Baltimore Museum.
THE proprietor respectfully communicates to the Public, that finding it impossible to obtain a central situation, such as would suit with the plan he proposes, he has removed his extensive collection of
CURIOSITIES
To the large Assembly Room near Peters' Bridge, which, from its airiness and coolness, is admirably calculated for a pleasant retreat in warm weather, and where every attention shall be paid to those who honor him with a visit.—Flattered by the success of his establishment, and desirous to shew himself worthy of past and future patronage, he has this day made an addition of more than 20 cases of
BIRDS,
Which makes his present collection inferior to none in the United States (Mr. Peale's excepted.) The MUSEUM now consists of more than 50 cases of BIRDS, besides a number not cased; 65 transparent BOTTLES, each containing one or more REPTILES from JAVA; a number of ANIMALS,
Among which are, the ARMADILLO, the CROCODILE, the LIZARD, the SLOTH, the FISHER, &c. &c.—A SHARK in high preservation, PORCUPINE FISH, SAW of a SAW FISH, SWORD of a SWORD FISH, and a variety of others. A number of various SNAKES,
One of which is eighteen feet in length—African BOWS, ARROWS, QUIVERS, Indian TOMAHAWKS, WAR CLUBS, PIPES, &c. &c.—Several CURIOSITIES from Persia, Indostan, China, South Sea Islands, and South-America.
FIFTEEN WAX FIGURES, AS LARGE AS LIFE, AND AS NATURAL.
Three hundred COINS, Ancient and Modern, in Gold, Silver, Brass and Copper, besides Medals.

RAN away from the subscriber, living in this city, on the 19th March, a Negro Man named DICK, about 43 years of age, about 5 feet 7 inches high, straight made, stout built, likely black man, his cheeks scarred with Guinea marks; he is a Guinea negro, though it is difficult to notice it by his talk; his dress cannot be described; he left a brickyard and understands brick making and the copper-smith's business. It is probable he has gone to Lancaster, where he formerly lived. Whoever takes up and secures said runaway in Baltimore gaol, shall receive, if taken within the city, or ten miles therefrom, ten dollars, if forty miles from the city twenty dollars, and if out of the state the above reward, paid by

Fifty Dollars Reward.
Ran away from the subscriber, at the Patapsco Upper Ferry, in Baltimore county, Maryland, on Tuesday, the 20th of April last, a Mulatto Man Slave named GEORGE, who calls himself GEORGE SEAMOUR: he was raised by col. DORSEY, near Elkridge Landing—he is about 27 years of age, 5 feet 10 or 11 inches high, somewhat knock-kneed, middling stout made, full faced, good teeth, has a scar on the end of his nose, which was occasioned by the bite of a horse when a boy, and another behind one of his ears, which he got in fighting some time past, and a great deal of wool on his head, which he often wears drest and queued with a ribbon; he has a great acquaintance in the city of Baltimore; was bred to the farming business and taking care of horses;—he will endeavour to pass as a free man, and perhaps has obtained a pass or discharge, as a great many of the same family of negroes have been manumitted by Mrs. Dorsey of the city of Baltimore. He had on and took with him sundry clothes, one broad cloth coat, striped plush jacket, brown thick-set pantaloons, white Holland shirt, and half boots and shoes; he also had with him one dark striped nankeen short coat, white Marsailles jacket, and nankeen pantaloons and good castor hat, besides his working clothes, all of which he may have changed for others; he is very plausible, and has a great deal to say. I will give the above reward to have him secured in any jail on the continent, so that I get him again, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home, by

PROPOSALS,
FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBSCRIPTION,
A NEW WORK,
UNDER THE TITLE OF
The American Law Journal
AND MISCELLANY,
CONDUCTED BY JOHN E. HALL, Esq.

Upon the plan of "THE LAW JOURNAL," Published in London, under the direction of John Morgan and Thomas Walter Williams, of the Inner Temple, Barristers at Law.

