ANNAPOLIS, Feb. 16.

CLERKS AND REGISTERS.

The bill reported by Mr. Brookhart for abolishing that part of the constitution which relates to the method of appointing the Registers of Wills and Clerks of the County Courts of this State and fixing the tenure of their office, with a view to have the same regulated hereafter by law, was taken up on Saturday and occasioned considerable debate.—The bill was supported upon the floor, by Mr. Brookhart, Mr. Yoe, Mr. Brawner, Mr. Jenifer and others. And opposed by Mr. McMahon, Mr. Wootten, Mr. Goldsborough, and Mr. Buskirk.—The latter without entering into an argument merely read, a decision of some considerable length from an old British authority as conclusive of the right of courts to appoint their own clerks.—Mr. Hughlett, proposed an amendment to the bill which went to stipulate the period for which appointments should hereafter be made, and exempting present incumbents from the operations of the change. Before he tore down the present structure he wanted to know what was proposed in its place. The amendment was negatived however, and the bill passed the House by a considerable majority.

More trouble in the Main Legislature.—In the Senate on Thursday last, Mr. Hall resumed the chair as President. Mr. Hill, Senator elect from Washington district, appeared and took his seat. In the afternoon the written opinions of the Justices of the Supreme Court were produced and read, declaring that the convention by which the vacancies in the Senate were filled, was unconstitutional. The opinions of Judges Mellon and Parris were in answer to questions proposed to them by Mr. Hall as acting governor, and that of Judge Weston in reply to an order of the Senate. Mr. Dunlap moved an order that the members from York and Washington were not entitled to a seat at the board. A debate arose on this motion. Mr. Appleton having risen to speak on the motion, was told by the President that he was not a member, and had no right to speak. A discussion then arose on the question of Mr. Appleton's right to speak.

APPOINTMENTS BY THE PRESIDENT,

By and with the advice and consent of the Senate.

Louis McLane, of Delaware, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States, at the Court of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, vice James Barbour.

William C. Rives, of Virginia, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States to the Court of His Most Christian Majesty the King of France and Navarre, vice James Brown, resigned.

William Pitt Preble, of Maine, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at the Court of His Majesty the King of the Netherlands.

Cornelius P. Van Ness, of Vermont, to be Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Plenipotentiary of the United States at the Court of His Catholic Majesty, in place of Alexander H Everett, recalled.

Washington Irving, of New-York, to be Secretary of Legation of the United States near His Britannic Majesty, in place of William Beach Lawrence.

Charles Carroll Harper, of Maryland, to be Secretary of Legation of the United States to His Majesty the King of France and Navarre, in place of John Adams Smith.

Auguste Davezac, of Louisiana, to be Secretary of Legation of the United States of America at the Court of His Majesty the King of the Netherlands.

J. C. Pickett, of Virginia, to be Secretary of Legation of the United States to the Republic of Colombia.

William J. Duane, of Philadelphia, to be a Director of the Bank of the United States, in the place of Nicholas Biddle, who declined accepting the commission transmitted to him by the Government, having been previously elected by the Stockholders of the Bank a Director.

James Campbell, of New-York, to be a Director of the Bank of the United States, Benjamin Bailey having declined the appointment.

Richard W. Green, of Rhode Island, to be Attorney of the United States for the District of Rhode-Island.

Thomas Biddle, Esq. of Philadelphia, has addressed a letter to Mr. Mallary, the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means of the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania, stating that he is authoized by several citizens of the State, and individuals residing abroad, to offer to supply the commonwealth a loan of four millions of dollars at an interest of five per cent. per annum. If the Legislature should desire an additional loan of $600,000 he is prepared to make it also. In case his proposals are accepted, he will be ready, in fifteen days, to commence their performance.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 18.

The Harbour is still blockaded by Ice, and the two parties engaged in cutting in and out are rapidly approximating. The van of the outward bound Fleet is yet nearly a mile inside of the Fort—and the van of those inward bound is nearly at the Fort. Both parties being active, they are rapidly lessening the distance. It is expected the grand meeting will take place tomorrow, or next day. The body of the lower fleet keeps pretty near the light pioneers. The sight is a rich and beautiful Winter scene. A fleet of Small Craft are taking oysters near Curtis' Creek, five miles below—which are a fair substitute for good oysters, under the circumstances. [Gaz.

