WM. TOWNSEND, Shff.

july 20 w

From the N. York Commercial of April 2, two o'clock.

We stop the press to announce the arrival of the packet ship France, from Havre, whence she sailed the 13th of Feb.

We have our files to the 11th. A Havre paper of that date says, that a telegraphic communication has been made at Lyons, that a serious REVOLUTION HAD BROKEN OUT IN ITALY—that Reggio, Bologna, and Modena had been overthrown, and that the Duke of Modena had been killed.

A second edition of Galignani of the 10th Feb. announces the receipt per telegraph, of despatches from Lyons, communicating the news of a serious insurrection in Italy. It broke out at the same time in Reggio, Modena, and Bologna. The insurgents had adopted the tri-coloured cockade. At the departure of the Courier the troops of the Duke of Modena were fighting in the streets with the insurgents.

A private letter from Madrid, of the 1st February, states that the Spanish Government has been driven to hostile measures by the intrigues of the apostolical party. All the provincial regiments, 42 in number, were put under arms.

News from Constantinople shows a disposition on the part of the Grand Seignor to avail himself of the embarrassments of Russia to evade the execution of the recent treaty. The cholera morbus had broken out in Austria.

Translated from the Gazette de France, of February 10.

The conduct of the Ministry touching the affairs of Belgium, places the journals attached in it in the most ridiculous situation. Eight days since the Journal des Debats proved with a great deal of eloquence, that the throne of Belgium ought to be accepted for the Duke of Nemours.—Then it gave a long article to establish the reverse of the proposition. To-day it is said that a telegraphic despatch has been sent to annul, till further orders, the refusal borne by the courier. The same journal adds, that although it persists in its reasonings for the refusal, it cannot be disguised, that there is in this refusal something which does not fully satisfy their ideas upon the subject.

It appears that on the 9th, the Belgian Deputation in Paris, were officially received by the Minister of Relations. The interview lasted two hours, and the gravest questions were under consideration. It, says the Gazette, our information is exact, it will now be proposed to the Belgic Congress to elect Prince Charles of Naples as their King, who espoused the Princess Mary of France. The Belgic Deputies stated, that their mission related exclusively to the Duke of Nemours.

POLAND.—The Polish Diet have issued a long answer to the proclamation of General Diebitsch, which is a spirited document, and which concludes as follows:—'The Polish nation, united in its Diet, declares, that for the future, it constitutes an independent people, which has the right to confer the Polish crown upon him whom it shall deem worthy of it. Upon him whom it shall judge capable of observing faithfully the principles which he shall have sworn to, and of preserving untouched the National Liberties.' The declaration was signed unanimously by the members of the Diet.

The Captain of the packet, who sailed at Havre, two days after the date of our papers, says the news was confirmed previous to his departure.

From the New York American.

MORE REVOLUTIONS.

Two o'clock.—The France, packet ship, from Havre, just arrived, brings Paris dates of 11th Feb.

There has been an insurrection in the Duchy of Modena in Italy, which is thus noticed in the private correspondence of the Havre Journal:—'An insurrection beyond the Alps has really broken out, bursting forth on the same day in Riggio, Bologna and Modena. The account has been received by telegraph at Lyons.

To the details given by the Journal des Debats of this morning, (which unfortunately we have not received) we think proper to add, that it is entirely a republican movement, and that very probably the Duke of Modena, the only sovereign who refused to acknowledge our revolution of July, was killed in the tumult.'

According to the reports in circulation, the troops and citizens were engaged together, but the troops had the advantage.

The Polish Diet, by a vote of 83 to 13, had placed the Executive Power in a Commission of Five Members, composed of Adam Czartorouski, President; Vincent Menjowski, Th. Morauski, Stan. Bazzykowski and Joachim Lelewel. The New Poland, newspaper, complains that one only of these had a part in the late Revolution.

The intelligence from Vienna is, that every thing in that capital is on the footing of war, especially against Poland, which is threatened with invasion at once from Russia, Austria and Prussia.—Prince Metternich is in close connection with the Duke of Montbel, who, however, is watched closely by Marshal Maison.

On the other hand, the news from Constantinople by the way of Naples is, that the Grand Turk means to take advantage of the embarrassments of the Russians to withdraw from complying with the late treaty. The greater part of the Pachas of Asia are ordered to be ready for service in May. The greatest activity prevails in the Divan. Agas have been sent on missions to Albania, Servia, and Bosnia; finally, the Sultan, it is said, is endeavoring to induce the Persians to act, so as to give employment to the Russians on that frontier.

Cardinal Capellari had been elected Pope.

Sales at Havre, 10th Feb.—Cotton.—40 bales New Orleans, at 95; 310 do. do. 86; 35 do. do. 92½; 48 do. Mobile, 87

Exchange of Paris, 10th Feb.—5 per cents 93 7 a 55; 3 per cents, 60 65 a 35.

