MISING LOT OF YOUNGSTERS

WILL SOON MAKE BOW IN THE BIG LEAGUES.

OPENING IS DRAWING NEAR

Every Team Has One or More Likely Looking Recruits, and It Will Be Surprising If at Least One Out of the Whole Array Does Not Develop Into a Cobb, Wagner or Mathewson.

BY MONTY.

A likely-looking lot of youngsters will make their initial bows in the big show when the National and American League seasons get under way a week from next Thursday. Every team has one or more recruits who give extraordinary promise, and it will be surprising if at least one out of the whole array does not develop into a Cobb, Wagner or Mathewson.

The average number of newcomers per team to be kept during the early stages of the season will be well over the half-dozen mark, some of them keeping twice that number. By May 15, when the restriction clause goes into effect compelling a maximum of 25 players to a team from that time until August 20, there will be an average of about four strange faces to a club, judging from present indications.

The cutting off of failures already has begun, and the next 12 days before the season is launched will find the managers doing still more of that unpleasant work. Just now their minds are taken up with two important tasks—the molding into a concrete machine of the men who will start the fight and the getting out of the way of unfavored recruits who simply are a distraction from the prime duty at hand.

Best Crop of Recruits.

Apparently, the best crop of recruits of the year has been landed by the New York Americans for Frank Chance, who himself may be regarded as a recruit not only to the team, but to the league as well. His brightest possibilities are pitchers and infielders, particularly the latter. Among those he is certain to keep for use in the first line of defense are Pep Young, Ezra Midkiff, Claude Derrick and Malcolm Barry, the latter useful as a first baseman if needed for duty there. Ray Keating and Lefty Schulz are the new pitchers who will stay on the payroll.

The Giants are pretty certain to carry at least six of the colts. Jim Thorpe, the Indian, is sure of a seat on the bench at least, to be available as a pinch hitter and baserunner. Milton Stock will be retained for infield utility duty. Big Bill Jacobson will hang around as an outfield substitute, and Ferd Schupp, Theodore Goulait and Al Demaree will be added to the pitching staff.

The Red Sox have tried out a big batch at Hot Springs. Harold Janvrin is likely to supplant Manager Jake Stahl at the regular first baseman; Kid Carlyon will become Heinie Wagner's understudy at shortstop; Dutch Leonard is practically certain to be tacked onto the hound corps.

Clarke Has Some Comers.

Clarke has landed some mighty massive timber for the Pirates. Wilbur Cooper is the only likely looking pitcher unless Clarke decides to attempt teaching the speedy "Millionaire Kid" Mamaux how to get control. George Eastmann, a Sioux Indian, and Everett Booe, both capable as either infielders or outfielders, will be kept.

Two young Cubans, Jacinto Calvo and Shorty Acosta, will be the extra outfielders of the Senators. Joe Boehling, a young right-hander from Richmond, will be added to the pitching staff.

Connie Mack is not likely to keep any new men aside from the trio that showed such promise in the Athletics' final games last fall—Pitcher Dennock, Catcher Schang and Outfielder Eddie Murphy—with the possible exception of Joe Dailey, a promising outfielder.

Several prospects have been vouchsafed by the fates to Joe Tinker's Reds. One of them came in the famous Chance deal, Chapman, the young catcher from the Cubs. Because of the failure to land Johnny Kling, it is likely that this youth will work in many games, maybe in more than the veteran Tom Clarke. Beals Becker, who came from the Giants by the waiver route, is in line for a regular berth in the outfield, but he cannot be regarded a youngster by any stretch of the imagination. Tinker has said, like Jennings, of Detroit, that he probably will keep all the young pitchers available until the restriction rule goes into force.

Shanley Most Promising.

The Tigers, by the way, will offer several novelties, the most promising of whom is an infielder named Shanley. In the rival Lake town, Cleveland, the pitchers appear the best of the new ones. Nick Cullop, the expensive purchase, is the topliner of an attractive trio of flingers, of whom the others are Finis Wilson and Abb Peddy.

The Cubs will look like aliens to the fans in many positions. Corriden, Bridwell and Phelan, from Detroit, Boston and Cincinnati, respectively, all of them well known, will battle to fill Tinker's shoes at shortstop, while Bresnahan, from St. Louis, is another veteran who is a newcomer to the team, and the same can be said of Otis Clymer, who is to be kept for outfield purposes. The young blood of the Cubs is an uncertain proposition, Evers not having much indication of which ones he likes and which he dislikes.

The White Sox are in style so far as Indians are concerned, Chief Johnson supplying the redskin element to the pitching brigade. Shuffling Phil Douglass, from Georgia, another hurler, probably will be retained. The rest of the striplings do not appear likely to achieve fame.

One of the best looking youngsters that the Browns have in line is Bunnie Brief, who played a while last fall, and is adept both at first base and outfield play. Stovall probably will keep at least eight others. The Cardinals and Boston Braves have no particular marvels, but a flock of youths who are deemed worthy of trial.

Dreamlands and Mardels.

