FROM THE LEXINGTON REPORTER.

BY A MARRIED LADY OF LEXINGTON

[The subject alone of the following little effusion, even without its merit, would be sufficient apology for presenting it to the public. The circumstances which produced it, were the return of the gallant Col. CROGHAN from his late perilous expedition to Mackinack.]

Bright honor's child, in glory dawning,
Twice welcome to thy native state;
Fame, like the golden rays of morning,
Spreads o'er the word thy deeds so great.

Peace for a while from Heaven descending,
Sheaths thy bright sword and bids it rest,
Whilst pleasures rose with honors bending
Entwine a wreath thy brow to dress.

Haste then, and bless the present hours,
So bravely won, so richly crown'd;
See beauty's smile in love's gay bowers
Beaming a rosy welcome round.

Sweet is the wreath, and fresh the flowers
Which gratitude to valor owes;
And warm the blessings, bright the showers,
From every heart and eye that flows.

But whilst around thy brow th're twining
The laurel wreath with honors bright;
May Piety with Fame combining
Within thy gallant soul unite.

Think not the modest gem will tarnish
The richest crown the world can give;
O no, it lends a brighter varnish,
And bids the soul in glory live.

Pride of the West, thy early dawning
Portels a bright, a splendid day;
O may thy evening, like thy morning,
Beam o'er the West with glory's ray.

AN OLD "WAR SONG OF '76"—NEW VAMPED.

Tune—"The British Granadiers."

That seat of science, Athens—and earth's great mistress, Rome—
Where now are all their glories?—We scarce can find their tomb!
Then guard your rights, Americans! Nor stoop to foreign sway;
And thus immortalize the fame of free America!

Proud Albion bow'd to Cæsar, and numerous Lords before;
To Danes, to Picts, to Normans, and many masters more:
But we can boast, Americans, we never fell a prey;
Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza, for brave America!

Our sires led freedom hither, when, lo! the desart smil'd!
A Paradise of pleasure was opened in the wild:
Your harvest, free Americans, no power shall snatch away;
Huzza, huzza, huzza, huzza, for brave America!

To quit the realm of tyrants, our fathers cross'd the main,
Here form'd a new dominion, and founded Freedom's fane:
Britain must own her masters here; fate urges on the day,
When Neptune's Trident shall be sway'd by free America!

Degenerate sons of Britain! think not your threats we fear;
We, too, have Naval Laurels, and wield a Martial Spear—
Such arrogant pretensions as ye elsewhere display,
Will never appal the hardy sons of free America!

Though barbarous British black guards, with Cockburn at their head,
May rob defenceless Henroosts, and strike our Geese with dread;
Ye when they meet "damn'd Yankees"* arm'd, those miscreants swift away,
And tremble to behold the Stars of North America!

When fame makes known in Britain the checks her troops have had,
George Guelph will curse his Councils, and poor John Bull run mad!
If here they madly speed more force, we'll meet it in array,
And crowd fresh Laurels on the brow of fair America!

Washington City, Oct. 30, 1814.

* "Damn'd Yankees"—an epithet with which British Officers are pleased to honor all natives of the United States who have the spirit to act in any way in opposition to their pretensions.

MASSACHUSETTS AS SHE WAS.

To the Editors of the National Intelligencer.

GENTLEMEN,

In looking over the Journals of the Old Congress, a day or two ago, at page 112, of the 1st volume (in the year 1775,) I was perfectly astonished at the contrast between the conduct of the State of Massachusetts then, and now.—In 1775, she solicited the ADVICE and DIRECTION of Congress; in 1814 she puts herself forward to dictate to the United States! What is the cause of this alteration? I know not; unless it be, what is openly avowed in a late "Boston Gazette," that there is no hope of certain men in that commonwealth getting into power without a change of the Constitution! But would the change really answer the purpose? And where would the doctrine lead to? Were it possible for Massachusetts to set up a new form of government upon such an unhallowed pretext, another minority would spring up, and being stimulated by an ambition equally hot, might, to gratify their impatient lust of rule, frame a third constitution; and so on, without end. The ground which the "Boston Gazette" takes is, that a minority, not being able to obtain power by fair election of the people, may, to effect their object, set up new civil institutions when they please. I annex the passage in the Journals to which I allude, and ask the favour of you to print it. I do not believe it will make Harry Otis blush, or touch the sensibility of Mr. Pickering:——But there are many good men in Massachusetts to whom it will, I doubt not, be gratifying. There is a fine relish of virtue and wisdom in it, which puts to shame the silly pranks of the weak and wicked men who are, at present, misleading that commonwealth.