Captain Harvey, of the ship Dumfries from Cadiz informs the editor of the Patriot that on the 14th of January, ten Pirates, Frenchmen and Spaniards, were executed at Cadiz, they having captured the long missing ship Topaz of Boston and murdered every soul on board! Of this horrid deed they made a full confession, as also of enormities equally great, committed upon an English vessel. The captain of the pirate vessel was in confinement at Gibraltar and an English frigate had proceeded to bring him to Cadiz for trial. Capt. H. states that a more daring and hardened set of villains never appeared in human form, and that they met their fate with the greatest indifference.

HENRY CLAY.

This distinguished citizen is now on his way to New Orleans. He arrived at Louisville on Friday the 15th inst. from whence he departed on the Sunday following, in the steamboat Belfast, for the above city, for the purpose of visiting his daughter, Mrs Irwin, who resides in that place.—Shelbyville (Ky.) Public Ledger.

'Different Steam Boats,' says the Richmond Whig, 'were tendered for his accommodation, but he accepted the invitation which first came to hand—that of the Captain of the Steam Boat 'Uncle Sam.' The Kentucky Argus seems to fear that there may be something ominous in the name. Having casually introduced his name, we felicitate the friends of that great and persecuted man, on the visible abatement of the rancorous and uncharitable feeling with which the political enemies of Henry Clay have regarded him since 1825."

Something new under the Sun.—Mr. Silvanus Miller, who holds the office of public administrator of New York, has laid before the city authority, a communication in which he states, that the salary allowed by the revised statues, for his office, is quite too large.

The SENATE having sat with closed doors nearly all day yesterday, as well as on Friday last, it is conjectured that some of the nominations to office by the President of the United States have given rise to considerable debate. [Nat. Intel.

ANOTHER ATTACK.

It was a frequent remark by a worthy old gentleman, that the best of us need looking after. Perhaps it is as applicable to institutions as to individuals—though we must say that the recent enquiries, removals and reforms, have more an appearance of likelihood to destroy public confidence in any popular institution, than to improve those already existing. We find the following in the Washington Spectator of Saturday. We were not aware that there was any cause for censure in the administration of affairs at the public school, though we could not believe that the mode of appointing the pupils was impartial or correct.

'West Point Unmasked.—A pamphlet under this startling title, has recently made its appearance in this city. It is written with much point and power, and by one who appears to be intimately acquainted with the history and concerns of the institution; and if the statements which it contains are correct, it is high time for the friends of reform to extend their 'searching operation' into that seminary.'

The Dismal Swamp Canal has opened an easy communication between Norfolk and an extensive region of country to the south and west of it. A hogshead of Tobacco was lately received at Norfolk which had been transported from the head of Staunton river, (a branch of the Roanoke) a distance of 400 miles. As active a business is expected to be soon done there in Tobacco, as is now transacted in Cotton.

ADVANCE OF FORTUNE.

The present Lord Mayor of London was formerly a journeyman printer; by those gradations in wealth and rank which industry and honesty always beget, he became proprietor of a newspaper; and thence through all other advances, to the highest office in his native city.

NEW JERSEY.

The Assembly of New Jersey has resolved to adjourn on the 25th inst. The bill to protect the oyster grounds of the state now under consideration in the house, has a very serious provision in it—that authorising the use of fire arms to expel intruders from other states.

The New-Jersey and Atlantic Rail Road bill, providing for a rail road from Paulus Hook to Newark, Elizabeth, Brunswick and Trenton, was taken up on Friday afternoon, and the first section disagreed to. The bill to authorize the establishment of Race Courses was passed to be engrossed in the Assembly and awaits the final vote in that house, to determine its fate.

We regret to learn, (says the Savannah Georgian, of the 9th inst.) by a private letter, the decease of the Hon. Thomas W. Cobb, Judge of the Ockmulgee Circuit, and late Senator from Georgia, in the Congress of the United States.

