and it appears his mind and probably cannot his death. He died in the almshouse and I helped to pay him - furnished some money for that purpose. my mother and father were concerned of the house of William Board - as I was told by William Morgan (dead). He told me if anything should come up he could swear that my mother and father were legally married, as he was present at the marriage.
I have a little fact and a little Catholicism Risinger living in Baltimore, but I cannot tell their address.
I have understood your question and may answer him here correctly, nearly.
