EASTON:
Tuesday Morning, August 1.

☞We this morning complete the publication of the Public Acts and Resolutions, passed at the First Session of the Nineteenth Congress.

We are authorized to announce Stephen Reyner, Esq. as a candidate for the suffrages of the citizens of Talbot county to represent them in the next General Assembly of Maryland.

THE MOURNING PROCESSION.

In conformity to the invitation of the Committee of Arrangement appointed by the late Talbot Meeting, a large concourse of citizens assembled in the Court House, at Easton, on Thursday the 27th instant, for the purpose of paying the due and solemn respect to the memory of the departed patriots of the Revolution, JOHN ADAMS and THOMAS JEFFERSON.

At the appointed hour, the procession was formed and moved in the order prescribed, (as heretofore published,) from the Court House through the principle streets of the town, during which the town bell tolled and minute guns were fired.

On the return to the Court House, an eloquent and appropriate address of thanksgiving and prayer was offered up to the Throne of Grace by the Rev. JOSEPH SCULL.

The Orator of the day, WM. HAYWARD, Jr. Esq. then pronounced an eulogium on the revolutionary merits, high attainments, and virtues of the deceased patriots, which fixed the attention of the whole assembly, and received universal applause.

The Rev. —— HOTCHKISS then offered up a prayer, and the meeting was closed with due solemnity.

It was highly gratifying to observe a group of soldiers and officers of the Revolution, headed by the venerable Gen. BENSON, who was conducted to the meeting by a Committee specially appointed for that purpose.

A Committee having been appointed for the purpose of soliciting a copy of the oration of Mr. HAYWARD, reported that he had consented to furnish one for publication, which shall appear in our next paper. [Gazette.

JOHN MYERS, Esq. has been recognised by the President of the United States as provisional Commercial Agent of the Republic of Colombia; for the port of Norfolk, in the State of Virginia.

The Vice PRESIDENT of the United States left his residence in Georgetown, on Thursday morning for South-Carolina. [Journal.

A letter to the Editors from Abbeville District, S. S. dated July 10, says that, "in consequence of the excessive drought, there will not be made in this State, this year, as much cotton by one half, as was raised last year. The Oat crop has entirely failed. [Intel.

NORFOLK, July 20.

The United States' schooner FOX, Lieut. Com. VAN BRUNT, from Pensacola, whence she sailed 27th ult. via Havana, 10 days from the latter, anchored between the Forts yesterday morning; passengers, Lieut. Samuel Mercer and Mr. Pendleton. Officers and crew all well.

The United States' ship Constellation, Captain WOOLSEY, bearing the broad pennant of Comm. WARRINGTON, was left at Pensacola; all well. The United States' schooner Grampus, Lieut. Com. CASSIN, sailed from Pensacola 19th ultimo, on a cruise of two months, in the Gulf of Mexico, touching at Vera Cruz, Campeachy, and the intermediate ports.

The Fox has been absent from the United States 17 months, during which time she has been cruising on the North side of Cuba, and giving convoy to vessels from Havana and Mantanzas. She has not lost a man within the above period. Lieut. STEPHEN B. WILSON, the former commander of the FOX, has been transferred to the Grampus.

The squadron generally have enjoyed excellent health this season.

Lieut. Van Brunt was informed at Havana, by Dr. Osgood, that that place was never known to be so healthy as at present. There had not been a single case of malignant fever since October last.

The Fox spoke, 8th inst. off the Pan of Matanzas, the U. States' ship Hornet, Capt. WOONHOUSE, all well; 10th, in lat. 27 17, long. 79 42, brig Antelope, two days from Havana, bound to Philadelphia, had lost both topmasts that morning by lightning—offered her assistance, which she declined.

MEDITERRANEAN SQUADRON.

A letter dated May 15th. 1826, to the editors, from an officer in the squadron, says "our squadron sails to-morrow for Algiers, Tunis, Tripoli and perhaps Alexandria, and thence to the Archipelago."

U. S. SCHOONER, DOLPHIN.

The Editor of the Boston Palladium doubts the correctness of the report respecting the mutiny on board the Dolphin, in the Pacific, and gives, as a reason, that it would require six or eight months for the vessel to perform the voyage from Valparaiso to the Mulgrave Islands, consequently, information could not have been received from her at the time the report was put in circulation.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.