TRENTON, Feb. 6.

THE LEGISLATURE.

The two important bills which have engaged the legislature for several sessions past, have at length passed both houses. The bill to authorize a Canal to connect the waters of the Raritan, and the bill to authorize a Rail Road from Camden to South Amboy, have passed Council and become laws of the State.

The people of the State will undoubtedly hear with satisfaction that these bills, which have occupied the attention of the legislature so many years, and at no little cost to the State, are at length off the files of both Houses.

The committee on the compact entered into between the commissioners of this State and those of Pennsylvania, for the use of the waters of the Delaware, have reported in favor of the same, which has been excepted by the Assembly, and yesterday a bill for carrying it into effect, on the part of New Jersey, was reported to the House. [N. Y. Eve. Post.

THE NEXT CENSUS.

We are indebted to the Hon. H. R. Storrs for a copy of the report of the Committee of which he is Chairman, on the subject of the fifth census. The committee estimated the population of 1830, as follows: free population, 10,650,000; slaves, 1,950,000; total, 12,600,000.—They recommend a ratio of 50,000 for the representation in the House of Representatives, which they believe will not increase that body beyond the number of 225 members. [N. Y. Com. Adv.

The Baltimore Annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has we understand determined upon establishing, within its jurisdiction, a College, in which a liberal education may be obtained. The Western Shore of Maryland, the Southern part of Pennsylvania and the northern part of Virginia, are comprehended within the bounds of this Conference; and we learn, that the location of the College is contemplated at one of two points; either at Boonsborough, in Maryland, or at Leesburg in Virginia. With a view to securing its location at Boonsborough, the citizens of that place are now engaged in procuring subscriptions conditioned upon its establishment there; and we understand that they have already obtained subscriptions to the amount of about $3,000. As this institution is not to be conducted upon sectarian principles, and as its establishment in the county must necessarily afford facilities to its citizens and add to its wealth and character, it is to be hoped that a general and liberal effort, may be made to accomplish that object, by those of its inhabitants who have the means of exercising a judicious liberality. [Hagerstown Torch Light.

RUSSELVILLE, (Ala. Jan. 12.

On Sunday last about 12 o'clock, whilst the inhabitants of Russelville were listening to an eloquent and fervent discourse on the attributes of the Diety, from the lips of the Rev. Silas H. Morrison, they were suddenly alarmed at a report as of a large cannon in the vicinity. This was instantaneously followed by a low hollow, rumbling noise, which appeared to approach in a southern direction, and became more and more distinct. The heavens, already dark and cloudy, suddenly assumed a still deeper hue, until it became so dark that it was difficult to discern objects in the court house, where the congregation were assembled. All at once, however, the darkness gave place to an almost painful brightness—a body of fire, apparently 20 feet in diameter, was seen to advance with amazing rapidity, from the same direction in which the sound had proceeded. It passed right over the town, with a loud whizzing noise, and left behind a strong sulphurous smell. In a few seconds, we heard another loud explosion. The same darkness succeeded, but, as Milton says, 'not so palpably obscure.' [Courtland (Ala.) Herald.

From Bell's Messenger, 27th December.

The following letter to the Duke of Wellington, on the distress of the country, was unanimously agreed to, and signed by all the Grand Jury of the county of Kent, and forwarded to his Grace on the 16th inst.

"Grand Jury Room Maidstone, Dec. 16.

"My Lord: We, the Grand Jury of the county of Kent, assembled from all parts of the county in discharge of our public duties, feel, that in justice to our respective neighbours, we ought not to separate without communicating to your grace, for the information of his Majesty's Ministers, the deep and unprecedented distress which from our personal and local knowledge, we are enabled to state prevails among all classes throughout this country, to a degree that must not only be ruinous to the interests of individuals, but must also, at no distant period, be attended with serious consequences to the national prosperity. In making this communication to your Grace, it is only our object to call the attention of his Majesty's Ministers to the real state of the country, in the hope that speedy and effectual measures may be taken to alleviate those distresses which press so severely on the several classes of society.

