

time, and signed his mark to his application in his presence, and whether, in fact, he acted as an identifying witness in the claim. In examining this affiant, it is well for the Special Examiner to procure from him a statement showing whether he has a knowledge of the person who prepared the application, and whether he can describe the person who administered the oath.

Let this letter constitute an exhibit in the Examiner's report.

Very respectfully,

W. T. Pierson
Asst. Chief of Law Division.
