Washington, D.C. but one I was raised in Washington and came up here before the war, but went back there occasionally.

I saw him in Washington several years before his death when he was walking. There was nothing said about his being married and I never heard at all that he was married.

I know he made his home there in that alley mostly with an old colored woman, but I don't know whether she is living and I can't think of her name. She was a widow.

Admiral Pore's children are nieces of Commodore Cunningham. They are in Washington, and Ruby Ann Blow; they married Naval officers.
 I think some of them are there. There is a Mr Pore there too a nephew of Commodore Cunningham.

My daughter Ellen Lasker is with a Mr Peterson in Washington D.C. on Rhode Island Ave.
 I fully understand the question asked and the answers have been correctly recorded.
