

Declaration of Invalid Pension.

Acts of May 9, 1900, and June 27, 1890.

1. Ratings under the Acts of May 9, 1900, and June 27, 1890, are from $6.00 to $12.00.

2. All disabilities of a permanent character, whether slight or serious, not due to vicious habits, and whether due to the service or not, are considered in determining the rate of pension thereunder.

3. The fact that you can and do earn a support by other means than manual labor, or have other means of support, will not defeat your right to a pension.

4. The fact that you are compelled to earn your support by manual labor, although you are in fact materially disabled, will not prevent you from obtaining a pension.

5. Advancing age and increasing disability of the survivors of the war of 1861-5, is creating title in many cases, and especially in cases heretofore rejected.

6. The benefit of the Acts above referred to, may be claimed by all who receive no pension, or who receive less than $12.00 per month.

7. If you have heretofore applied under the Act of 1890 and amendments, and been rejected on ground of no pensionable disability, the filing of a new application will serve as a means of securing a new medical examination.

IMPORTANT.—The NEW PENSION LAW of May 9, 1900, amending the Act of June 27, 1890, provides that in determining the degree of inability of a claimant to earn a support by manual labor, "EACH AND EVERY INFIRMITY SHALL BE DULY CONSIDERED, AND THE AGGREGATE OF THE DISABILITIES SHOWN BE RATED."