By the ship Azelia, Capt. Wybray, we have received files of New Oleans paper to the 8th inst. On the 27th of June, Abasha Holland, and John P. Morris died of yellow fever. In alluding to those deaths, the editors of the Mercantile Advertiser, in their paper of the 3d, say, "Our readers will perceive that two deaths have occurred by yellow fever within the last week. It came rather before the usual time, but the weather has been hot enough to convert common fevers into those of a malignant type. If our advice would go for any thing we would warn all persons to leave the city."

The Hon. Edward Livingston has been re-elected to Congress. [N. Y. Com. Adv.

A gentleman, passenger in the steam boat from Philadelphia, informed us that the little child humanely taken under the charge of Capt. Whilden as mentioned in our paper yesterday, was, a few hours after the publication of the notice in the Philadelphia papers, claimed by her Aunt, and taken home, where she is comfortably povided for. It is supposed the child must have had a letter explaining the circumstances of her situation, but she unfortunately lost it on the passage. [Balt. Gaz.

THE GREEKS.

We have been favoured with newspapers from Napoli di Romania and Smyrna, by a gentleman who arrived in the brig Seaman: the former to March 24th, and the latter to April 21st. The news of the fall of Missolonghi was received at Smyrna a few days subsequently to this date.

The Smyrna editor speaks of repeated instances of piracy committed by the Greeks. If their fleet has dispersed, as has lately been reported, no other resource can remain. To submit to the Turks is not to be thought of—to defend the little islands of Hydra and Spezzia, which furnish nearly all their ships and seamen, will be impossible if the Morea should be conquered. They have the scenes of Ipsara, Scio, and Missolonghi before their eyes; their vessels may soon be their only home. Last year the Hydriots talked of coming to the U. States, in the event of the surrender of Napoli. Their prospects are as gloomy this year: may the campaign terminate as favorably as it then did. They view the Europeans as their enemies; for Austrians and French have actually taken Missolonghi. There is much palliation to be allowed for them in circumstances so intolerable and irritating.

We find a few articles worthy of notice in the Spectateur Oriental:

SMYRNA, April 21st.

They write us from Constantinople, that the Turkish fleet has set sail. Achmet Effendi, commander of a superb vessel, lately lost her on the rocks of Scutari. This is the third ship he has lost in the same manner. The great clemency of the Grand Seignor has pardoned him twice; but it is believed that he will now be severely punished, notwithstanding the interest which is extended in his favor.

It is stated that a number of French vessels were overhauled by a Creek vessel of war, between Chios and Mitilene, which seemed determined to board them, notwithstanding signals given by the schooner PAmaranthe which had them under convoy. The latter at length opened her fire, and kept it up for an hour, although it is said that the Greeks went below, and cried for mercy. There are two kinds of Frenchmen in these waters—and we must not look for the friends of Greece either in the national ships, or among their renegade editors. [N. Y. Daily Adv.

VIRGIL MAXCY has retired from before the public as a candidate to represent the adjoining District of Maryland in Congress. His motives for doing so are explained in a long and frank Address, of which a copy has been forwarded to us. The sum of the whole is, that, having perceived, since he became a candidate, that the election in his District will turn upon the question of the next Presidential election, being himself opposed to the re-election of the incumbent, and that ground being pre-occupied by another candidate, (the present member) in whom he presumes no disposition to withdraw, he has thought it best himself to withdraw from the contest. [Nat. Intel.

The gold and silver, specie and bullion, imported into the United States during the commercial year ending Sept. 30th last, amounted to 6,150,765 dollars. In the same period, agreeably to the Custom House returns, the export of gold and silver was $8 797,055. From which it appears that the export exceeded the import by $2,646,290.

This enormous export was occasioned by excessive issues of paper, whereby the specie was driven out of the country, and the China trade in particular, so far over-done, that most of those engaged in it have suffered loss. This year, as is natural, there is a reaction. Silver is brought in so great abundance that the men at the Mint have to perform what is called a "day and a half work," and the export of specie from the port of Philadelphia, during the months of April, May, and June of the present year has been only 500,501 dollars, against two million one hundred and thirty-six thousand one hundred and fifty-one dollars in the corresponding months of last year.

It is a most fortunate circumstance, that the bursting of the New York bubbles occurred at a time when there was plenty of specie in the country, and when, owing to the dullness of business, there was little demand for money. Had it occurred at a certain season of the year, when the country was drained of specie, and when the merchants and traders had numerous engagements to meet, the bursting would not have been confined to bubbles, nor to the city of New York. [Philad. Gaz.

