THE PANIC.

O Tempora! O Moses!!

What a panic has seized all the men!
How scared that we women should know—
Something more about handling a pen,
Than our grandams, some ages ago!

They say that we authors are turning;
(Alas! how they grieve at the times!
And our knowledge of housewifery spurning,
To eke out a few paltry rhymes.

The dear fellows have taken a fright;
And forsooth not without a good cause;
For the Lectures of Miss Frances Wright,
Are received with unbounded applause.

She tells us we women possess
An intellect equal with them;
But this the poor souls wont confess,
And that part of her doctrine condemn.

Ye lords of creation! ye're cruel;
Ye are selfish, and very unkind;
Not to care what becomes of the jewel,
So the caskets' a little refined.

To yourselves what a compliment paid!
To be taken with gew gaw and show,
To worship but laces and braid,
Fine eyes, or the well polished brow.

We'd have you to know, that, at eve,
When we sit, tete a tete by the fire,
Instruction we'd rather receive,
Than vain praise of our face or attire.

In return we will darn you a stocking,
And sometimes we'll make you a pie,
Provided you wont deem it shocking
If a rhyme we should now and then try.

The following, from the London Athenæum is one of the most beautiful things of its kind we recollect ever to have read. The periodical from which it is taken has been recently established in London, and promises to be one of the first magazines of the day. We have observed several admirably written articles in it, of a kind suited to the taste of the literary reader, and shall from time to time avail ourselves of its treasures to make our readers better acquainted with its merits.

THE SHELL.

AN HISTORICAL APOLOGUE.

"The world was made for man," said he.

"I will tell you an apologue" answered the teacher.

1. In a beautiful bay of the celebrated island Atlantis, a large shell of the most delicate white, and the most rounded form, the relic from some previous world, lay on the smooth & elastic sand. It was left for a long period undisturbed and unaltered: sometimes kissed by the extreme bubbles of the billow, and often trembling so mellodiously in the wind, as to have furnished to the early Gods the first hint of a musical instrument, and to have been the prototype of the sounding conchs which acompanied with their deep notes the feats on Olympus and the Indian triumphs of Bacchus.

2. The moist dust gradually accumulated within it, and the germ of a sea weed fell upon the soil, and grew until a fair and flourishing plant, with long dark leaves ovherhung, the white edge of the thin and moonlike vase. For many months the ocean herb retained its quiet existence, imbibed the night dew of the Heavens, rejoiced in the fresh breezes from the sea, and lived in tranquil safety through every change of shower and sunshine. At length a storm arose which rolled the waters upon the shore. The shell was overwhelmed, the plant washed out of it, and the light vessel swept into a cleft of the rocks.

3. After some days of calm & warmth, a bird dropped into it a seed, which sprouted, and became an orange-tree. Its leaves were so thick and green, that they would have supplied a graceful chaplet to a wood-nymph, and she might have delighted to place in her bosom the pearly and fragrant blossoms which hung amid the tuft of verdure. The seasons with their varieties, and the starry influences of gentle nights, nurtured the shrub, and the pure flowers were changed into gorgeous fruits, which gleamed through the foliage like the glimpses of a gilded statue in some deserted temple through the robes and coronals of creepers which have overgrown it. The orange-tree had gladdened many spring-times with its sweetness and its splendor, when it faided and died; and the birds of the air piped a lamentation over the shrub, amid the living beauty of which they had so often nestled.

4. In after years, when nothing remained of the orange but a slight and dreamy odour around the Shell, and the last light grains of the dust wherein it grew had been borne away by the eddying breeze, a butterfly, as red and glittering as the Planet Mars, came on its crimson wings to the dim and spiral cell. It fluttered around the ivory entrance, poised itself upon it for a moment, and waved its silken sails. Then, after darting and circling, like a winged mote of the sunbeam, through the deep woods and over the sea, it returned to perish. While it sank into its quiet and beautiful retreat, it yet seemed loth to leave a world which to it had been a fairy domain; but the necessity of its nature was upon it, and it closed the gay leaflets which had sustained its flight, and resigned itself to death.

5. It was followed by a troop of bees, which took possession of the Shell, and, after their daily excursions over mead ow and bloomy bank, returned to its smooth and undulated chambers with the materials of their combs, and with large stores of bright and luxurious honey. The tiny echoes of their abode resounded with the constant hum of labor and happiness, and was soon as brimming as a wine cup at a nuptial-feast, with the rich and perfumed treasures of the insects arranged and sealed in the exact compartments which filled the interior of their silvery palace. But a bird attacked and destroyed the commonwealth, and again the Shell was left empty.