The Dreamland Athletic Club will play the Mardel Yanigans today at Collington Oval at 2:30 P. M. The Mardel Yanigans were to play in the City-Suburban League this season. The probable lineup:

Dreamlands—Carter or Wagner, c.; Swartz, p.; F. Zizzi or C. Schneider, 1b.; Connors or Carr, 2b.; Violi, ss.; C. Zizzi, 3b.; Vogts, Spernardo, Simonson and Ernst, outfielders.

Mardel Yanigans—Holthouse, lf.. Lewis, cf.; McGee, 1b.; Jones, 3b.; Lanahan, ss.; Pfarr or Venup, rf.; Muir, 2b.; Arnold or Meyers, c.; Volbert or Thompson, p.

COAST LEAGUE OPENS APRIL 10

THE FIRST ORGANIZATION TO BEGIN ACTIVITIES.

Schedule Making of Recognized Professional Baseball Leagues in the Country Is Practically Complete for the 1913 Season—American and National League Races Under Way Thursday Week.

Special Dispatch to The American.

New York, March 29.—Schedule making of the nearly two score of recognized professional baseball leagues in the country is practically complete for the 1913 season, with only a few departures from the general program which was followed last year.

The first pennant race is to be started as usual by the Pacific Coast League, whose seasons opens April 1, and which is also the last to close—on October 26. April 10 is the big opening day of the year, marking not only the commencement of the two major league seasons, but those of the American Association, the Texas League and the Southern League.

The Western League, whose season opens April 18 and closes October 5, has voted to retain the 168-game schedule, which makes three minor leagues now playing longer schedules than the major leagues, namely, the Pacific Coast League, the American Association and the Western League.

Among the changes this year in the various circuits there is the probable shift of the Fall River, Mass., franchise to Portland, Me., in the New England League; the return of Waterbury, Ct., to the old Connecticut League, which will be called the Eastern Association this year, and the addition of New London and Pittsfield, with the loss of New Britain, making an eight-club circuit. Last year there were but six teams.

The Central League is considerably changed, being reduced from a 12-club circuit to one of six cities—Fort Wayne, Terre Haute and Evansville, Ind.; Dayton and Springfield, O., and Grand Rapids, Mich. The Tristate League includes Atlantic City, N. J., and Chester, Pa., this year in place of Altoona and Johnstown, Pa. The Ohio State League is reduced to a six-club circuit of Ironton, Lima, Mansfield, Chillicothe, Portsmouth and Newark, O.

The opening and closing dates of most of the leagues whose schedules are available are given below:

April 1—Pacific Coast League, October 26.
April 10—American League, October 5.
April 10—National League, October.
April 10—American Association, September 29.
April 1-10—Texas League, September 7.
April 10—Southern League, September 7.
April 15—Northwestern League, September 28.
April 16—International League, September 21.
April 17—South Atlantic League, September 14.
April 17—Virginia League, September 13.
April 18—Western League, October 5.
April 23—Central League, September 7.
April 23—Eastern Association (formerly Connecticut League), September 7.
April 30—New York State League, September 1.
April 30—Tristate League, September 1.
April 30—New England League, September 1.
April 30—Central Association, September 1.
May 7—Southern Michigan, September 17.
May 8—Ohio State League, September 21.

Eddie Hooper Was Not to Blame.

A case of mistaken identity led to the arrest of Eddie Hooper, coach of the Johns Hopkins University Baseball Club and well known throughout the state as an athlete, Friday night at the corner of Lafayette avenue and Stricker street, on the charge of disorderly conduct. The arrest was made by Patrolman Cole, of the Northwestern district, and the case against Hooper was dismissed yesterday morning by Justice Henry.

Patrolman Cole was acting under strict orders from Captain Santry, who told him to keep that particular corner clear of all loungers. According to the testimony in the case, it seems that the officer had been greatly annoyed lately by a person who resembled Hooper. Friday night Cole thought he saw the man whom he had ordered to stay off that corner several times before, so he requested him to move on. Hooper refused and the arrest followed. In explaining the case Hooper declared that he had been in the drugstore on the corner, where he had made a purchase. Soon after coming from the store he met several women whom he knew and they had stood on the sidewalk talking. The women departed and Hooper remained on the corner watching one of the clerks in the store fix a new electric sign. Hooper was represented by Attorney Archie C. New, who asked that the case be dismissed, saying that he did not think his client had been guilty of the slightest disorder.

MIDDIES SECURE AN EARLY LEAD

GEORGETOWN GOES DOWN TO DEFEAT, 8 TO 5.

Washingtonians Fail to Display Form That Characterized Their Appearance at Annapolis in Previous Years—Mullaney, of Losers, Makes Sensational Catch of Foul. Four Tallies in First.

Special Dispatch to The American.

Annapolis, Md., March 29.—The Naval Academy took the lead over Georgetown in the first inning today by scoring three runs and held it to the end, winning by 8 to 5. The Midshipmen found Feinle an easy mark, hitting him safely four times in the opening inning. This, with a wild pitch and Adams' stolen base, netting the trio of tallies. The Navy players also scored a run in the fourth against Kelly and settled the game in the fifth, when singles by Vaider and Cook, two gifts of bases, Compazzi's error and a general lack of headwork in the field allowed four runs.