In almost every department of science, its professors have established periodical journals to aid them in the prosecution of their various inquiries. But until very recently, the Bar has been entirely without this assistance.
In the year 1803, a Law Journal was commenced in London, which has been found of eminent utility, not only to the profession, but to the community at large. The frequent recurrence of publication, enabled the editors to give the earliest intelligence of new and important decisions on points, in which the commercial world was deeply interested; while "the immunities of invisibility" offered a fair opportunity to professional gentlemen, to prosecute their researches by anonymous communications. The first law characters in Great-Britain have entered the lists of controversy in that field, while those of less knowledge, have silently gazed on and acquired experience from the contest.
If a Law Journal has been found to be so useful and necessary in Great-Britain, where notoriety and uniformity may be established by an appeal to one tribunal, how important would such a publication be, in our country, governed as it is, by the various & conflicting laws of different states, which are yet intimately connected by commercial and political relations? An act may be legal in one state, which is not so in another. Every merchant must feel the inconvenience which results from his ignorance of those laws, by which his dearest rights and most important privileges are regulated. If he appl. for legal advice respecting a negotiation, which has been made in a different state, his counsel may not be able to procure the law by which that transaction is governed; & if it be in his possession, he is still ignorant of the exposition and limitation of it by courts of justice.
Papers which are duly authenticated according to the laws of one state, when opened in the courts of another are found to be perfectly nugatory; and the unfortunate creditor, after incurring a heavy expence, is frequently precluded from the recovery of a just demand, by his ignorance of the laws that prevail where his action has been instituted.
It would be an endless task to detail the inconveniences of this nature which exist; they must be seen and felt by all.
At the instance of several professional friends the editor has been induced to propose the publication of a Law Journal, on a plan similar to the work which has been mentioned. If he should be so fortunate as to attract the attention of the bar generally, and be aided by the communication of such laws and decisions of general importance, as are enacted or adjudged in the respective states, the work which is offered to their patronage may in time comprise a complete system of American jurisprudence.
In a publication of such universal usefulness, not only the profession, but all persons engaged in commercial transactions, are interested; and when it is promised that every effort of perseverance and industry shall be brought to the task, the editor may be permitted to express a hope, that his purpose will not be frustrated by indifference or neglect.
As to a pecuniary compensation for the labor of such an undertaking, he has had too much experience of the advantages of literary speculations in this country, to indulge in expectations so vain and delusive. In the improvement which he hopes to derive from this employment, he will find his pleasure; and in the consciousness of performing that duty which every man owes to society, according to the measure of his talents, he expects to find his only reward.
It only remains for the editor to indicate a few subjects for the attention of professional gentlemen, who may be willing to contribute to the success of a work, which if faithfully conducted, must be useful to them; and more particularly in proportion to that degree of co operation, which he has some right to expect, from the nature of the work, and the fertile resources of their talents.
A brief digest or summary of such laws as are of general consequence, particularly those which relate to negotiable paper, and the manner of executing legal instruments, and of authenticating them, so as to make them evidence.
Adjudged cases in England or America
Opinions delivered by eminent Counsellors of any country.
Lists of English statutes, which have been extended to the different states.
Early notices of new publications on subjects of Law, Commerce or Politics.
Essays on legal questions.
Biographical memoirs of distinguished characters—sketches of parliamentary and congressional debates—essays on subjects of general utility, &c. may not be uninteresting to those who would relieve the aridity of judicial enquiries, by contemplating the various incidents of human life, admiring the stimulations of wit, the eloquence of the orator or the schemes of able statesmen.
The size of the AMERICAN LAW JOURNAL, will depend on the assistance which the editor may receive. It is at present proposed to print about four numbers in each year, which will form an octavo volume of 400 pages. Each number must be paid for on delivery, at a rate not exceeding one cent per page.
It will be published by Conrad, Lucas & Co. Balt.—C. & A. Conrad & Co. Philadelphia—Rapun, Conrad & Co. Washington—Somervell & Conrad, Petersburg—and Bond, Conrad & Co. Norfolk—at either of which places, subscriptions and communications will be received.
