

Chesterton Feb 6. 1895
Hon Mr Lochron Commissioner of Pensions

Sir I have known Thomas Carmichael before he enlisted in the army and have been living in the same town not far from him ever since his return and I know that when he return from the army he had to walk with a stick. But he seemed to get better after a while but for the last 3 or 4 years he has been almost helpless he has not been able to do any work and has had to depend on his neighbours for support. I write this from my own personal knowledge for I have visited him time after time. When he has been sick and contributed to him so far as my limited means would allow and I know from personal acquaintance with him that his disabilities are not due to vicious habits

Yours respectfully
John W. Anderson
