From the Boston Patriot.

JOHN BULL, TO HIS BULL DOGS AT GHENT.

Go to 'em, my boys, go to 'em, cries John,
Hit 'em plump in the teeth with a "sine qua non."
If they flutter and flounce, you may swear, and may tell 'em,
I'll never agree to their quo ante bellum.
While my troops are so brave, and stout as my fleet is,
You may muzzle the dogs with my uti possidetis,
Humbug them with quos and with antes so many,
As will cover the time of my hounds at Vienna,
And will keep up the farce until we discover,
That all hopes from the Jockies at Hartford are over
If chances all fail us, and the Yankees hold stubborn,
Then sign a carte blanche, "Adam, Gambier and Goulborn."
Let 'em fowl in their woods, let 'em fish in the sea,
Set their sailors all go to the devil for me.
Let 'em keep their own log, and heave their own lead,
For about 'em again I'll ne'er trouble my head.
But keep a look out, get 'em well by the ears,
Set their Hornets and Wasps to sting brother Aggies!

And the said private bankers, respectively, shall pay to the collector of internal duties for the district wherein their banks respectively are established, for the use of the United States, a composition lieu of the said stamp duties, at the rate of one and a half per centum on the profits of their respective banks, estimated and ascertained in either of the modes aforesaid.
