

DEPOSITION

Case of Olga Ross, No. 653,012

On this 21 day of Baltimore, Md., before me, N. N. Kile, a special examiner of the Bureau of Pensions, personally appeared James Bayard (red) who, being by me first duly sworn to answer truly all interrogatories propounded to him during this special examination of aforesaid claim for pension, deposes and says: That he is age is 62 years; post-office address, 4 N. Street at city whitewater; occupation, I have known Olga Ross about 15 years they did come to Baltimore (she and her husband Jack Ross) they settled in vicinity of, but do not know from me. I know Ross about the same length of time, but a little longer. I know her, as he and I belonged to the same school exactly. When I first knew him I could think from his appearance that he was 50 or 60 years of age - she was a good deal younger, probably 35 years. I do not know that either of them was ever personally married but I think he has a child that is not his - at least this child before they were married. I know nothing personally about their marriage. He came from Cleveland, I do not know that he has been personally married. They lived on Grand at near the street a year when they separated. I could not tell the cause of their separation, but I understand he was engaged at that time to a woman and that made trouble - they were never divorced that I know or ever heard. He told me that Ross married the woman known here in town. She has been married in my sight and acquaintance since I first knew her.