The present situation of Ireland may be inferred from the annexed remarks, which are copied from the London Morning Chronicle of the 11th February.

We alluded, some days since, to the accounts we had received of the state of Ireland, and perhaps expressed ourselves more strongly on the subject than persons not having sources of information equally to be relied upon may have thought warranted. The letters on which we then spoke came from a northern district of the island. We have this day had intelligence from a central quarter, not far distant from the metropolis, and we learn that the search after and pillage of arms is so frequent, that scarce any houses, except those of the superior Gentry, who are defended against such visitations by the number of their domestics, have escaped robbery; that the doors and windows are every night barricaded with planks, bullet-proof; that all social intercourse is at an end; and that even on Sundays, a portion of the family in each house is obliged to remain at home for the purpose of acting as a garrison. We do not, however, infer from these proceedings any positive or determinate spirit of insurrection adverse to social order, or at strife with our civil institutions. We rather apprehend that the peasantry are actuated by a vague desire to be provided against the scarcity, which our Irish Correspondent forwarned us of many months since, and which appears to be but too probable. In the possession of arms, the unfortunate peasants may conceive they possess an eventual security against the last destitution. Under such a state of things, the dangerous consequence of agitating such a question as the Repeal of the Union coupled with the foolish scheme of a run on the Banks, is sufficiently apparent; and it cannot be wondered that a Government, alive to the responsibility of their own situation, and a due regard to the conservation of social order, however devoted to constitutional liberty, should use every means within their reach to enforce order and tranquility, and suppress the attempts made at agitation.

We lament to say, on the authority of accounts which we have recently received from Ireland, that the most serious apprehensions for the peace of that country are to be entertained. We were disposed to receive such accounts with mistrust; but we have arrived at the painful conviction that they are only too well founded. The most vigorous measures are evidently called for, both of conciliation and coercion.

Accounts from Dublin to the 8th Feb. state that there has been a frightful loss of life by the inclemency of the weather. The bodies of two men had been found buried three feet under the snow, and three children belonging to that town had been missing for several days, supposed to be lost in the snow.

A letter from Aix la Chapelle of 28th Jan. states an insurrection had broken out at Burg, in Prussia, which was supposed to be of a serious nature, as the whole garrison of Magdeberg had proceeded to quell it.

The accounts from St. Petersburg state that all the troops there had left for the frontiers of Poland. The cold weather is excessive, which, it was feared, would prevent the marching of the troops.

Extract of a letter from an American gentleman, dated LONDON, Feb. 3, 1831.

'The last advices from the continent indicate a terrible conflict between the principles of republicanism and the power of kings. A war to me appears inevitable, and what will be the result, God only knows.

'Happy, indeed, is your situation in the Western World. Your distance from the theatre of war secures to you peace, and you will no doubt be enabled to reap a rich harvest from the commercial field that must open to you.

'The capitalists of Europe are alarmed at the prospect before us, and deposits to an immense amount are placed at the disposal of the Bank of the United States, subject to their drafts; and speculation is fruitful here as to the amount of money that will be transferred to the United States in this way. This, together with the high price your produce will command; must make the prosperity of our country certain. The great bankers here attributed the immense amounts of specie going to the United States, to the confidence placed in the U. S. Bank, which confidence is now certainly greater than in the Bank of England.

'There is an order from the Admiralty to equip for sea ten sail of the line that are now in ordinary; and I think old England will be a party to the Continental conflict.

'I think there is no doubt the additional duty of 1d per lb. on Cotton will take place, which I seriously regret, as it bears very hard on the Southern planters who now are receiving a price quite too low for this important article in the commerce of our country.'

From the Louisville Journal of March 17.

☞Some very precious facts have recently come to light, touching the circulation in Kentucky, of a newspaper called the Washington Globe. It appears that the Executive Department with a view to trumpet the more effectively their own purity and merits, have become responsible, or subscribed, for five hundred copies of the above named paper, to be distributed gratis each week throughout the State of Kentucky. The subscription so far as we have learned is as follows:

President Jackson! 50 copies.
Amos Kendall 100 do
The Post Master General 100 do.

These papers during the session of Congress were folded by Mr. Lecompte and one or two other Kentucky members, franked as public documents; and directed to the loving worshippers of the 'greatest and best' as each and severally they stood in need of oracles from the shrine of their idol. This fact is notorious at Washington and requires no comment. The Pennsylvania and Ohio letters are of the same family, and discover that he, who 'neither seeks nor declines office,' does nothing else than to stoop to the very lowest and most degrading of electioneering methods to consolidate the scattering particles of his party, and make them subservient to his wishes.