At the Circuit Court held at Batavia, week before last, came on the case of Reuben King vs. Rodolphus Hawkins, for the alleged seduction of the plaintiff's daughter, a young woman of about 20 years of age, the defendant being a man about 70 years old, a wealthy and respectable farmer, and a man of high standing in society. The cause attracted much attention and excited much interest. It occupied the court the greater part of two days, when the counsel for the defendant introduced such a mass of positive and conclusive evidence in defence and exculpation of the defendant, and of a wicked and malicious combination by the plaintiff, to subject him, without the least cause, to heavy damages, that upon an intimation of his honor the Judge, the counsel for the plaintiff, Mr. Allen, with his accustomed ingenuousness and magnanimity, submitted to a non-suit. It is due to the defendant in this case to state, that instead of impairing in the least, the fair character which he has heretofore sustained, it has left it more bright, and speaks in a language not to be misunderstood, that with fair dealing he can stand the test with his revengeful and persecuting enemies. Strange indeed, must be the motive, which could induce a man to bring home to the door of a highly respectable member in society, and over whose head the frosts of seventy winters have winged their course, who stands as it were with one foot in the grave, a charge like the one here stated.

NEW LONDON, July 18.

SHOCKING DISASTER.

Yesterday a detachment of Capt. Warton's company of militia, with two field pieces, commenced firing 60 guns agreeably to the city arrangements for honoring the memory of Mr. Adams and Mr. Jefferson, when after the discharge of about 20 rounds one of the pieces went off while two of the men, Mr. Wm. Holmes and Mr. Benjamin Knowles, were in the act of ramming down the cartridge—by which misfortune each had an arm blown off below the elbow, and their remaining hands dreadfully shattered. Each has an arm amputated, and the others will probably require to be taken off.

A part of the ramrod made a deep incision in the breast of Mr. Holmes, his eyes are both out, and his life despaired of. A hand and part of an arm were blown 12 rods. Mr. Holmes is a poor man, with a family.

THE MAIL ROBBER.

The trial of Nichols, the mail robber, came on at New Castle on Thursday last; on the subsequent day the jury brought in a verdict against him; and on Saturday he was sentenced to five years imprisonment. [Del. Gaz.

FORGIVING HUSBAND.

Joseph Mathews, of Gardiner, says, "whereas my wife Irena, like Noah's dove, has returned to my bed, and behaves as a pleasant wife, this is to revoke my former advertisement."

The Cahawba (Alabama) Press, says that moschetoes are so numerous and voracious on Indian Key, coast of Florida, that they keep the hogs squealing, the dogs barking, and the fowls cackling all night!

The New York Daily Advertiser states that a gentleman recently arrived from Panama gives an account of a singular robbery in that city, by which he was a sufferer, and which occurred a few weeks previous to his sailing. A person confined in the prison of Panama, for a murder committed in broad day, found means to intrigue with the sergeant of the guard. He told him that although they were both poor men, if he would let him out that night, with a comrade or two, he would make both their fortunes. The sergeant consented, and at half past ten he was let out, with three of the prisoners. He immediately entered the store of Mr. Arain, with false keys; but not being able to open the iron chest, (in which there was deposited, by foreigners about to leave the country, and others, upwards of $12,000,) he sent to the sergeant for four more men, who assisted in bearing the chest into the prison. On the robbery being discovered, guards were employed to prevent its being taken out of the walls, and many of the houses within the walls were searched. A reward of one thousand dollars was offered in vain, until the third day after, when one of the guard gave information, which he had obtained by the sergeant's asking for a broad belt, to put some money in, which he said he was about to receive, and which had been stolen from the English, as they term Americans and English indiscriminately. The money was found by the Alcade, buried within the prison; and, after great expense, restored to its owners.

MURDER.—A few days since one of the most atrocious of murders was committed near Newmarket, Prince William county, Va. A fine mulatto fellow, of the name of Bill Winkfield, went to the house of an aged and inoffensive old black woman named Sukey Gray, who was manumitted many years ago by counsellor Carter, and insisted upon taking off a white girl who was staying there, and with whom there is no doubt he had been too intimate. In this, it seems, he was mildly opposed by the poor old woman, and doubtless for the good of the girl, as he was a fellow of the most depraved and lawless habits. Enraged by the opposition, he seized a garden hoe, and killed her on the spot, and then, it appears, made a desperate attempt to murder the unfortunate girl, but was prevented and secured by a strong and resolute negro man, a slave, who happened to be near the scene, and who held him until a white man arrived; who soon lodged the miscreant in the hands of justice. He is now in our jail, awaiting the awful penalty which alone can expiate his unprovoked and sanguinary crime.