Georgetown scored twice in the fourth on singles by Mulcahey and Compazzi and Adams' error and in the seventh finished Seibert by scoring three times. Mullaney knocked out a double and with singles by Hollander and Baron and a passed ball, the visitors began to look dangerous. Vinson finished the game, blanking Georgetown.

A notable point of the game was that so many players of both teams reached the bases, but could not get around, as indicated by 11 Georgetown men who were left on the hassocks and seven Midshipmen. This was largely due to slow work on the bases, but the Navy lads showed considerably better form than their opponents. In fact, at the bat, on the bases and in the field the visitors were far from the standard of Georgetown nines as they have been seen at Annapolis for many years past.

The infield work of both teams was only passable, but a brilliant play by Mullaney, the Georgetown catcher, in the eighth inning, gave the benchers something to enthuse over. Mullaney, after a hard run, jumped the players' bench and took a high foul with his bare hand.

GAME AT GARDENVILLE OVAL

Home Team to Play a Nine Composed of League Players.

The Gardenville Athletic Club will line up at Gardenville Oval this afternoon in a practice game against a team composed of stars belonging to league teams who have not reported. This will be the second practice game for the home team. Last Sunday the Gardenvilles played a picked nine and won easily. Today, however, their opponents will be about as strong a team as could possibly be gotten together. Ray Armiger, who was with Toronto the first part of last season and finished with Falls River, and Jim Dietz, a local boy who has been making good, will do the pitching for the stars, with H. Selvage, who goes to the Virginia League this season, behind the bat. George Rossiter, who was offered a berth in the New York State League, will cover the initial bag, with B. Selvage, who has been connected with the best amateur teams around town, will cover second base. Willie Baker, who belongs to Richmond, will play short, and Willie Wortman, of the Savannah team, will be on the third sack. The outfield will be: Stump, of the P. and O. League; Martie Hogan, of the Three I. League, and Wilkins, of the B. and O. team.

The Gardenville club will have mostly all new faces in its lineup this season. Hall and Benau will start the season in the box, with Kipp behind the bat. The rest of the team will be selected from McCleaster, Ward, Krollus, Wilhelm, Savage, Clayton, Mahr, D. Morman and Sener.

FAST GAME IS EXPECTED

North Baltimore Combs Play Waterworks at Yockel's Today.

Captain Mortimer, of the Baltimore City Waterworks tossers, who will line up against the strong North Baltimore Combinations at Yockel's Park this afternoon, will send either Hubbard or Miller to the mound. The waterworks team has been practicing during the past week and a hard game is expected. The Combinations dropped their opening battle to the Collingtons 7 to 6 last Sunday, but will present a stronger lineup today, and hope to make a favorable showing. Jim Barnes, their star first sacker, will get in the fray, and Kelley, who covered that position against the Collingtons, will be shifted to centerfield. The teams will line up as follows:

Waterworks—Knapp, 2b.; Whiting, ss.; Mortimer, 3b.; Smith, lf.; Maskel, rf.; Stevens, cf.; Sime or Clayton, 1b.; Hubbard or Miller, p.; Metzbauer, c.

Combinations—Hale, lf.; Pearce, ss.; Jim Barnes, 1b.; Kelley, cf.; Heg Barnes, 3b.; McCauley, 2b.; Hines and Mallonee, rf.; Lovell and Whittmore, c.; Bowersox and Lefty Gerber, p.

The Sparrows Point boys have one of the strongest ball teams in the state and would like to hear from all strong teams. The following will play: J. Hanna, G. Hanna, Kagle, A. Cyr, J. Brown, H. Fisher, W. Gibheardt, Maxwell, Benton, Bingo, Jacoby and Love. Address A. Cyr, 23 Dover street, Sparrows Point, Md.

Boland pitched for the yanigans, while Smoke Klingelhorfer was in the points for the regulars. Both pitchers were in good form and promise to be a big help to Mount Clare in the race for the bunting in the Athletic League. Charley Londenslager is coaching Mount Clare and is working hard to have his men in shape for the opening game in the league.

Juniors Hold First Practice.

The Gas and Electric Juniors held their first practice yesterday and defeated the electric engineers department in a practice game by the score of 16 to 6. Consistent batting won for the Juniors. HAIR TURNING GRAY OR FALLING? JUST MIX SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR.

It's Grandmother's Recipe for Dandruff and Restoring Color to Hair.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also cures dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome.

Nowadays skilled chemists do this better than ourselves. By asking at any drug store for the ready-to-use product—called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy"—you will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Some druggists make their own, but it's usually too sticky, so insist upon getting "Wyeth's," which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair and is the best remedy for dandruff, dry, feverish, itchy scalp and to stop falling hair.

Folks like "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur" because no one can positively tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly, says a well-known downtown druggist. You dampen a sponge or soft brush and draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This requires but a few moments, by morning the gray hair disappears and after another application or two is restored to its natural color and looks even more beautiful and glossy than ever.