6. A humming bird, all emerald, ruby, and sapphire, then discovered the lonely hook, and folded there its jewelled wings, it soon found a mate, and together they lived a flowery life. He who had seen either of them wandering at sunset through the glen, would have believed that the brilliant core of the western sky was fluttering away along the earth: or the little animal might have been thought the choicest signet of a prince, transformed of a suddon into a living thing, and endued with the power of flight. When they wheeled together towards their home at twilight, no pair of fire flies, no twin-lights of the firmament could be brighter than were their diamond crests. The sweet escences of a thonsand buds and flowers supplied their nouirshment; and, while they sucked the delicious juices of ripe fruits, their wings were tinctured by the lightest bloom of the plum and the grape. But the rain dropped thick and fast into the Shell, and the gentle birds, which seemed made to whisper love-messages in the rose-bud ear of a lady, and to hide themselves in sport among her ringlets, departed from their nest, and sought in sparry grotto, or in southern bower, a more secure habitation for their lovely but frail existence.

7. Lastly, at sunrise, seemed flittering from the morning star an elfin spirit, which danced into the Shell, and assumed it as its home. It thrilled with life and pulsation; and while a spring gushed out of the rock, and bore it along towards the sea, he spread his thin wings to the breeze, and sailed in his lily-coloured argosy away over the blue and sunny deep. The white Shell, and its new sovereign, moved forward with the graceful swiftness of a snowy swan, tilting over the light ripples of the water, and when night came on with its constellations, seemed to be itself a trembling star on the verge of the horizon. The spirit, too, shall inhabit the Shell but for a time, and shall then depart, that he may develope, in some other more fitting position, the whole capacities of his nature. The Shell will sink into the waves, and be joined to the treasures of the ocean caverns, in them, also, to aid the existence of other beings, and to fulfil a new cycle of its ministry.

That shell is the WORLD: that Spirit MAN. Yet not for man alone was it created, but for all the living things in the successive stages of existence which can find in it a means of happiness, and an instrument of the laws which govern their being.

(From the Fredonian.)

TUCKAHOE.

THAT beautiful full-blooded horse Tuckahoe, that took the 1st premium at the Easton Cattle Show in 1827, will be let to Mares the ensuing season at the following prices, to wit: Four dollars the single leap, six dollars the spring's chance, and twelve dollars to ensure a Mare in foal; twenty-five cents in each case to the Groom.

TUCKAHOE is a beautiful gray, full fifteen hands three inches high, out of the dam of Lady Light Foot, that took a premium at the Easton Cattle Show in the fall of 1825. He was sired by Gov. Wright's celebrated horse Silver Heels, he by Col. Tayloe's Old Oscar, who was got by the imported horse Gabriel, (sire of Post Boy, Harlequin and Lady Jack Bull, grand dam of Chance Medley.) Oscar's dam was Vixen by Old Medley, grand dam Col. Tayloe's Penelope by Old Yorick, g. g. dam by Ranter; g. g. g. dam by Old Gift—Silver Heels' dam was Pandora, who at three years old sold for a thousand dollars; she was got by Col. Tayloe's grey Diomed, who was got by the imported horse Medley, his dam by Sloe, his grand dam by Valiant out of the imported mare Calista, the property of Col. Wm. Byrd of Westover—the above horse Sloe was got by Old Partner, out of Gen. Nelson's imported mare Blossom; her dam was got by Mr. Hall's Union; her grand dam by Leonidas; her great grand dam by the imported horse Othello; her g. g. grand dam by the imported horse George's Juniper; her g. g. g. g. dam by the imported horse Morton's Traveller, her g. g. g. g. grand dam was Col. Tasker's imported mare Selima, who was got by the Godolphin Arabian.