CHARLESTOWN, Va. July 19.

GAULY BRIDGE BURNED.

This splendid work, the pride of Western Virginia, was, on the morning of the 12th inst. completely destroyed by fire. An unusual light from the Western extremity of the bridge, was first discovered by Mr. Mancer, who was in bed in his house on the West side of Gauly river, at about one o'clock; and before he could dress and summon aid, the bridge was entirely enveloped in flames, and his own house was in imminent danger. It was the work of incendiaries. Two men have been apprehended on suspicion, and are now in the jail of this county, awaiting their farther examination, by the called court, which has been summoned to meet for that purpose on Monday next.

The bridge was on the James and Kanawha road, and crossed Gauly river, just above its junction with the New, or Kanawha river. It was 571 feet in length, built of wood, entirely covered, and was supported by two stone piers of excellent workmanship. The whole cost about 20,000 dollars. The destruction of this bridge will be severely felt by the People of this section of country.

A writer in the New York Statesman says, and doubtless says truly, that the present excitement which exists in that city relative to monied concerns, "was occasioned by men who have been playing a desperate game in Bonds and fictitious paper; making as the swindling term is, "heavy operations" out of nothing, and shaving each other, until they were compelled to raise the curtain, and shew themselves to the public." This reminds us of an old gentleman in New England who boasted that he had two of the cutest boys in the world at making speculations. "Why," said he, "I'll lay you a pistereen that if they be locked up in a room together, where they can see no other person to trade with, they will make ive dollars a piece by swapping clothes with each other."

According to a paragraph in the Gazette, CHARLES CARROLL of Carrollton first took his seat in Congress on the 18th of July, 1776, when the credentials of the Delegates newly appointed from Maryland were presented. The following anecdote should not be lost:—After Mr. Carroll was introduced to the President on first taking his seat, he drew his attention to the parchment copy of the Declaration of Independence, and invited him to sign it—Mr. Carroll replied, "with great pleasure," and advanced to the table—whilst signing it, a member remarked in an under tone—"there goes a few millions"—alluding to the great wealth of Mr Carroll.

EMIGRATION.

There arrived in New York, on Saturday, in the steerage of the ship Josephine, from Liverpool, fifty-eight passengers—in the Panther thirty, and in the Robert Fulton one hundred and thirty-five; making an accession of inhabitants at one port, in a single day, of two hundred and twenty-three; besides the ordinary mode of increase.

VERMONT.—The Vermont Aurora states, that a caucus was held at the state house in Montpelier, on the 4th inst. at which it was resolved to support Ezra Butler for the office of governor, and Aaron Leland for lieutenant governor.—From another quarter we learn, that Aaron Leland has been nominated for governor, and Henry Olin for lieutenant governor.

General Jonathan Hunt and John Phelps, Esq. are candidates for congress, to succeed Mr. Bradley, who declines a re-election.

The weather has been very warm, and for three weeks previous to the 13th inst. there had not been a fall of rain sufficient to moisten the ground. The hay crop, it is supposed, will be a very short one.

5 DOLLARS REWARD.

ON the 21st day of September, 1825, I hired by the year, to commence on the 1st day of January, 1826, of Mrs. Isabella Smyth, of Baltimore, a negro man named Kit Haskins, as her letter will specify. On the 30th day of March last, the said Haskins left me without my knowledge and went over in Mr. Foster Maynard's vessel to Baltimore: about the middle of April I went in pursuit of him to Baltimore, and employed an officer to arrest him, but he eluded the vigilance of that officer and was not taken. I called on Mrs. Smyth who told me he had been there and considered we had parted by mutual consent. At the beginning of harvest he came over again—on hearing of it, I immediately applied to John Stevens, Esq. for a state's warrant, and obtained one as I had positive proof of his making way with a quantity of Indian meal and Corn. I got two officers from Easton to go in pursuit, but as formerly he kept out of their way, and on Saturday night the first of July, he, with another, came to my cow pen and took a Cow and Calf with one Lamb and drove them off, as a person came early in the morning to inform me. The cow is easily to be proved—a very small brindle red and white cow, her tail, I think, not more than nine or ten inches long. As I have reason to believe he has carried her to Baltimore to his wife who is free, I will give the above reward to any person who will inform me of the vessel she was carried over in, or if not taken over, where she may be.
