

DEPOSITION

Case of Jesse Fry (Successor), No. 364,780

On this 13th day of February, 1888, at County of ... State of ... before me, ... a Special Examiner of the Pension Office, personally appeared Sidney Boyer, who, being by me first duly sworn to answer truly all interrogatories propounded to him during this Special Examination of aforesaid pension claim, deposes and says:

another fit visited Successor to town. I came here last October but did not see him have a fit - visited two weeks ago last Saturday. Successor at home complained of feeling bad in his head side and above, and after he went up to bed, between 11 and 12 o'clock at night. His wife called me and said Jesse was sick and I called Benjamin Cox from another room, and told him I suspected Jesse had another fit and sure enough he had. I found him frothing very hard not frothing or frothing at the mouth, but perfectly stiff. I should recollect on his count, I have been living with him since October last.

I have made an affidavit before in this case but have no interest in it.
