themselves, without experiencing frequent and troublesome interruptions; and hitherto they have annually lost it, depending solely for a fresh supply from this or some other populous city, where it is more practicable to keep it alive. No one here, except the Author of these Proposals, has as yet taken upon himself the trouble of preserving this invaluable remedy; and it has been lost every summer by every other Physician in this City; and has been renewed again in winter and spring, by a fresh distribution from his little stock. For the last Summer past, however, he could not have performed a sufficient number of inoculations to have kept the Kine Pock in existence among us, had he not often times solicited as a personal favour, the liberty of communicating it, without any charge whatever, for the benefit conferred. At this time he finds great difficulty in procuring as many patients as are necessary to furnish the matter demanded of him, for the use of those inoculators who now require their annual supply of this invaluable remedy. From the particular attention which he has been led to bestow upon this subject, many new and important improvements presented themselves, as well in preserving the Vaccine Virus, as in applying it in a more safe and easy manner than had been before practised by any of his acquaintance. He however, considers Vaccination as still in its infancy, and has no doubt but that many other or greater improvements may be made, if inoculators would be at the trouble of noticing the very many curious circumstances which daily present themselves in this new and astonishing Disease; and he hopes that a more perfect knowledge of the Kine Pock may yet perhaps, point out to us the true nature of every contagion which affects the human race. It is therefore conceived to be a duty incumbent on him to continue his earnest attention to the subject for a year or longer; and he flatters himself, that by offering a regular supply of genuine vaccine matter, and in endeavoring to diffuse a more accurate knowledge of the Kine Pock, he will promote its more general extension among his fellow citizens; and that by removing their prejudices, he will stimulate them to perform an important duty which they owe to themselves, their children, apprentices, servants and neighbours. That his intentions, however, to serve the public, in proposing a work of this kind to them, may not be disappointed, it must be observed, that he has undertaken the very uncommon task (however laborious it may be to himself) of carrying the Practice hand in hand with the Theory; so that his Book should not have sufficient merit, his Work shall make up for all deficiencies. 1aw4t april 29.