THE DEPTH OF THE OCEAN—Is a point which has puzzled, alike philosophers and practical men, and is after all, left in a wild field of conjecture. The most probable guide is analogy, and the wisest men judging by this criterion, have presumed that the depth of the sea may be measured by the height of mountains, the highest of which are 20,000 and 30,000 feet. The greatest depth that has been tried to be measured is that found in the Northern oceans by Lord Mulgrave, he heaved a very heavy sounding lead, and gave out along with it a cable rope, of the length of 4,980 feet without finding the bottom. NEW PRESS.

It will be recollected that in October last, we mentioned that we had in our office a new press of American invention, which promised to supersede in workmanship at least all presses now in use. We present our paper to-day printed upon that press, the invention of Mr. James Booth of this city. Our whole impression, both sides, has been worked at the rate of twelve hundred and fifty per hour. Several tokens were printed at the rate of 1500 per hour which may be considered the proper speed of the machine.

We will take an early opportunity to speak of this machine. [Courier and Enq.

SCOUNDRELS.—A helpless girl, a native of Ohio, named Paulina Snyder, who was born without arms, was taken from home by a friend, and carried to Albany, N. Y. with a view of obtaining money for her support, by exhibiting her ingenuity in cutting and sewing with her toes. At Albany she was entrusted to the care of two men named Shay and Jackson, belonging to some circus company, who proceeded with her to Newark, N. J. and were there joined by another person, named Dickason, a player upon the clarionet. These persons proceeded thro' many towns in this state, exhibiting the young woman and obtaining much money. Arrived at Harrisburgh, they collected all they could and absconded—leaving Paulina in the hands of strangers, without a penny of money. The fellows deserve the benefit of the 'cow-hide.'

Abraham Poteet, alias George Williams, who was indicted at the present term of Baltimore City Court, for an assault with intent to murder Joseph Disney, the deputy keeper of the Penitentiary; and also for an assault with intent to murder George Herbert, the driver of the Washington stage; and also for escaping from the Maryland Penitentiary, while confined as a convict therein, and on being brought to the bar of the Court yesterday, pleaded guilty to all these charges, and was immediately sent back to the Penitentiary. His sentence has not yet been pronounced. [Chronicle.

From the Pittsburg Intelligencer.

A VILLAIN CAUGHT.

Emanuel Philips, who, it will be recollected, deceived a respectable family in this city during the last summer, by passing himself as a single gentleman and marrying an unsuspecting lady in said family—and who, on the discovery of his villainy, escaped from justice, has lately been acting his deception over again at Cincinnati, where he took another wife—but where he has not managed matters with his usual success, being now safe in 'durance,' to wait the reward of his villainy.

ATHENS, (Ohio) Feb. 6.

A most shocking accident occurred, in Ames township, in this county, on the night of Saturday the 30th ult. About 11 o'clock a son of Mr. Daniel Philips, who with others of the family had not retired to rest, heard the noise of an owl among the fowls roosting near the house; and taking his gun, proposed, if they would remain quiet within, he would endeavor to get a shot at the marauder. Having crept to a corner of the house and fixed his aim, as he supposed, upon the bird on a tree, in the immediate range of the building, at the instant of firing, his sister, about 18 years of age, excited by natural curiosity, incautiously put her head out at a window for the purpose of observation, when, dreadful to relate, she received the discharge in her head just above the ear, which caused instant death, without a struggle or a groan. The event has caused deep distress to the family; the young man especially, though not the slightest blame attaches to his conduct, seems inconsolable and nearly deprived of reason.

CURIOSITIES OF PENNSYLVANIA.

In Crawford county, on an extensive plain, there is a vast mound of stones, containing several hundred thousand cart loads. This pyramid has stood through so many ages that it has become covered with soil, and from the top rises a noble pine tree, the roots of which, running down on the sides, fasten themselves in the earth below. The stones are many of them so large that two men can only move them with difficulty, and yet they are unlike any others found in the neighborhood. Indeed there are not, in the neighborhood, any quarries from which so large a quantity could ever have been taken. This artificial curiosity is on the borders of Oil Creek; a name derived from a natural curiosity no less remarkable than the foregoing. Springs exist on its margin from which there is a constant flow of oil, floating on the surface of the water and running into the creek, which may be seen for a great distance down the stream. The oil is burned in lamps, and used in various ways, but is particularly valued for its medical qualities. The inhabitants make excavations in the low and marshy ground, which are immediately filled with water, covered with oil, which they skim off. Considerable quantities are annually brought to this city and sold to the apothecaries. [N. Y. Jour. Com.

