J.Mo.) No one went with me from Mr Lloyd's office that day to the Equity office or to show me where his office was. Miss Bessie gave me the paper and his number and told me right where it was and I went there alone. There wasn't any one in Mr Lloyd's office that day but Miss Bessie and she couldn't leave the office to show me where it was but she told me so I couldn't miss it and she told me particular to leave the paper with the office and to leave word for him to bring it over to Mr Lloyd's office.

That was the first time I ever saw Miss Bessie was that day. I never had seen at his ^{Lloyd's} office before that day and never had any acquaintance with any of Mr Lloyd's class till I went there to see about pension. I did not see Mr Lloyd himself that day nor any of his clerks except Miss Bessie.

I know Mr Lloyd now by seeing him since that I stopped in there last week and asked him had he heard any thing about my claims and he said not yet. He said something about an Examiner but I didn't understand what he meant till you came yesterday.

What other persons have you seen at Lloyd's office that seemed to belong there beside Mr Lloyd and Miss Bessie?

There is a young man I often meet there I don't know his name. We heard it but don't believe I would know it if I heard it was it. Ollie or Mr Beale.

Ollie sounds like it. I must always see him when I go up there except the first time there wasn't any body there but Miss Bessie the time I went there and