BETA.

FRIDAY, JUNE 2, 1779.

"The Congress met according to adjournment.

"The President laid before the Congress a letter from the Provincial Congress of Massachusetts Bay, dated May 15th, which was read, setting forth the difficulties they labored under for want of a regular form of government, and as the other colonies are now compelled to raise an army to defend themselves from the butcheries and devastations of their implacable enemies,* which renders it still more necessary to have a regular established government, requesting the Congress to favor them with "explicit advice respecting the taking up and exercising the powers of civil government," and declaring their readiness to "submit to such a general plan as Congress may direct for the Colonies, or make it their great study to establish such a form of government there, as shall not only promote their advantage, but the union and interest of all America."

* The British were, it seems, the same sort of enemies in 1775 that they are now.

ADVERTISEMENT EXTRA.

A SAFE & CERTAIN REMEDY!

THE multitude of quack advertisements that fill the columns of our newspapers, too often make us look with contempt on inventions, that really and truly effect the object proposed. It is the lot of genius to meet the prejudices of the vulgar, as well as the cold caution and damping half praise of the better informed; whereby many most important projects have been lost to the world—some forever, and others for a series of years. The immortal GALLIBO had like to have been "roasted alive for the good of Christianity," for asserting as a truth, what we should now call a man a fool to doubt. So, perhaps, it may be the case with me, the inventor of a remedy for that late terrible disease known to gentlemen of the faculty by the name of amor sacchari, commonly called "SWEET TOOTH." But conscious of its efficacy, and better assured of the truth of my hypothesis than Galilbo could be, and and, as it will cost them nothing, I shall at least have the character of disinterestedness.

The formidable ravages of the amor sacchari for some months past, has made many heads of families look wild!—The disease seemed to rage the more as the old remedy grew scarcer and dearer, until it reached that point that the remedy was really worse than the disease. To cure it easily and cheaply, became "a consummation devoutly to be wished"—After great consideration and research, I discovered a principle that every one may apply for himself. It may be used by "pregnant women or new-born infants;" for "it does not contain one particle of mercury, or any other hurtful ingredient whatsoever." Of this I am willing to make affidavit.

The following certificate, selected from thousands that might be obtained, may suffice.

"On the blank day of blank, personally appeared before me, the subscriber, who would be a justice of the peace, Thomas Thoughtful, who deposeth and says—that for many years past he and his whole family had been afflicted with the amor sacchari, and that he spent great sums on grocers for sugar at three 'leven penny bits per lb. which, tho' it moderated, never could cure the disease; but that on taking one dorse of coffee, according Dr. ———'s directions, WITHOUT ANY SUGAR AT ALL, and expressing a determination at the same time to continue the practice, he found his whole family relieved of the complaint, and himself of an expence of one hundred dollars a year. And he further saith, that said prescription, while it has so materially benefited his pocket, hath not in the least injured the health of any concerned. And further the deponent saith not. In witness whereof, &c. &c. &c. &c.

ENGLISH EDUCATION.

THE Professors of Easton Academy deem it incumbent on them to inform the gentlemen of Easton and its vicinity, that in the English department of the Academy two classes have been opened, which are to be confined solely to the elements of Reading, Writing, Grammar, Arithmetic and Geography with the use of the Globes and Maps, all simplified to the capacities of children.

As emulation and application increase in proportion to the number in a class, therefore the same Lecture given as any of the branches not being a instructive to four, as it would be to sixteen pupils, induced them to publish this: and they are, through their exertions and care, persuaded, that a boy of moderate abilities must, by being one year in such a class, lay the foundation of a solid English education.

MAIL STAGE,

From Easton to Chester-Town,

STARTS from the subscriber's Tavern every Monday and Thursday morning, after an early breakfast, and arrives at Chester Town before sundown same evenings, where the line continues the next morning through Wilmington to Philadelphia. Returning, leaves Chester-Town every Tuesday and Friday morning, and arrives at the EASTON HOTEL, (late Fountain Inn) same evenings; where the best accommodations are prepared for Travellers, and conveyances furnished for those wishing to proceed to either of the lower counties.

The subscriber has a new Stage, good strong horses, and a careful driver, added to the certainty of progressing on the route without delay, renders the present establishment worthy the attention of the Public, from whom he solicits a share of patronage.

His Hotel is large, and will at all times enable him to furnish private rooms to Travellers—his liquors of the best quality—his table spread with the varieties of the season; and his servants and fare for horses surpassed by none on the shore—added to his own personal attention, he flatters himself in being able to give entire satisfaction to those who may give him a call.

NOTICE.