COLD WEATHER.

The Quebec Gazette, of the 1st. inst. says—Yesterday was the coldest day we have had this winter. The thermometer in exposed situations fell to 32 degrees below zero.

At Kingston, Upper Canada, the quantity of snow which had fallen had not been equalled for several years. The Lake (Ontario) was frozen, and crossing had become general.

At Poughkeepsie, for the last eight or ten days, the thermometer has ranged from ten to 12 degrees below zero.

The thermometer at Lansingburg, on Sunday last, was 20 degrees below zero.

At Fredericton, N. S. the mercury sunk on the 14th January to 40 degrees below zero.

The Ohio River was frozen over at Wheeling on the 3d instant; and there had been no arrivals nor departures of steam boats for some days previous.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3.

SLEIGH RIDING.

Yesterday our streets were enlivened by the merry sound of sleigh bells; and among others who availed themselves of the opportunity of enjoying a sleigh ride were the Masters and Clerks of the Steam boats which are ice bound at the landing. They mounted a Boat upon runners, and with six horses attached to it, drove round the city in fine style, heaving the lead and calling out the soundings as they passed. The day was fair, and fine for the season.

REMARKABLE ECLIPSE OF THE SUN.

It appears by the American Almanac, that, on the 12th of Feb. 1831, one year from this day, there will be an Eclipse of the Sun, which will be very large, throughout the U. States, and actually annular, in one third of them. [Pal.

Mr. Shiel the Irish orator, in an interesting article entitled 'Recollections of the Jesuits,' tells the following anecdote:

'In America, the Jesuits are all republicans. Two of them lately visited Rome; on being heard to express some strong democratic sentiments, they were reprehended by the General of the order, but the Council of Five, to whom they appealed, and to whom the General himself is responsible, declared that as the form of government in the United States was republican, it was the duty of an American Jesuit to feel as an American citizen; and rescinded the decision of the Superior.'

LARGE OX.—The Charlestown, (Va.) Free Press contains an account of a huge Ox owned by Mr. Yates, a gentleman of that place.—He is esteemed the largest ox now alive, and is still growing. He measures 14 feet 8¼ inches in length; 8 feet 6 inches round the body, and 5 feet 8¼ inches in height. The great Ox Columbus, shewn in the different cities in the United States, measured only 5 feet 10 inches high, and round the body 11 feet 6 inches.

MORE VICTIMS TO CHARCOAL.

On Sunday night, Jan. 31st, Mr. Ockford, from England, foreman in the Northfield Woollen Factory, and his wife, took into their chamber a furnace, partly filled with live coals from the kitchen fire. In the morning, they were found dead. Mrs. O. appeared to have died without a struggle. Coals from the fire place let it be remembered, are nothing more nor less than charcoal.

The Jesuit, a Roman Catholic paper printed in Boston, states from the records of the church, that the number of Catholics, in that city in 1790 was 160; 1800, 280; 1810, 720; 1830, 2120; and in 1829, 7040.

The uncertainty of sudden love.—There is scarcely so weak and wild a falsehood, as that which represents impassioned love as ever during. It may, like the lava flowing from Vesuvius, be for a time omnipotent and irrepressible—but the subsiding moment comes, and then that very flood of fire becomes calm, cold, and hard. Woe to the love that, whilst overleaping the bounds imposed by nature and circumstances, whilst despising all that is comprehended in the simple word DUTY, predicts its own continuance, and double woe to the heart that believes such prediction.—Sudden destruction, or withering blight, shall be its reward; and in the place of joy and bloom and melody, 'will be feeding on ashes'—the grief of change, the silence of the grave.