Gabriel (bred by Lord Ossery) was got by Dormont; his dam by the famous High Flyer; grand dam by Snad, out of Shepherd's Crab Mare, (the dam of Chalkstone, Iris, Sphinx, Planet and other good runners.) her dam was Miss Meredith by Cade, out of the Little Hartley Mare. Medley was got by Gimcrack (Cripple Godolphin Arabian) his dam full sister to the dam of Sir Peter Teazle, was Araminda by Snap; grand dam Miss Cleveland by Regulus, great grand dam Midge, by bay Bolton; great great grand dam by Bartlett's Childers, great great great grand dam by Honeywood's Arabian, out of the dam of the two True-blues.—So that Medey's blood so desirable among Sportsmen flowed through Grey Diomed the sire of Pandora, the dam of Silver Heels; and also through Vixen, the dam of Oscar, sire of Silver Heels (the sire of Tuckahoe) who is of course a quarter Medley and a quarter Gabriel the best running blood in America.

The Dam of Tuckahoe, (Grey Hornet,) by Col. Thornton's celebrated Virginia horse Top-Gallant who was got by the imported horse Dimed, his dam by the imported horse Shark, his grand dam by Harris's famous Eclipse, who was got by Old Fearnought out of the imported Shakespeare Mare—Fearnought was by Regulus and he was by the Godolphin Arabian. Top-Gallant's great grand dam by Mark Anthony,—his great great grand dam by Old Janus, that was the best bred horse that ever came to America, or that perhaps, ever will come.—He was by the Godolphin Arabian, out of the Little Hartley Mare.

Grey Hornet the dam of Tuckahoe was out of White Hornet, by Col. Loyd's celebrated horse Ratler, who was got by Gen. Ridgley's Medley, who was got by Old Medley—Ratler's dam was a fine running mare of Gen. Ridgley's.

White Hornet, the grand dam of Tuckahoe, was out of a fine blooded Virginia mare that was brought in this State some years ago and sold to Charles Walker Benney, Esq. of this county.

TUCKAHOE will stand in Easton, Trappe, subscribers stable, "Farmers' Delight," Head of Wye, and pass through Hillsborough to Greensborough, and will attend each of the above stands once in two weeks throughout the Season—Season to commence Tuesday 24th inst. and end 25th June next.

E. ROBERTS.
Talbot county, March 24 w

THE ELEGANT YOUNG HORSE

EMPEROR ERIN.

This horse is a beautiful dappled bay, five years old this Spring, about 16 hands and a half high, of fine form, strength and action. He was sired by the celebrated English Hunter EMPEROR, and his dam came of an Othello mare sired by a half blooded horse. Othello was the celebrated Black and-all Black, full blooded and a great turf horse. The young Emperor Erin took the premium of twenty dollars at the Cattle Show at Easton, in the Fall of 1824, before he was a year old.

He will stand the ensuing season (commencing on the 25th 3d mo. March inst. and ending on the 20th 6th mo. June,) at the following places, viz: At Easton on 3d day (Tuesday,) at Denton on 5th day (Thursday,) at the Trappe on 7th day (Saturday,) the remainder of the time at the Subscriber's stable.

Terms $3 the single leap, $5 the spring's chance, and $10 to insure a mare in foal; and twenty-five cents to the groom in each case. No insurance will be made only by a special contract with the Subscriber.

ISAAC P. COX.
march 24 w

THE FULL BLOODED HORSE SHANNONDALE,

A beautiful dark sorrel, near sixteen hands high, of fine form, strength and action; his sire the imported horse EAGLE, his dam by the imported horse BEDFORD, his grand dam a full-blooded mare raised by S. G. Fauntleroy, of King and Queen county, Va. A number of highly respectable persons of Gloucester county, have certified that SHANNONDALE is a sure foal getter, and has produced as likely colts as any horse that ever stood in that county for 12 or 15 years; which Certificates are in the possession of the Subscriber.

TERMS—$4 the single leap; $6 the spring's chance; $12 to insure a mare in foal; twenty-five cents to the Groom in each case. No mare will be insured without an agreement with the Subscriber himself.

SHANNONDALE will be at EASTON on TUESDAY, 17th instant—in the BAY SIDE on THURSDAY, 19th inst.—at the TRAPPE on SATURDAY, the 21st inst., and at DENTON on TUESDAY, the 24th inst.; and will attend the above stands during the season once a fortnight. Season to commence the 17th of March, and end at Wheat Harvest.

NOTICE.

THE subscriber earnestly requests all those indebted to him on book account, of more than a year's standing, to call and liquidate them, or close them in some manner satisfactory; otherwise they will be put into proper officers hands for collection, which a speedy settlement might prevent—he returns his grateful acknowledgments for past favours, and hopes to merit a continuance of them.

The public's obedient servant.
SOLOMON LOWE.
