a good deal with his back as I recollect now and he used to wear a bandage around his waist for the pain in his back.

As well as I ~~recollect~~ recollect, he wore this bandage was when we were at Bermuda Front, we were at Bermuda Front from sometime in the fall of 1864 until after New Year in 1865 and it was while we were there that I heard Henry complain with his back.

I do not know that he ever had a rupture as I never saw any rupture he had. It seems to me now that Henry got hurt when we were at Bermuda Front as it was on account of that he wore the bandage.

I never saw any rupture he had. Yes sir I bumped with him when and after he wore the bandage. Sometimes he would wear that bandage all night and would sometimes tighten it when he would go to bed. No sir he never wore a Truss I am sure. He never wore any suspensory bandage. He never wore any bandage around his groin or anything of that kind. I never saw any rupture
