

Cris must undergo some alteration before it can appear in this Gazette.

The editor of a morning paper has again permitted his petulance to outrun his reason; a circumstance not uncommon with him, but which we always regret; and we would rather cool down the raging fever in his blood, than unfeelingly irritate the gentleman so far as to jeopardize his health. Beside, Mr. Pechin is well informed that we cannot be drawn aside from professional duty to enter the lists of personal altercation. Were we conscious of superior personal prowess, yet we have too much regard for our own feelings to mount the stage as gladiator, for the amusement of the populace. In our public character, we accused the Editor of the American of wilfully withholding intelligence from Europe; and we did not suppose him capable of persisting in his error; we did not suppose him daring enough to dictate to his readers, to the free citizens of this republic, what they may and what they should not read. He was not asked to publish the editorial speculations of London writers; but he was cautioned not to suppress that which was given as plain matter of fact. As an instance—when a London paper states that such is the agitation and alarm in France, that American citizens, anxious to flee from apprehended danger, had through our minister applied for passports, that the privilege of leaving a country where they supposed themselves unsafe was denied them; and that their informant (Mr. Morgan) escaped by secreting himself in the vessel: when such a narrative is given, is that editorial speculation! No; the speculation consists in pretending to foretell the issue of such a state of things; these predictions Mr. P. might omit; but, true or false, as time will shew, he was bound to give the narrative.

From the Washington Monitor. LIGHT ARTILLERY.

On Saturday and yesterday, the citizens of Washington had the satisfaction of witnessing, on the open space in front of the president's house, the interesting manoeuvres of a corps of light artillery (sometimes denominated flying artillery) belonging to the army of the U. States, which has just been organized, under the command of captain Peter. The celerity of movement, and rapid discharges, either in advancing or retreating, manifested by this corps, were convincing proofs of the great utility of this kind of artillery in battle. On the line of march (and indeed, in all its evolutions) the corps has a most animating appearance. Part of the artillerymen are mounted on horseback, and others in a light kind of carriage, very convenient for the purpose. The horses are exceedingly fine; and the men appeared to be very expert.

Extract of a report made by a person appointed to enquire into the facts relative to the late aggressions and hostile assemblage of Indians on the frontiers of Tennessee.

On Monday the 2d inst. I proceeded on my route from Dover to the mouth of Duck river, and at Richland creek had a conversation with Famous Mortimore, the man who owned and had command of the boat when it was fired upon by the Indians: Mr. Mortimore is intelligent, and I believe a man of veracity; he stated that on the third of April, ten miles above the mouth of Duck river the attack was made on the boat by the Indians from the North side of Tennessee; seven men were in the boat, out of which number two were killed and three wounded, the third man, who it was said died of the wounds he received, is now on the recovery and out of danger. The Indians kept up a constant fire until the boat was out of reach. They then manned a perogue and pursued about two miles, but discovering they could not overtake the boat hauled in: Mr. Mortimore further states, that on the 23d of April, Levi Colbert came down the Tennessee to carry up the boat, and informed him, that 30 or 40 miles above the mouth of Duck river, he saw the party of Creeks, thirteen in number, who had made the attack on the boat, and told them he was going for the boat they had fired on; they at first denied it, but a Cherokee, one of the party, acknowledged it. They then confessed observing they had not been satisfied, that one white man and two Indians had been killed, they had now killed one too many, but were not yet satisfied. Colbert was lately in the Creek nation, the chief said he wished peace, and would not go to war with the white people, unless Bonaparte did; that the party who made the attack on the boat had not lived in the nation for ten years, and the attack was unauthorized by the nation. From Richland creek; I directed my course to the mouth of Duck river, and proceeded up that river to the settlement, about 12 miles above the mouth, and was enabled to ascertain by information received from Labon Combes, that the statements made by William Meadows, upon which the orders of the major general of the 20th ult. are predicated are utterly false.

National Intelligencer.

From the N. York Commercial Advertiser. Mr. Lewis,

SIR, The following extract from a Paris paper may serve parents many a pang; and under that hope, you will, I imagine, think it deserves a place in your valuable Journal.

A Subscriber.

