with a fit and as I caught him, I don't remember whether he framed at the mouth, but I know that it was a fit and we layed him on the ground. - I forget the man's name who was with me at the time - but I think all I did was to take his face from a branch near by. - I don't remember how long the spell lasted, but I think I sent a man on with the team and Jessy went home.

That is the only fit I remember seeing him have. He came back to work after he had recovered but I can't say how soon that was. And the second time he worked for me, about 1875 or 1876. He was generally debilitated - and was more of a pensioner on me than anything else, as he could not do much. I don't know the nature of his debility, but it seemed to be a general prostration, and breaking down of his system. He only did light work.

I have seen him occasionally since, but while he has seemed to be generally debilitated, I have only ~~at~~ seen him have a fit on the one