THE undersigned, two of the Commissioners appointed by the act of Congress passed on the thirty first of March, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, entitled "an act providing for the indemnification of certain claimants of public lands in the Mississippi territory," hereby, according to the injunctions of the said act, give notice to all whom it may concern:

That the Commissioners appointed by the said act will meet on the first Monday in January next, at the City of Washington, as by the said act is directed, for the purpose then or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, of adjudging and determining upon the sufficiency of all such releases, assignments and powers as may be executed and deposited in the office of the Secretary of State, in conformity with the directions of the said act; and also then and there, or as soon thereafter as may be practicable, for the purpose of adjudging and finally determining upon all controversies arising from released claims which may be found to conflict with, and be adverse to each other; and also of adjudging and determining upon all such claims under a certain act, or pretended act, of the State of Georgia, entitled "an act supplementary to an act, entitled "an act for appropriating a part of the unlocated territory of this State (Georgia) for the payment of the late state troops and other purposes therein mentioned, declaring the right of this State to the unappropriated territory thereof, for the protection and support of the frontiers of this State, and for other purposes," passed January the seventh, one thousand seven hundred and ninety five, as may be found to have accrued to the U States by operation of law; and, generally, for the purpose of doing and performing all matters and things enjoined upon the said Commissioners by the act of the thirty first of March, one thousand eight hundred and fourteen, aforesaid

ADDITIONAL NOTICE.

THE undersigned Commissioners appointed by the act of Congress of the 31st of March, 1814, relative to the Yazoo Claims, are of opinion, that it rests with the claimants to prepare, by themselves or their counsel, the releases, assignments, and powers, mentioned in the first section of the act. Desirous, nevertheless, to give every facility to the execution of the act consistent with what is taken to be its right construction, they recommend,

That claimants living at a distance, who may find it necessary to prefer their claims through an agent or attorney, should invest such agent or attorney with authority to add or alter the instruments aforesaid; or vary in any wise their form and manner, so that they may conform to such directions and decisions as the Commissioners may give when organised as a board, and proceeding to execute their functions under the act. By this course such changes, substitutions or amendments, as are susceptible of being made up on the spot, can take place without further inconvenience to the claimants.

JOHNSON'S AMERICAN INK POWDER,
Fresh supply, for sale at the Star office.

FORTY DOLLARS REWARD.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, living near Cambridge, Dorchester county, Eastern Shore of Maryland, on Sunday the 23d day of October IN, a negro man named STEPHEN, about twenty five or six years old, five feet and an half inch high, very large thick lips, rather simple in his manner, with his teeth very wide apart—he chews tobacco rather awkwardly—stout and well made—very large feet. He had on when he went away, a blue and white striped over jacket, striped waistcoat, a pair of grey shambray pantaloons, a white linen shirt, a pair thin leather shoes bound, and a pair black yarn stockings footed this fall—with sundry other clothing not recollected.

Any person taking up said runaway, and securing him in any jail so that I get him again shall receive the above reward, and if brought home all reasonable charges paid by

november 1

SIX CENTS REWARD.

RANAWAY from the subscriber, on or about the 10th day of October last, Joshua Seward, an apprentice to the shoe and boot making business, aged twelve years, with light hair. Whoever will take up and bring home said apprentice, shall receive the above reward, but no charges paid for trouble. All persons are forwarned harbouring said boy at their peril, as I am determined to prosecute as the law directs.

Samuel Farrell.

Nine Bridges, Caroline county, november 15 3q

FIFTY DOLLARS REWARD.

RANAWAY from Mr. Thomas Cray, living in Easton, (to whom she was hired for this year) a dark mulatto woman, called FLORA, about 5 feet, 3 or 4 inches high, of a slender and delicate form, and a sickly countenance—is a very good washer and ironer, and plain cook—has a very bad temper, and apt to be impudent when spoken to with authority.

This woman was the property of Major Joseph Richardson, of Caroline county, lately deceased, and upon a distribution of his estate was allotted to the subscriber, who intermarried with one of the deceased's daughters. She has been hired in Easton, to different persons for several years past, and has a husband by the name of Jim Ridout, who went away with her, and who belongs to David Kerr, Jun and is also now advertised.—Flora is about 35 or 37 years of age, and Jim about 40—They went off together, on the night of the 27th of May last, with a cart and horse, loaded with various articles. She had such a variety of clothing, that it would be useless to attempt a description of them.

The above reward will be given, if taken out of the State of Maryland, and all reasonable charges paid if brought home—30 dollars and like charges paid, if taken and secured within this State. All persons are warned not to harbor the said slave Flora, at their peril.