Mr. Rechou, D. M. thinks that the disorder known under the name of Croup, is not inflammatory, but that it is produced by the condensation of the lymphatic humour, deposited by the exhaling vessels on the internal surface of the air passages, whence follows a membraniform body adapted to the aërian bronchick vessels which quickly thickens, and ends in obliterating these canals.—The object of the treatment must be to dissolve the membrane, and to prevent the formation of new ones. Mr. Rechou has found that means in the carbonate ammoniacal (Alkali vital concret) applied outwardly and taken inwardly. In the first case it is applied dissolved in some animalized fluid, to the dose of an eighth of that fluid, on the surface where the extremities are of the absorbing vessels which conduct the fluids into the glands which their excretors directed on the affected parts. Consequently this remedy is kept constantly applied round the neck, on the upper part of the breast, and under the arm pits; in the second it is given to the dose of twenty grains dissolved in four ounces of syrup of Erysimum, in spoonfuls, every two hours.

Married last evening, by the Rev. Dr. Bend, Doctor Thomas E. Bond to Miss Christiana Birkhead, daughter of Dr. S. Birkhead, all of this city.

Communicated.

Died on Sunday evening last at Summer Hill, the seat of James A. Buchanan esq. Mr. William Calhoun, eldest son of James Calhoun esq. of this city, aged forty years. He has left an amiable and disconsolate widow and four children to lament his loss. Mr. C. resided many years in Charleston S. C. whence he returned to his native state in the year 1803—for many years past he could not have been said to have enjoyed one days health, a few days before his death the disease was very violent and painful. Mr. C. was very dear to his friends in both S. C. and this state, and will be long regretted by them.

A Friend when dead, is but removed from sight. Sunk in the lustre of eternal light; And when the parting storms of life are o'er,

May yet rejoice on a happier shore. As those we love decay, we die in part. String after string is sever'd from the heart: Unhappy he who latest feels the blow, Whose eyes have wept o'er every friend laid low. Dragged lingering on from partial death to death, Till dying all he can, resign his breath."

AN ORDINANCE

For leasing the City Hospital & the grounds thereto belonging.

BE it enacted and ordained by the mayor and city council of Baltimore, That the mayor be and he is hereby authorised and empowered to lease the city hospital and the grounds thereunto belonging to Colin Mackenzie and James Smyth and to the survivor of them for the term of fifteen years, on the following conditions, viz. The lessees covenanting that the said buildings be exclusively appropriated as an hospital or infirmary for the reception of maniacs and diseased persons of every description and that they will receive all city patients that may be placed under their care or sent to the said hospital by the commissioners of health or other persons authorised by the corporation, and provide for them board, lodging, nurses and medical attendance, at the rate of fifty cents each per diem, or should the number exceed thirty, at such lesser sum as shall be agreed upon between them and the commissioners of health, with the approbation of the mayor; or it shall be optional with the mayor to furnish all necessary nurses, supplies, provisions and medicines for said patients, which the said lessees shall cause to be faithfully administered; the corporation, in case of death of any of their patients to defray the funeral expences.

The lessees also covenanting that they will use their best endeavors to obtain from the legislature of the state of Maryland a grant of a sum of money, or a law authorising a lottery to raise a sum, for erecting additional buildings and improvements on said grounds, for the purposes aforesaid, and if they are successful, that all monies so obtained shall be faithfully laid out and expended in erecting such buildings and improvements as shall be approved of by the mayor and the visitors of the said hospital, to be appointed as hereafter directed; and that the present buildings and fences, as well as any that may hereafter be erected, shall be kept by the lessees in constant good repair, and so faithfully delivered up to the corporation, at the expiration of the lease aforesaid, or on its termination as hereafter mentioned.

The corporation will and doth hereby appropriate a sum not exceeding one thousand dollars, to be expended under the direction of the city commissioners, towards repairing the present buildings; and will annually appoint, by a joint ballot of both branches of the city council, five respectable citizens, as visitors of the said hospital, whose duty it shall be, once in every month, or oftener if necessary, to visit the same, and report annually, to the mayor and city council, the state of the said hospital. And if the said visitors shall report, that the same is not faithfully applied to the purpose hereby intended the sick or diseased persons not properly provided for or attended, or the buildings suffered to go out of repair, the city council may, if they think proper, by a joint resolve of both branches, authorise the mayor to give notice to the said lessees, that in six months from the date thereof they must deliver up possession of the premises to the corporation; and at the expiration of the said six months the lease shall terminate and be void, and the mayor and city council shall again possess themselves of the premises, in as full and ample a manner as if no lease had been given, they paying in such case to the lessees a proportionable part of the costs of any buildings that they may have erected out of their own funds, exclusive of any sum which may be raised by lottery, subscription or donation; and the place which such buildings were, previous to their erection, approved of by the mayor and visitors aforesaid. The said proportion to be calculated so as that the lessees are to allow out of the cost thereof for the time they may have occupied them, in proportion to the said term; and should both lessees die or remove away, the lease shall immediately become void, and the premises revert to the corporation.
